Spectacular Wreck Kills Four

. . . MOTHER, CHILDREN DIE NEAR LEXINGTON

Lexington (UPI) — A woman and her 3 children were killed Tuesday in a spectacular two-car accident about 5 miles west of here on U.S. 30.

The victims were in a compact station wagon which was struck broadside by another car after swerving out of control on the highway.

Killed were Mrs. Barbaralynn Barton, 36, of Stamford, Conn., and her children John, 3; Henry, 2, and Charles, 8 months.

Dutch Woman

They were in the station wagon driven by Diet J. Van Weerden, 24, who came to this country in March from The Netherlands to live with the Bartons.

The station wagon was struck by a car driven by Leonard J. Bjargo, 61, of Park Ridge, Ill.

Safety Patrolman Roger Schmidt of Gothenburg said Miss Van Weerden told him in broken English that she had just passed a car and pulled back into her lane of traffic when Mrs. Barton yelled something at her. Miss Van Weerden said she must have become confused and stepped on the accelerator instead of the brake, throwing the car into a spin.

The trooper said the compact station wagon was thrown sideways into the oncoming lane where the Bjargo car struck it. The trooper said the station wagon was almost torn in two.

'No Chance'

Bjargo and his wife were hospitalized at Lexington with fractures and cuts. Bjargo told the trooper he had "absolutely no chance" of avoiding the accident.

Miss Van Weerden, who was living with the Bartons and was learning English from the family, also was hospitalized. She was the only survivor in the station wagon.

Thrown in Air

The trooper quoted a trucker who witnessed the accident as saying Mrs. Barton was thrown 50 to 60 feet into the air by the impact of the crash.

The trooper said Mrs. Barton's husband was in Washington. The family was moving to Palo Alto, Calif., where Barton has a job as an electronics engineer with Granger Associates.

The family was en route to California and Barton was to join them later.

The 4 deaths raised Nebraska's 1963 highway fatality count to 172, compared with 186 on this date a year ago.

NPPC Special Meet To Seek Power Pact

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska Public Power Committee has scheduled a special meeting in Lincoln Thursday in an effort to seek agreement on proposed new power supply capacity, The Star learned Tuesday.

It will be the industry-oriented committee's first meeting in more than 8 months. The 9-member unit is due to expire Oct. 1.

The session is designed to meet a Nebraska Power Review Board request that power leaders confer on power supply problems and report to the board by Aug. 14.

Board, Jones

Members of the 5-man regulatory board, created by the 1963 Legislature, and State Water Resources Director Dan Jones Jr. will attend the meeting at NPPC's invitation.

Also invited were Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, Don Thompson of McCook and Harold Stryker of Rising City, all 3 of whom have been particularly active in power legislation.

At issue are a number of alternative plans for supplying future power needs. Additional capacity will be required sometime in the period from 1965 to 1967.

Final Decision

The final decision on all proposals for new generation and transmission construction rests with the Power Review Board.

The board, headed by Chairman Clair Callan of Odell, has already held two meetings with power spokesmen to discuss a number of proposals for supplying additional requirements.

The Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative, Inc., speaking for most rural districts, has declared its intent not to seek future additional supply from the Nebraska Public Power System.

Consumers Public Power District has proposed construction of a new 110,000 kilowatt steam unit at Hallam.

Loup River Public Power District has purchased land for a possible new generation plant near Columbus, and the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District is in the midst of studies on a possible addition at the Canaday steam plant near Lexington or a new facility on Kingsley Dam.

Hastings—G.I.

An NPPS study placed top priority for location of a new plant in the Hastings - Grand Island area.

Municipalities have suggested possible construction of new transmission lines to transport additional U.S. Bureau of Reclamation power to Nebraska.

The NPPC, created by the 1961 Legislature in an effort to find solutions to power problems, last met in November of 1962.

Its members sat in on the Power Review Board's organizational meeting last June at the board's invitation.

NPPC is headed by C. F. Moulton of Omaha, general manager of the Omaha Public Power District.

Other members include representatives of Consumers, Loup, the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District, Central, the League of Nebraska Municipalities and 3 rural spokesmen.

Thursday's meeting will be held at the Cornhusker Hotel beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Lincoln Sights Funnels; Hail At Waco, Benedict

Amidst sighting of funnel-like clouds over Lincoln and around York, southeast Nebraska's Tuesday night thunderstorm produced golf-sized hailstones that pummeled the Waco and Benedict areas for half an hour.

Heavy crop damage around the two York County towns was feared.

Several Lincolnites said they saw funnel clouds on the west and southwest edges of the city. They experienced "tornado-like" winds too, they reported.

One twisting cloud was spotted about 50 feet above housetops south of the Lincoln State Hospital. The lightning-punctured downpour flooded several Lincoln basements, felled more than 10 electrical lines and forced the Police Department's emergency generator into use for a few minutes.

White Ground

From farmer Harold Deprez near Benedict came a report that the ground was white with hail. He reported rain of 1.10 inches. Waco reported 1.80 inches of rain with some tree damage due to hail.

The Seward and Geneva regions also had hail and possibly damaging winds. To Saline County Sheriff John Tesar, however, the rain seemed to be "doing more good than the hail was doing damage."

Wilber missile site workers informed the Nebraska Safety Patrol that lightning struck and burned something southeast of the base. The location could not be immediately determined.

Gladstone Hit

Gladstone, a town of about 50, seven miles west of Fairbury, was hit by high winds Tuesday night. No injuries were reported but the town was without lights and water after the storm passed. Many trees and a barn were destroyed. A garage and a farm equipment repair shop were damaged.

Lincoln gusts were clocked at 46 mph, and the rain measured up to two inches.

For a little while, 3 Lincoln streets were impassable—the Havelock underpass, Skyline Drive and Sunny Hill Road at Neb. 2.

THE WEATHER

LINCOLN: Partly cloudy with little change in temperature Wednesday. High around 90.

EAST AND CENTRAL NEBRASKA: Partly cloudy with scattered showers or thunderstorms Wednesday. Warmer north central and northeast. Highs lower 90s.

Council Grants 5% Hike

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The City Council approved a 5% increase in salaries for 23 department heads totaling $8,177 during its final session Tuesday night on the proposed 1963-64 city budget of $18.8 million.

The proposed tax-supported portion is $6,599,445—representing an increase of $361,284 over last year's appropriation.

The pay hikes and other budget changes okayed by the council have increased the city budget by $13,800 from that originally submitted by Mayor Dean Petersen.

City Finance Director James Mallon reported the required levy may be less than the earlier estimated 23.33 mills—an increase of .97 of a mill from last year.

May Go Down

Mallon said revised balance estimates and a slight increase of city valuation over earlier estimates could decrease slightly the estimated levy.

Department head pay increases approved by the council ranged from $23.50 to $14.16 per month on the 5% boost.

Mayor Petersen recommended the pay increases to correct an "imbalance" resulting from engineering department pay hikes voted by the previous council.

The top subprofessional engineering classification had been increased to $725 per month and exceeded the salaries of city department heads with the exception of the police chief, traffic engineer and auditorium manager.

$11,000 Manager

In separate action, the council boosted the auditorium manager's salary by $640 to $11,000 annually in line with an Auditorium Advisory Board recommendation.

Salaries of the city's legal staff were increased by $23.33 to $40 monthly for a total of $1,340.

No changes were made in the salaries of the city's 5 directors and the city attorney.

Mayor Petersen told the council he concurred with a Personnel Board recommendation that no pay changes be made for some 900 city workers pending completion of the $15,000 job classification and wage study authorized by the council in the proposed 1963-64 budget.

The City Employes Association had requested a 5% across-the-board increase for all city workers, which would have cost an estimated $260,000.

Out In 7-10 Days

The proposed 1963-64 city budget, with the adjustments made by the council and final estimate of balances and the required mill levy, will be published in a week or 10 days.

Public hearing on the proposed budget will be held Aug. 16 before the City Council.

After the public hearing, the council can make changes in the budget before its adoption and the setting of the required mill levy by Aug. 26.

The council discussed the news that Dutch elm disease is now present in Lincoln and the possibility that funds may be needed for its control in addition to the $45,000 budgeted for tree-trimming.

However, it indicated any budget action would await a report from Park Supt. James Ager.

SMALL PICKET . . . carried away.

Little Kids Aid Racial Protest

New York (AP)—Children as young as 2 years old were thrust to the forefront Tuesday in a continuing racial demonstration in Brooklyn for more construction jobs for Negroes. Eighteen youngsters were carried away by police.

"This is the beginning of a stepped up campaign to make the public more aware of our fight," said the Rev. William A. Jones of the use of the children. He is a Negro leader in the Brooklyn demonstrations.

In addition, 38 adults were arrested when they sought to block trucks with building materials from entering the Brooklyn construction site, and one in Queens.

700 Arrests

Throughout the city in the past 3 weeks, there have been nearly 700 arrests as demonstrators sought to halt all publicly financed construction unless guaranteed a quota of 25% Negro and Puerto Rican employment in the building industry.

Forty-one children previously had been carried away from the Brooklyn site of the Downtown Medical Center, a state-financed hospital. However, they had been picked up more or less singly as they demonstrated with their elders.

The last batch of young pickets formed a children's blockade of their own in front of work trucks at the medical center. They looked on apprehensively as police approached them, but broke into grins when they were gently lifted into unmarked police cars. None of them was booked or held, although those over 7 were listed for the attention of juvenile authorities. They ranged in age from 2 to 13.

35 Surprised

Seven older pickets at Brooklyn surprised officers by clambering onto the loading platform of a construction crane. Kicking and screaming, they were hauled to police vans.

A shoving crowd of demonstrators milled about the crane, but there was no violence. A news photographer suffered a cut knee when jammed against a fence.

The first of nearly 600 adults arrested at the Brooklyn site were convicted of disorderly conduct during the day and continued free in $500 bail each by Criminal Court Judge John F. Furey for sentencing next month.

'STIR RACE TROUBLES'

. . . ATTY. GEN. PATTERSON SAYS

Washington (AP)—Mississippi's chief legal officer said Tuesday President Kennedy and his brother Robert have used their high offices to stir up racial troubles.

He accused Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy of sending Justice Department agents into the South to incite racial violence, and said the President's brother has "demonstrated to the nation his immaturity, irresponsibility and fiendish delight" in wielding power.

State Atty. Gen. Joe T. Patterson's attack on the Kennedy administration drew a lecture from Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., presiding over a civil rights bill hearing, that Patterson had damaged his own case with "intemperate language."

Firmly Believe

Patterson said.

"I firmly believe that the present U.S. attorney general, with the approval of the President of the United States, is far more responsible for the racial violence and troubles we are having throughout this nation than the ruthless leaders who are sponsoring and promoting racial unrest."

"I make this charge," he added, "because I know as a matter of fact that down in my state agents and representatives of the U.S. Department of Justice are ever present where there is racial trouble and instead of working with the duly elected and responsible officials in an effort to prevent violence and disorder, these agents of the U.S. attorney general actually aid, abet and encourage violation of state laws and municipal ordinances, assuring the agitators that if and when arrested the Department of Justice will come to their rescue."

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich. said he was shocked by Patterson's attack on the President and the attorney general and said "we'd better not be diverted by this kind of personalizing."

Patterson replied:

"I say again, without apology — those two individuals have taken their powerful offices and used them to bring about racial situations."

Commerce Unit

Patterson testified at a Senate Commerce Committee hearing on a bill to outlaw discrimination in theaters, stores, restaurants and other public accommodations.

He denounced the administration's civil rights program as unconstitutional, paternalistic and unnecessary.

Patterson's attack was similar in some respects to that delivered July 12 by Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi who accused President Kennedy and his attorney general brother of "sowing the seeds of hate and violence."

No Red Talk

Unlike Barnett, however, Patterson did not contend that racial demonstrations are largely Communist-inspired. Atty. Gen. Kennedy told the committee last week that the FBI has found no evidence of a Communist conspiracy behind the disturbances

Patterson said the U.S. attorney general "is a classic example of that which we have often read and heard when it is said that a great man is humbled with power, while on the other hand power vested in the hands of a little man served only to make him an intolerable tyrant."

He said the public accommodations bill would enable the attorney general to crush those who oppose him with the "overwhelming might of the U.S. government."

Patterson's encounter overshadowed a return engagement between Kennedy and the Senate Judiciary Committee, which is conducting separate hearings on the administration's full civil rights program.

Fourth Trip

It was the attorney general's 4th appearance before this committee, and again he was questioned exclusively by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., who said he regards the program as "awfully drastic legislation."

Ervin assailed its constitutionality, called it a "short cut to government tyranny," and said it would deprive all Americans of personal and property rights.

Ervin and Kennedy showed signs of increasing impatience with each other and at the windup of Tuesday's session were arguing over whether a shoe shine boy would or would not be covered by the public accommodations provision.

'Cuss The Kennedys' Campaigning Highlight Of Demo Primary In Miss.

Jackson, Miss. (AP)—"Cuss the Kennedys" campaigning is expected to draw a record 450,000 voters to the polls next Tuesday in Mississippi's Democratic primary election for governor.

All 4 candidates—3 of them veteran politicians — have stumped throughout this Deep South state announcing opposition to the national administration and its policies.

The big issue is which man can save Mississippi from a national administration usually presented as an ogre gobbling up state and individual rights and stirring up racial discord.

Candidates are:

Former governor J. P. Coleman, 49, an Ackerman lawyer who headed the state government from 1956-60.

Another Bid

Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson Jr., 47, a Hattiesburg lawyer and son of a late governor, now making a 4th effort to follow in his father's footsteps.

Robert Mason, 65, a Magee welder nicknamed "Blowtorch" who polled 2,704 votes in his 1959 gubernatorial bid.

And Charles Sullivan, 38, a Clarksdale lawyer who ran a surprisingly strong third for governor as an unknown 4 years ago.

See Runoff

Most political observers predict Coleman will face either Johnson or Sullivan in a runoff 3 weeks after the first primary.

The "Kennedy issue" has overshadowed such traditional vote-getting planks as old age pension, teachers pay, legalized liquor and the like in this year's campaigning.

Because there is little difference in the basic stand of the 4 on the "Kennedy issue," the campaign has seemed largely a matter of each candidate claiming he opposes Washington more strongly or can fight Washington more effectively than his opponents.

Recommended

Coleman, who backed Kennedy's presidential bid in 1960, says he did so on the recommendation of the state's two U.S. senators, who sought to save important committee assignments for the state.

While stressing racial peace and the absence of integration suits during his previous term, Coleman pledges, "I shall not support any man who is an enemy of the southland. I will fight him . . . be his name Kennedy or Rockefeller or any other."

Sullivan, who backed the slate of unpledged Democratic electors which won Mississippi over the Kennedy Democrats in 1960, says he is the only candidate whose anti-Kennedy feelings were known and have not changed. He was one of the electors and was nominated for president by the Constitution Party of Texas.

Concentrated

He has concentrated his campaign on this point plus a call for legalizing liquor in Mississippi, the nation's last dry state, as a means of ending what he terms hypocrisy in areas where whisky is openly sold and state taxes collected on the sales.

Johnson has played up his part in the University of Mississippi desegregation fight. When Gov. Ross Barnett was unable to get to the university in time to block one entrance try of Negro James Meredith, Johnson represented the governor and turned Meredith back.

He took no active part in the 1960 presidential race, but now says he voted for the unpledged Democratic electors. He has also stressed his part in the economic and industrial work of the Barnett administration. Barnett has taken no part in the race.

For Laughs

Mason who plays his campaign for laughs, says he saves money several years and either takes a big trip or runs for governor.

The general election comes up Nov. 5. It will pit the Democratic winner against the Republican candidate, Rubel Phillips.

For the first time in modern politics, the GOP is being regarded as a political force in the state, largely due to the anti-Kennedy sentiment being stressed by the Democrats.

New York (AP)—Children as young as 2 years old were thrust to the forefront Tuesday in a continuing racial demonstration in Brooklyn for more construction jobs for Negroes. Eighteen youngsters were carried away by police.

"This is the beginning of a stepped up campaign to make the public more aware of our fight," said the Rev. William A. Jones of the use of the children. He is a Negro leader in the Brooklyn demonstrations.

In addition, 38 adults were arrested when they sought to block trucks with building materials from entering the Brooklyn construction site, and one in Queens.

700 Arrests

Throughout the city in the past 3 weeks, there have been nearly 700 arrests as demonstrators sought to halt all publicly financed construction unless guaranteed a quota of 25% Negro and Puerto Rican employment in the building industry.

Forty-one children previously had been carried away from the Brooklyn site of the Downtown Medical Center, a state-financed hospital. However, they had been picked up more or less singly as they demonstrated with their elders.

The last batch of young pickets formed a children's blockade of their own in front of work trucks at the medical center. They looked on apprehensively as police approached them, but broke into grins when they were gently lifted into unmarked police cars. None of them was booked or held, although those over 7 were listed for the attention of juvenile authorities. They ranged in age from 2 to 13.

35 Surprised

Seven older pickets at Brooklyn surprised officers by clambering onto the loading platform of a construction crane. Kicking and screaming, they were hauled to police vans.

A shoving crowd of demonstrators milled about the crane, but there was no violence. A news photographer suffered a cut knee when jammed against a fence.

The first of nearly 600 adults arrested at the Brooklyn site were convicted of disorderly conduct during the day and continued free in $500 bail each by Criminal Court Judge John F. Furey for sentencing next month.

'Cuss The Kennedys' Campaigning Highlight Of Demo Primary In Miss.

Jackson, Miss. (AP)—"Cuss the Kennedys" campaigning is expected to draw a record 450,000 voters to the polls next Tuesday in Mississippi's Democratic primary election for governor.

All 4 candidates—3 of them veteran politicians — have stumped throughout this Deep South state announcing opposition to the national administration and its policies.

The big issue is which man can save Mississippi from a national administration usually presented as an ogre gobbling up state and individual rights and stirring up racial discord.

Candidates are:

Former governor J. P. Coleman, 49, an Ackerman lawyer who headed the state government from 1956-60.

Another Bid

Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson Jr., 47, a Hattiesburg lawyer and son of a late governor, now making a 4th effort to follow in his father's footsteps.

Robert Mason, 65, a Magee welder nicknamed "Blowtorch" who polled 2,704 votes in his 1959 gubernatorial bid.

And Charles Sullivan, 38, a Clarksdale lawyer who ran a surprisingly strong third for governor as an unknown 4 years ago.

See Runoff

Most political observers predict Coleman will face either Johnson or Sullivan in a runoff 3 weeks after the first primary.

The "Kennedy issue" has overshadowed such traditional vote-getting planks as old age pension, teachers pay, legalized liquor and the like in this year's campaigning.

Because there is little difference in the basic stand of the 4 on the "Kennedy issue," the campaign has seemed largely a matter of each candidate claiming he opposes Washington more strongly or can fight Washington more effectively than his opponents.

Recommended

Coleman, who backed Kennedy's presidential bid in 1960, says he did so on the recommendation of the state's two U.S. senators, who sought to save important committee assignments for the state.

While stressing racial peace and the absence of integration suits during his previous term, Coleman pledges, "I shall not support any man who is an enemy of the southland. I will fight him . . . be his name Kennedy or Rockefeller or any other."

Sullivan, who backed the slate of unpledged Democratic electors which won Mississippi over the Kennedy Democrats in 1960, says he is the only candidate whose anti-Kennedy feelings were known and have not changed. He was one of the electors and was nominated for president by the Constitution Party of Texas.

Concentrated

He has concentrated his campaign on this point plus a call for legalizing liquor in Mississippi, the nation's last dry state, as a means of ending what he terms hypocrisy in areas where whisky is openly sold and state taxes collected on the sales.

Johnson has played up his part in the University of Mississippi desegregation fight. When Gov. Ross Barnett was unable to get to the university in time to block one entrance try of Negro James Meredith, Johnson represented the governor and turned Meredith back.

He took no active part in the 1960 presidential race, but now says he voted for the unpledged Democratic electors. He has also stressed his part in the economic and industrial work of the Barnett administration. Barnett has taken no part in the race.

For Laughs

Mason who plays his campaign for laughs, says he saves money several years and either takes a big trip or runs for governor.

The general election comes up Nov. 5. It will pit the Democratic winner against the Republican candidate, Rubel Phillips.

For the first time in modern politics, the GOP is being regarded as a political force in the state, largely due to the anti-Kennedy sentiment being stressed by the Democrats.

Why Are You Holding That Fork In Your Right Hand?

By COLIN FROST

London (AP)—Europeans, often puzzled by American tribal customs but usually too courteous to question them, have launched an investigation into U.S. eating habits.

Why, the question is, do Americans first cut their food into small pieces, then put down the knife and eat with the fork in the right hand? In Europe it is considered elegant to keep the fork in the left hand. The knife is retained in the right and cutting continues throughout the course.

The investigation started in the correspondence columns of the London Times. An inquiring Londoner named Ronald Barker wrote:

"While visiting the United States recently I asked numerous Americans if they knew the origin of the American habit of switching the fork to the right hand to lift cut food to the mouth.

Slow Down

"Guesses included the suggestion that this shift was introduced to slow down the rate of eating and thus improve the digestion, that it was desirable to leave the left hand free to grab the frontier rifle, and that most of the people on the Mayflower were lefthanded anyway.

"Someone even suggested that the whole of Europe used to use the fork in the right hand, and that it is only the Americans who have remained faithful to this ancient elegance.

"Does anyone know the true beginning?"

Tuesday the answers started arriving.

Simplest Way

From Harold Braham in Paris came this letter:

"I suggest that the answer is that this is the simplest way to eat.

"Although not an American I often adopt the practice at buffet suppers and other barbarous occasions when one has to eat with the plate on one's knees."

H. Pullar-Strecker of London had a more elaborate theory.

"To me," he wrote, "The characteristic thing about the American way of eating is not which hand holds the fork but which holds the knife—neither, since it is put down after cutting up the meat.

Dearer Tool

"Knives being the dearer tool, this may date from the pioneer days when presumably the family's only knife was passed down the table in order of seniority."

S. P. Walker of Oxford thought the custom had an origin similar to that of the handshake.

"I have been told," he said, "that Americans put their knives down so that strangers at the same table can clearly see that no one can attack them unexpectedly, and that they in turn can be seen to harbor no ill intentions."

Seagoing Model T Had Role In Crisis

Washington (AP)—The searchlights of a U.S. Army landing craft picked out a slow-moving, yellowish object in coastal waters near Panama one night last fall during the Cuban crisis. Those aboard the landing craft could hardly believe their eyes when a 1927 Model T Ford pulled alongside.

This was reported by the 3 passengers—or crew—of the Model T in Washington Tuesday, Henry Ford's birthday, as they were on the last lap of an 18-month, 14,000-mile journey in the ancient car by road and water from Buenos Aires to New York.

The 3 adventurous young Argentines told of their encounter with the landing craft in recounting their experiences.

They said they traveled over the Pan-American Highway most of the way. But when they reached the Darien Gap—a forbidding stretch of jungle that interrupts the highway near Colombia's northern border—they decided to put to sea.

They said they took the wheels off the Model T, attached 12 empty gas cans and affixed a propeller to the end of the driveshaft. This gave their car-raft a nautical speed of about 5 miles per hour.

In this highly unlikely craft, the 3 Argentines said, they made an incredible 350-mile trip in coastal waters—almost always within sight of the shore—from the Colombian port of Turbo to Colon, Panama, thus bypassing the Darien Gap.

One night during the voyage—they said it was the night of Oct. 23 — they became lost in darkness. They blinked the car lights and attracted the attention of the landing craft. It picked them up with searchlights and the Model T pulled alongside the landing craft.

The Argentines reported they spent the night alongside the landing craft and were told the encounter was entered in the larger vessel's log. With daylight, the travelers said, they resumed their water voyage.

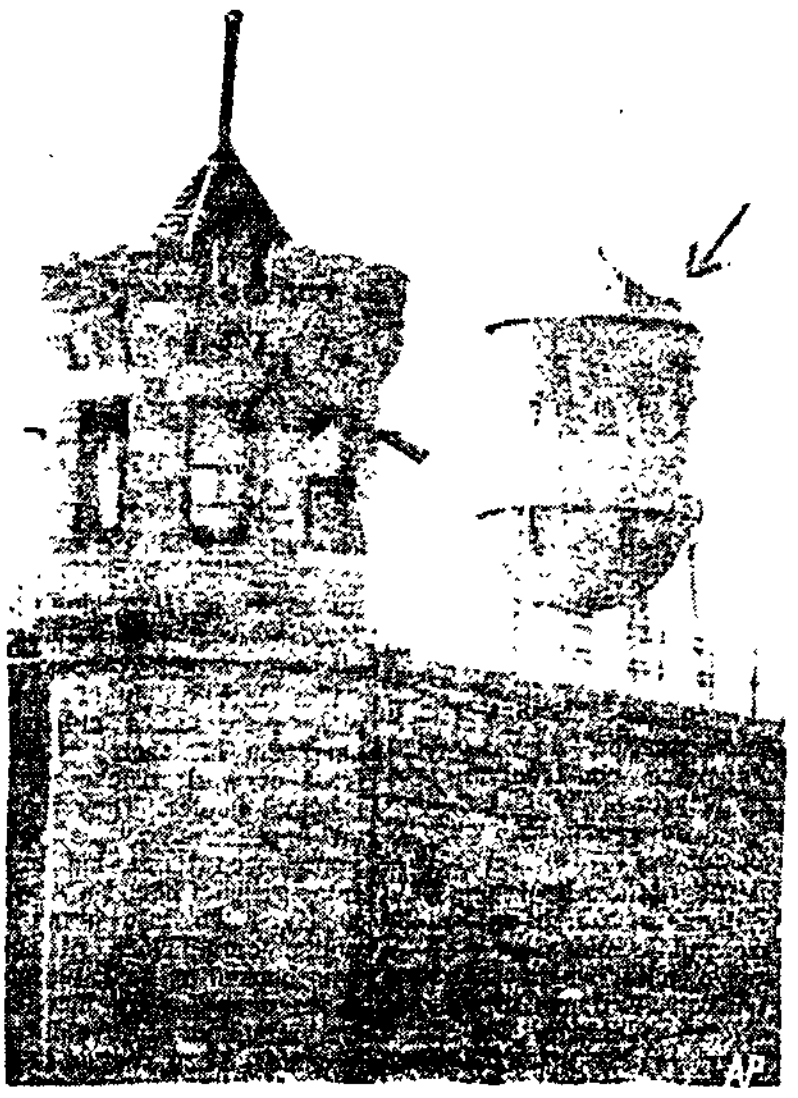
The 3 travelers arrived penniless in Washington. They are Manuel Fontes, 23, a law student from the beer-brewing town of Quilmes outside Buenos Aires; Juan Carlos Torres, 34, an electrical engineer from La Plata, capitol city of Buenos Aires Province, and Jose Vallverdu, 23, a mechanic from Pompeya, a district in Buenos Aires.



'ESCAPIST' STILL IN PEN

William T. Bradley of Sioux City, Ia., a prisoner at the Fort Madison State Penitentiary, is shown on the sloping top of the prison water tower, arrow. He entered his third day high on the tower Tuesday. Bradley, 45, was first seen on the 140-foot tower Sunday, carrying a bucket which might have contained food and water. He has resisted all efforts to talk him down from the tower, which is inside the prison walls.

SCHOOL KIDS NOT TOUGH ENOUGH

Washington (UPI)—School children now are in a lot better shape physically than those of a few years ago, but they're still not tough enough, a White House committee said Tuesday.

While there has been progress in efforts to toughen youngsters through expanded physical education programs, more than one out of 5 children in school do not have any such organized training, the report said.

But the report to President Kennedy by his council on physical fitness, headed by University of Oklahoma football coach C. B. (Bud) Wilkinson, indicated the group was enocuraged.

Evidence

The council said there was evidence of improved health among college students as well as elementary and secondary school children.

"Today's school children are spending more time in physical fitness programs and are measurably stronger and better conditioned than the school children of a few years ago," the council said.

Its report said nearly 20 million of 26 million public school children from the 4th through the 12th grades participated regularly in physical fitness programs during the last school year. This was an increase of more than 2.1 million over the previous year.

Improved

The council said this step up in physical education was reflected in improved fitness. Four out of 5 children tested in the past year exceeded minimum standards compared with only two of every 3 tested in 1961.

"A significant trend also is noted at the college level," the report said. "The decline in the physical fitness of entering freshmen apparently has been checked and reversed."

In asserting that the physical fitness problem is still serious among elementary and secondary school pupils, the report said about 20% of them have no physical education programs at all in the public schools. About 35% have no such training in parochial schools, it said.

The council said that its pilot studies, covering 119,904 children in elementary and secondary schools in 7 states and armed forces dependents' schools, offered dramatic evidence of the usefulness of its recommended school program for physical education.

The group said 13 states had strengthened their physical education requirements for schools since the council was created.

BOOKER T. BONNER . . . waits for Connally.

Weary Colored Waiter Ends Civil Rights Sit-In

Austin, Tex. (AP) — A weary and sleepy Negro waiter ended his one-man civil rights sit-in at Gov. John Connally's office Tuesday when an aide gave him an appointment to see the governor Aug. 6.

Booker T. Bonner, 35, began his solo demonstration Monday morning and vowed he would continue until Connally, who is out of town, returns and talks to him.

Interrupted

He interrupted his vigil at the governor's office Monday night long enough to lead about 50 Negro and white pickets in demonstrations in front of the governor's mansion across the street from the capitol.

The pickets said they will return for small demonstrations at the capitol for an hour each afternoon and for full-scale picketing each Monday night until they accomplish their goals.

Bonner ran unsuccessfully for the Austin city council last spring and said he plans to run for county commissioner next year.

Bonner said he wants to negotiate with Connally, former secretary of Navy under President Kennedy, about the governor's position on civil rights outlined in a recent statewide television speech.

Connally said he favors complete integration of all tax supported institutions but is opposed to Kennedy's public accommodations bill now before Congress.

The bill, Connally said, violates the traditional rights of private property.

Bonner called the speech "an affront of all Texans, Negro and white." He called Connally "a Jim Crow governor of the worst kind."

Connally, in Houston, said he has no appointment with Bonner and does not know the man.

Connally said he does not feel there is anything to negotiate in regard to his position on civil rights.

Bonner was ushered out of the governor's waiting room at closing time Monday and given a chair in the hall. At midnight, capitol guards aksed him to move—without his chair—to the first floor.

He sat on the floor of the rotunda all night.

He said Tuesday morning, "my knees sure do ache. I haven't had a wink of sleep because there is a law against sleeping in the capitol and I sure don't want to break any law."

When he moved back to the governor's waiting room Tuesday morning he took catnaps.

No. Korean Intrusions Prelude To Offensive?

Seoul, Korea, (AP)— Four North Korean intruders died violently Tuesday on a penetration 6 miles south of the armistice line in what could be the prelude of a new Asia-wide Red offensive. U.S. Army patrols flushed them out.

An American soldier and a South Korean policeman were killed battling the raiders. The American was the third U.S. soldier to die in action near the demilitarized zone this week.

A State Department spokesman in Washington held out the possibility the incursions are "linked to wider developments" in Asia.

Referred

He referred to Red guerrillas in South Viet Nam and Laos as well as reports of a Chinese Communist buildup on the Indian border.

In Seoul and Tokyo there was speculation the sudden flareup along the 2½-mile-wide demilitarized zone dividing North and South Korea might be a North Korean-Chinese Communist scheme to sabotage conciliatory moves between the Soviet Union and the United States.

The State Department spokesman declined to go into this phase.

The American slain Tuesday, Cpl. George F. Larion 24, of Davison, Mich., was with a "shoot to kill" patrol tracking down infiltrating North Korean soldiers who sneaked across the line and killed two other U.S. soldiers from ambush Monday.

Every Bush

"Look under every bush," was the order as hunter patrols from the 1st Cavalry and 7th Infantry set out to stalk the long grass and heavy underbrush for lurking Reds.

About 9 a.m. they found their prey and, in a short, sharp clash, Cpl. Larion, the South Korean policeman and two North Koreans were killed.

The search continued for other Reds infesting the area west of Panmunjom and about 15 miles north of Seoul.

Join Chase

A U.S. helicopter, about 50 South Korean police and half a dozen American soldiers joined the chase

About 4 p.m. they closed in on two North Koreans.

They heard two hand grenade explosions.

There was speculation the surrounded Reds called it quits, held their grenades close to their stomachs and pulled the pins. At any rate, they were dead.

Near Headquarters

They died less than a quarter of a mile from headquarters of the 4th Infantry Regiment of the 1st Cavalry Division.

This command post may have been their objective.

"Come July, G.I. you die," was a Communist slogan spread through the United Nations command this spring. In the last two days 3 Americans and one South Korean have. Another American was seriously wounded.

But U.N. command officers disparaged the catch phrase as Red propaganda and were quick to say they did not believe the clashes would escalate into a renewed Korean War.

Help From China

Tokyo (AP) — Communist China's Red Cross Society decided to send 25,000 yuan ($10,416) to the Yugoslav Red Cross for the relief of the recent earthquake victims in Skopje, the New China News Agency (NCNA) said. NCNA, in a broadcast monitored here, said the decision was passed on to the Yugoslav Red Cross in a cable expressing "deep sympathy and concern" for the quake victims.

The council said there was evidence of improved health among college students as well as elementary and secondary school children.

"Today's school children are spending more time in physical fitness programs and are measurably stronger and better conditioned than the school children of a few years ago," the council said.

Its report said nearly 20 million of 26 million public school children from the 4th through the 12th grades participated regularly in physical fitness programs during the last school year. This was an increase of more than 2.1 million over the previous year.

Improved

The council said this step up in physical education was reflected in improved fitness. Four out of 5 children tested in the past year exceeded minimum standards compared with only two of every 3 tested in 1961.

"A significant trend also is noted at the college level," the report said. "The decline in the physical fitness of entering freshmen apparently has been checked and reversed."

In asserting that the physical fitness problem is still serious among elementary and secondary school pupils, the report said about 20% of them have no physical education programs at all in the public schools. About 35% have no such training in parochial schools, it said.

The council said that its pilot studies, covering 119,904 children in elementary and secondary schools in 7 states and armed forces dependents' schools, offered dramatic evidence of the usefulness of its recommended school program for physical education.

The group said 13 states had strengthened their physical education requirements for schools since the council was created.

Help From China

Tokyo (AP) — Communist China's Red Cross Society decided to send 25,000 yuan ($10.-416) to the Yugoslav Red Cross for the relief of the recent earthquake victims in Skopje, the New China News Agency (NCNA) said. NCNA, in a broadcast monitored here, said the decision was passed on to the Yugoslav Red Cross in a cable expressing "deep sympathy and concern" for the quake victims.

Wilber Proudly Sending 'Own Envoy' To Prague

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Wilber — They only wink once when they claim Nebraska's Czeck Capital now has its own envoy to the old homeland.

Officially, former editor Stuart J. Bohacek has just become cultural and press attache to the Prague embassy. That also qualifies him —at least as far as Wilber is concerned—to sit in on peace sessions and such for the hometown.

"Stu is back now with so many of our papa's memories," said Mrs. Carrie Greer, his sister and only other family member left of 9 Bohacek children. "We all spoke the old language as youngsters, and to think now he'll be using it for this country in Czechoslovakia."

In Japan 6 Years

With the Japanese embassy 6 years, the Wilber native's heritage undoubtedly helped bring him the new assignment. Bohacek had ended nearly a decade's ownership of The Wilber Republican to apply for his first foreign informational work.

"Envoy" Bohacek . . . with degree yet.

At one time associated with a Chicago advertising agency, the Nebraskan returned to Wilber after World War II duty that brought him—besides a Purple Heart—a government course in Russian. He has been reviewing Czech the past year at Syracuse University.

During a recent Wilber visit with his wife and two teenage youngsters, incidentally, Bohacek was scarcely more pleased with the Prague position than with one other nub of newness. Syracuse had just awarded him—at age 53 —an AB degree started at Doane College in 1928.

Senate Okays $609,547,000 Water Projects Measure

Washington (AP) — After defeating a Republican move to return the bill to committee for major cuts, the Senate passed Tuesday a measure to authorize future construction of water projects costing $609,547,000.

Passage, by voice vote, sent the bill back to the House and an uncertain fate since it contains 7 controversial projects which the House last year refused to accept.

The Republican move to return the bill to committee was defeated 25-64 on a roll call vote.

The move was sponsored by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Sen. John J. Williams R-Del.

Dirksen called the bill "pork barrel" legislation and said the nation is standing "on thin ice" financially with its budget in the red and its gold reserves melting.

"If we were in a better fiscal condition there would be no quarrel about this," Dirksen said. "There is a time for everything—This is not the time for this bill."

Replying to Dirksen, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said there had been a lot of "breast beating" about the bill, talk about the gold flow, devaluation of the dollar and panic but "I don't know what this had to do with this bill."

"These projects are all in the United States," Mansfield said. "All are fully repayable. They are an investment in our own country for our own people. What's wrong with investing U.S. money in making this a better place to live? Better put it here than in foreign lands."

The Senate also rejected, 28-60, a move by Sen. Milward Simpson, R-Wyo., to eliminate from the bill the proposed $52 million Burns Creek power dam on the Snake River in Idaho.

As it passed the House a few weeks ago the $509 million authorization bill was limited to increasing river basin authorizations by a total of $784 million. The authorizations are made by Congress to permit continuation of individual projects within the basins. The increases contained in the House bill were designed to carry work through two years.

As passed by the Senate the bill contains these projects:

River basin authorization increases—Central and southern Florida $1 million, Brazos River $14 million, Arkansas River $31 million, White River $1 million, Missouri River $16 million; Ohio River $47 million; Los Angeles-San Gabriel River $12 million; Columbia $36 million.

Individual projects—Cape Rear River, N. C., $25,143,000; Trotters Shoals, Ga.-S. C., $78,700,000, Waurika Dam, Okla., $25,100,000; Flint River Ga., $63,200,000, Devil's Jump, Ky., and Tenn., $151,000,000; Knowles Dam, Mont., $50 million; Burns Creek, Idaho, $52,000,000, Dardanelle Dam, Ark., $101,000, Missouri River Dam stabilization $3 million

'David' Gets Last Crack In Road War

Milwaukee, Wis. (UPI) — This is a David vs. Goliath saga on the open road.

Deputies said a tractor-trailer, driven by a New Berlin, Wis., man, cut in front of a small foreign-built car while moving from the west bound to the south bound expressway at the stadium interchange.

The small car had to slow down to avoid a collision.

When the big truck stopped for a traffic signal, the driver of the little car pulled up in front of the truck, got out, took a tire wrench, marched to the truck, and smashed its rear view mirror.

"As long as you don't use it, you don't need it," he said and drove off.

The truck driver, Charles Ast, 41, said he would not sign a complaint.

FHA Loan Period Extended For 14 Counties In State

Gov. Frank Morrison announced Tuesday that the U.S. Department of Agriculture has extended until June 30, 1964, the period during which Farmers Home Administration may make emergency loans to farmers in 14 Nebraska counties.

Emergencies loans were available in these counties prior to June 30, 1963, because of damages caused by freeze in the early fall of 1962 and the current action is based on additional damages caused by freeze, hailstorms and prolonged drought during the 1963 crop year.

The counties are Banner, Box Butte, Chase, Cheyenne, Dawes, Deuel, Garden, Keith, Kimball, Morrill, Perkins, Scotts Bluff, Sheridan and Sioux.

Emergency loans are made to farmers and ranchers who are unable to obtain needed credit from responsible local sources. Morrison said that complete information about these loans may be obtained from the local county offices of the Farmers Home Administration.

Work Measuring System Of P.O. Under Criticism

Washington (AP)—Criticism of the Post Office Department's work-measuring system was voiced Tuesday by members of the Nebraska Federation of Post Office Clerks.

Floyd Varn of Elgin, president of the state federation, outlined the group's views at a Nebraska Congressional breakfast.

Harry Grimm, Omaha, said the work-measuring system is putting a "stop watch" on the men. Trays, filled with mail in connection with the tests might contain many post cards, he noted, requiring more time than other trays of mail to handle.

David Bize, Lincoln, said workers near retirement age must handle as much work as younger men and that there is no differential for them.

Edward J. Teets, Omaha, vice president of the Nebraska Federation, also spoke.

NEW DIOR LINE 'SCARES' GINA

Paris (AP)—Gina Lollobrigida took a look at the daring new low-cut neckline in the Christian Dior fall and winter style collection Monday—and said it frightened her.

"I don't know whether I would dare wear it," she said.

Nevertheless, she decided to order two of the "immodest" dresses for her role as a vamp in her next movie.

Council Reckless, Declares Dworak

Omaha (AP) — Mayor James Dworak accused members of the City Council with being reckless.

"It's very evident, especially within the last year, that the council doesn't want to hear what the administration has to say," Dworak declared.

Dworak, irked by a council order to study telephone costs, said one was in progress and was being made "at my directive" and not by the council.

Goldwater Group Tabs Mrs. Wood

Fremont (AP) — Directors of Gold-for-Goldwater of Nebraska, Inc., elected Mrs. Truman S. Wood of Omaha as president.

The organization was formed to raise funds for Sen. Barry Goldwater, Arizona Republican, in the event he is his party's nominee for president in 1964.

Other officers are Monroe Usher Jr., Lincoln; Clark O'Hanlon, Blair, and Bill Moore, Grand Island, vice-presidents; Robert Lambourn, Fremont, secretary, and Mrs. Richard Muchemore, Omaha, treasurer.

New directors named were:

Dwight Griffiths, Auburn; Dwain R. Anderson, Oakland; Harold Low, Scribner; Ed Jaksha, Fremont; Ed Narjes, Sidney; C. Eldridge Scrivens, Scottsbluff; Richard Dier, Kearney; Jack Stinson, Grand Island; Don Hanna, Brownlee; Dr. Arden Means, Holdrege; Adon Jeffrey, Wayne, A. J. Thorpe, Columbus; Cecil Metzger, Lincoln.

Lincoln Girl Defeated At Girls Nation

Washington (AP) — Sixteen-year-old Kathleen Ann Vorhies, of Wailuku, Hawaii, running on the Federalist ticket, was elected president Tuesday of the 17th annual Girls Nation.

Patricia Herbst, 17, of Phoenix, Ariz., also a Federalist, won election as vice president.

Miss Vorhies defeated Cynthia Hardin of Lincoln, while Joan Ozark of Minneapolis, Minn., lost to Miss Herbst. Both losers were candidates of the Nationalist Party.

The annual assembly, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, is aimed at stimulating interest and understanding of government and politics. A total of 100 girls—two from each state—are attending the session.

The delegates are scheduled to meet President Kennedy Friday morning at the White House

Third Baby Found Dead

Omaha (AP)—Acting coroner George Sullivan said Tuesday another infant girl has been found dead in her crib by her mother.

Monday, two other infant girls, belonging to different families, were found in their cribs. The latest was Jill Randall, two-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Randall.

Sullivan said Mrs. Randall checked Jill at 4 a.m. and she was all right, but at 8 a.m. she discovered the girl was not breathing.

Sullivan has ordered autopsies on each child.

Fort Atkinson Turned Over To Foundation, State

Blair (AP) — The Fort Atkinson Foundation and the state of Nebraska has received the 144-acre site of historic Fort Atkinson. The cost was $75,000.

The State Game, Forestation and Parks Commission will take possession of the old fort and develop it. The foundation and the state split the cost of the land.

Hundreds of citizens, mindful of the fort's place in the opening of the West, contributed to the foundation's drive.

JFK Cabinet Losing Control On Federal Payroll—Hruska

Washington (AP)—It is becoming increasingly clear that members of President Kennedy's cabinet have virtually lost control over federal payrolls, Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., said Tuesday.

Unless the President and department heads are willing to impose restrictions on their subordinates to eliminate new hirings, he added in a statement, "the problem can only grow worse."

"And I don't think the average citizen who is footing the bill will tolerate a great deal more," he declared.

Hruska said a monthly report of a congressional committee on reduction of nonessential federal expenditures showed the number of new federal jobs increased 17,180 during June, bringing to 2,509,028 the civilian employment reported by federal executive agencies.

Department heads in the Eisenhower Administration, the senator said, were able to cut the number of federal jobs by more than 200,000 but under Kennedy this reduction has nearly been wiped out.

Hruska said he recently read a report that retiring Postmaster General J. Edward Day has claimed a reduction in the number of jobs in the Post Office Department but that there was an increase of more than 19,600 jobs since Day took office.

Festival Slated For Table Rock

Table Rock—Table Rock's 24th annual 3-day free festival will open Thursday with parades scheduled for 1:30 p.m. both Friday and Saturday.

Bands from Nemaha, Dawson-Verdon, Auburn, Syracuse, Brock, Humboldt and Table Rock will participate.

Other events include an amateur talent show Thursday night, free acts Friday and Saturday and a water fight Friday afternoon between the fire departments of Humboldt and Table Rock. Evening programs will be concluded by dances

Lone Gunman Holds Up Store

Omaha (UPI)—A gunman robbed a Hinky Dinky store, forcing 20 employees to hand over all the cash from the registers

He ordered them to walk out the front door and turn right. None were injured.

James Kahne, assistant manager, said the robber apparently hid in the store just before closing. Officials refused to give the amount of loss

Moisture Needed For Dryland Corn, Sorghum

Dryland crops continued to suffer last week due to lack of moisture and high temperatures, government crop observers said Tuesday in their weekly report.

The report said local areas received rain last Friday and Saturday but timely rains are needed to keep the crops in condition for producing good yields.

The corn corp was 80% tassled at the close of the week and about 10 days ahead of normal, the report said.

Sorghum grain was about 60% headed and 12 days ahead of normal growth.

In the dry areas, some corn and milo were burning (edges of leaves turning brown) and in serious need of rain. Both crops' leaves were curling during mid-day.

Corn rootworm damage is most severe in the northeast and southeast sections of the state and beetles were working on silks.

Farmers, the report added, were having difficulty keeping sufficient water on irrigated fields to supply land needs.

Sugar beets, dry beans and soybeans continued to make good growth.

Harvest of the 3rd cutting of alfalfa is making progress but yields are being obtained from dryland acreage. The wild hay harvest continued with low land meadows producing good tonnage, but light yields coming from uplands.

Pasture and range feed has cured fast and is becoming short in many areas, according to the report.

Livestock continued in good condition although weather conditions are limiting gain rates.

Precipitation received via sections since the beginning of the growing season, April 1, as compared to longtime averages includes:

Northwest—9.76 inches (1963); 9.43 inches (average)
North Central—11.35, 10.93;
Northeast—13.57, 12.82
Central 10.25, 11.79
East Central—13.93, 13.38.
Southwest—8.60, 10.16
South Central—10.72, 11.98.
Southeast—14.45, 14.19

Bell Absorbing Contract Costs

Omaha (AP) — Northwestern Bell Telephone Company will absorb the cost of the new contract with the Communications Workers Union and plans no immediate increase in rates, John W. Ryan, vice president and general manager in Nebraska, said Tuesday.

Ryan said although benefits to Nebraska employes will cost more than one million dollars the first year, "we will hold present phone rates as long as we can."

"Whether and when we may have to request an increase will be determined to a large extent by business conditions during the coming months," he said.

Rites Held For Drowning Victim

Wilber (AP)—Funeral services were Tuesday afternoon for 50-year-old Joe Prokop of Wilber, who drowned Saturday in Turkey Creek, about 5 miles southwest of Wilber.

Mr. Prokop and Joe Stirba had gone to the river on the Victor Maryska farm to fish, and Mr. Prokop started upstream. When Stirba missed him, investigation began. Mr. Prokop apparently stepped into a nine-foot hole. The body was recovered Sunday.

FHA Loan Period Extended For 14 Counties In State

Gov. Frank Morrison announced Tuesday that the U.S. Department of Agriculture has extended until June 30, 1964, the period during which Farmers Home Administration may make emergency loans to farmers in 14 Nebraska counties.

Emergencies loans were available in these counties prior to June 30, 1963, because of damages caused by freeze in the early fall of 1962 and the current action is based on additional damages caused by freeze, hailstorms and prolonged drought during the 1963 crop year.

The counties are Banner, Box Butte, Chase, Cheyenne, Dawes, Deuel, Garden, Keith, Kimball, Morrill, Perkins, Scotts Bluff, Sheridan and Sioux.

Emergency loans are made to farmers and ranchers who are unable to obtain needed credit from responsible local sources. Morrison said that complete information about these loans may be obtained from the local county offices of the Farmers Home Administration.

Council Reckless, Declares Dworak

Omaha (AP) — Mayor James Dworak accused members of the City Council with being reckless.

"It's very evident, especially within the last year, that the council doesn't want to hear what the administration has to say," Dworak declared.

Dworak, irked by a council order to study telephone costs, said one was in progress and was being made "at my directive" and not by the council.

NEW DIOR LINE 'SCARES' GINA

Paris (AP)—Gina Lollobrigida took a look at the daring new low-cut neckline in the Christian Dior fall and winter style collection Monday—and said it frightened her.

"I don't know whether I would dare wear it," she said.

Nevertheless, she decided to order two of the "immodest" dresses for her role as a vamp in her next movie.

Goldwater Group Tabs Mrs. Wood

Fremont (AP) — Directors of Gold-for-Goldwater of Nebraska, Inc., elected Mrs. Truman S. Wood of Omaha as president.

The organization was formed to raise funds for Sen. Barry Goldwater, Arizona Republican, in the event he is his party's nominee for president in 1964.

Other officers are Monroe Usher Jr., Lincoln; Clark O'Hanlon, Blair, and Bill Moore, Grand Island, vice-presidents; Robert Lambourn, Fremont, secretary, and Mrs. Richard Muchemore, Omaha, treasurer.

New directors named were:

Dwight Griffiths, Auburn; Dwain R. Anderson, Oakland; Harold Low, Scribner; Ed Jaksha, Fremont; Ed Narjes, Sidney; C. Eldridge Scrivens, Scottsbluff; Richard Dier, Kearney; Jack Stinson, Grand Island; Don Hanna, Brownlee; Dr. Arden Means, Holdrege; Adon Jeffrey, Wayne, A. J. Thorpe, Columbus; Cecil Metzger, Lincoln.

Lincoln Girl Defeated At Girls Nation

Washington (AP) — Sixteen-year-old Kathleen Ann Vorhies, of Wailuku, Hawaii, running on the Federalist ticket, was elected president Tuesday of the 17th annual Girls Nation.

Patricia Herbst, 17, of Phoenix, Ariz., also a Federalist, won election as vice president.

Miss Vorhies defeated Cynthia Hardin of Lincoln, while Joan Ozark of Minneapolis, Minn., lost to Miss Herbst. Both losers were candidates of the Nationalist Party.

The annual assembly, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, is aimed at stimulating interest and understanding of government and politics. A total of 100 girls—two from each state—are attending the session.

The delegates are scheduled to meet President Kennedy Friday morning at the White House.

Third Baby Found Dead

Omaha (AP)—Acting coroner George Sullivan said Tuesday another infant girl has been found dead in her crib by her mother.

Monday, two other infant girls, belonging to different families, were found in their cribs. The latest was Jill Randall, two-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Randall.

Sullivan said Mrs. Randall checked Jill at 4 a.m. and she was all right, but at 8 a.m. she discovered the girl was not breathing.

Sullivan has ordered autopsies on each child.

Fort Atkinson Turned Over To Foundation, State

Blair (AP) — The Fort Atkinson Foundation and the state of Nebraska has received the 144-acre site of historic Fort Atkinson. The cost was $75,000.

The State Game, Forestation and Parks Commission will take possession of the old fort and develop it. The foundation and the state split the cost of the land.

Hundreds of citizens, mindful of the fort's place in the opening of the West, contributed to the foundation's drive.

JFK Cabinet Losing Control On Federal Payroll—Hruska

Washington (AP)—It is becoming increasingly clear that members of President Kennedy's cabinet have virtually lost control over federal payrolls, Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., said Tuesday.

Unless the President and department heads are willing to impose restrictions on their subordinates to eliminate new hirings, he added in a statement, "the problem can only grow worse."

"And I don't think the average citizen who is footing the bill will tolerate a great deal more," he declared.

Hruska said a monthly report of a congressional committee on reduction of nonessential federal expenditures showed the number of new federal jobs increased 17,180 during June, bringing to 2,509,028 the civilian employment reported by federal executive agencies.

Department heads in the Eisenhower Administration, the senator said, were able to cut the number of federal jobs by more than 200,000 but under Kennedy this reduction has nearly been wiped out.

Hruska said he recently read a report that retiring Postmaster General J. Edward Day has claimed a reduction in the number of jobs in the Post Office Department but that there was an increase of more than 19,000 jobs since Day took office.

Festival Slated For Table Rock

Table Rock—Table Rock's 24th annual 3-day free festival will open Thursday with parades scheduled for 1:30 p.m. both Friday and Saturday.

Bands from Nemaha, Dawson-Verdon, Auburn, Syracuse, Brock, Humboldt and Table Rock will participate.

Other events include an amateur talent show Thursday night, free acts Friday and Saturday and a water fight Friday afternoon between the fire departments of Humboldt and Table Rock. Evening programs will be concluded by dances.

Lone Gunman Holds Up Store

Omaha (UPI)—A gunman robbed a Hinky Dinky store, forcing 20 employees to hand over all the cash from the registers.

He ordered them to walk out the front door and turn right. None were injured.

James Kahne, assistant manager, said the robber apparently hid in the store just before closing. Officials refused to give the amount of loss.

Moisture Needed For Dryland Corn, Sorghum

Dryland crops continued to suffer last week due to lack of moisture and high temperatures, government crop observers said Tuesday in their weekly report.

The report said local areas received rain last Friday and Saturday but timely rains are needed to keep the crops in condition for producing good yields.

The corn corp was 80% tassled at the close of the week and about 10 days ahead of normal, the report said.

Sorghum grain was about 60% headed and 12 days ahead of normal growth.

In the dry areas, some corn and milo were burning (edges of leaves turning brown) and in serious need of rain. Both crops' leaves were curling during mid-day.

Corn rootworm damage is most severe in the northeast and southeast sections of the state and beetles were working on silks.

Farmers, the report added, were having difficulty keeping sufficient water on irrigated fields to supply land needs.

Sugar beets, dry beans and soybeans continued to make good growth.

Harvest of the 3rd cutting of alfalfa is making progress but yields are being obtained from dryland acreage. The wild hay harvest continued with low land meadows producing good tonnage, but light yields coming from uplands.

Pasture and range feed has cured fast and is becoming short in many areas, according to the report.

Livestock continued in good condition although weather conditions are limiting gain rates.

Precipitation received via sections since the beginning of the growing season, April 1, as compared to longtime averages includes:

Northwest—9.76 inches (1963); 9.45 inches (average).
North Central—11.35; 10.93;
Northeast—13.57; 12.82.
Central—10.25; 11.99.
East Central—13.93; 13.38.
Southwest—8.60; 10.16.
South Central—10.72; 11.98.
Southeast—14.45; 14.19.

Bell Absorbing Contract Costs

Omaha (AP) — Northwestern Bell Telephone Company will absorb the cost of the new contract with the Communications Workers Union and plans no immediate increase in rates, John W. Ryan, vice president and general manager in Nebraska, said Tuesday.

Ryan said although benefits to Nebraska employes will cost more than one million dollars the first year, "we will hold present phone rates as long as we can."

"Whether and when we may have to request an increase will be determined to a large extent by business conditions during the coming months," he said.

Rites Held For Drowning Victim

Wilber (AP)—Funeral services were Tuesday afternoon for 50-year-old Joe Prokop of Wilber, who drowned Saturday in Turkey Creek, about 5 miles southwest of Wilber.

Mr. Prokop and Joe Stirba had gone to the river on the Victor Maryska farm to fish, and Mr. Prokop started upstream. When Stirba missed him, investigation began. Mr. Prokop apparently stepped into a nine-foot hole. The body was recovered Sunday.

Today, Smirnoff outsells every brand of scotch and gin

Every drop of Smirnoff is filtered and refined through 7 tons of activated charcoal. That's 14,000 lbs! Literally a "mountain" of charcoal. Far more charcoal filtration than other vodkas use.

This "black magic" removes most of the congeners. No wonder Smirnoff is the world's finest liquor. Smirnoff has no "bite." Smirnoff blends perfectly with the flavor of fruit juices or soft drinks. Smirnoff leaves you breathless!

Today breathless Smirnoff outsells every brand of scotch and gin. Try it yourself, on the rocks or in a Martini, and find out why.

It leaves you breathless! Smirnoff®

Living Isn't Cheap

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It wouldn't be surprising if taxpayers went around this year with a gleam in their eye. If so, they would be looking for the culprit responsible for what shows promise of being a good boost in taxes for the 1963-64 fiscal year. But they really wouldn't find any culprit, or at least one easy to put a finger on. If there is a culprit, it is ideology and the people themselves are as much at fault here as anyone else.

The Probable Increase

It is an ideology of conservatism, of poverty, of retrenchment, of savings or perhaps any number of other things. When all units of government have finished their budget work for the new year, the total increase in taxes could be in the neighborhood of 5 mills. That would be $5 for every $1,000 of assessed valuation which would put the average increase somewhere around $18. This further breaks down to about $1.50 a month. This is not a lot of money but it is enough to cause some people to complain. And it is not the maximum, of course. For many, the increase will come out closer to $3 a month and for some even a little more than that.

So, where is the culprit? First of all, is a culprit demanded? Is the increase really so bad as to cause people to rise up in opposition? We make a great deal of any increase in taxes but $1.50 a month is not a staggering amount in this day and age. It is a great deal less than many people will spend in utter foolishness through the month.

*

But, you argue, it is different spending money for something you want, even if it is foolishness, than it is to spend it for taxes. We are entitled to spend our money foolishly if we want to and should not have to put everything beyond a subsistence allowance into the tax coffers, it could be argued.

No one argues that the government is entitled to all your earnings beyond an amount designated as essential for living from day to day. If you want to throw your money into the river or burn it up in the fireplace, you are perfectly free to do so and such action would not entitle the government to another cent from you. However, it is an error to assume that the money you spend for taxes is of no benefit to you. This is where we find one of the errors in any current search for a culprit. It gets back again to the essence of that which we are talking about. What we are talking about when we speak of the tax levy and budgets is the service that will be provided for people in the two years ahead. It is hoped that some of the people will consider this fact when they get the bad news of the tax increase.

If they would consider this, perhaps the news would not be so bad to them. It would be pretty disheartening to get a bill in the mail every month for something about which or for which you had no knowledge. It would be tough paying on an account when you had nothing to show for making such payments. Consequently, it is tough to pay taxes and to absorb an increase if you never give a moment's thought to what the money is for. And all too often in Nebraska we seem to fail to consider what the money is for. And all too often in Nebraska we seem to fail to consider what the tax levy is all about. We listen to some prejudiced or uninformed person decry taxation in general and we come to believe ourselves in the dream of government without taxes.

But this government without taxes would also be without a lot of other things. It would be without and so you would be without a system of schools for the education of your children. And think for just a moment of what this nation would be today if its people had not been willing to make a substantial investment in a good public school system.

This government without taxes would also be without a fire and police department, services to you that we doubt you would want to be without. Because of the taxes this government collects, you have efficient and dedicated public employes, you have a system of public libraries, you have a means of transportation by public highways from any place in the nation to any other place.

To Mention A Few

It is this government with its taxes that takes care of the mentally retarded children of your society, that tends to the mentally sick adults, that takes care of the criminal element, that guarantees you the fulfillment of the individual rights and freedom that belong to you. It is this same government that helps conserve your natural resources of timber, water, soil, oil, etc., that provides you parks and a variety of scenic wonders, that keeps your streets clean, that lights your neighborhood at night and that does a host of other things for you during every minute of every 24 hours.

It isn't government that has taken over your life but it is government that provides for you many services that you could afford in no other way and that you would never want to do without. When you look for culprit on whom to pin the tax increase, take a look in the mirror and see if you don't find the fellow you are looking for.

Trading With The Reds

A year ago the Congress erased Poland and Yugoslavial from the list of most favored nations in terms of trade and tariffs.

Now the Senate Foreign Relations committee has voted 9 to 5 to restore their privileges. It remains to be seen what the Congress will do. The administration has already strongly supported restoration.

Many Americans are opposed to anything which might aid or abet any nation flying the Red flag. But there are conditions in this present question which require study.

The most favored nation clause in the Reciprocal Trade Agreements act means that any tariff reduction extending to one nation on the list is automatically extended to all others on the list. A nation barred from this fellowship faces the stiff tariffs of the Smoot-Hawley act of 1930 and is, therefore, discouraged from trading with the U.S. That is the situation at present pertaining to Yugoslavia and Poland.

Poland is in the Red bloc because it has no other choice at this time. Yugoslavia is living independently though subscribing to communist principles. That can change. But there must be some association. If there is no trade there is no alternative for these nations but to seek such comfort as they can get from the Red bloc. But if there is trade with the West and some association they can breathe a little of the air of freedom and that is deadly to communist interests.

Trade is not aid. Rather it is a mutually beneficial exchange of goods. It is also a means of recruiting friends in a typically western manner. Friendship based on valued economic relations is not to be spurned.

Any Port In A Storm

It is a most ludicrous situation in which the United States finds itself on some aspects of the pending nuclear test ban treaty with England and the Soviet Union. If one looks at the Soviet presentation of the situation, we find the U.S. in an axis with Moscow and Red China and France aligned together against their respective former partners.

The reason the situation really is not funny is that it reflects the truth of things insofar as the Soviet Union is concerned. It demonstrates the deadly flexibility of which communism is capable when such is to its advantage. It demonstrates the fact that communism is a leech that will systematically and without the slightest feeling take the maximum it can get out of any situation. No price is too dear to pay if the product contributes to the ultimate objective of the Kremlin.

And a paradox to its flexibility is its demand for complete adherence to the formulated rules of its society. While it can bend as a whole, it can permit of no deviation from within its own membership. When such a deviation comes about, as it has done, we come up with the kind of split which we see today between Moscow and Red China.

But the Kremlin has made one mistake—the same kind of mistake it often makes. France, England and the U.S. may not be seeing eye to eye in all things at the moment but democratic nations such as these do not depend for their survival upon an ironclad bending of the will of all to the leaning of any single unit. The diversity that communism cannot permit is the very thing on which a democracy flourishes. The split between France and the United States is a long way from the same as the split between Russia and Red China.

New Wheat Growers Proposal

Sen. George S. McGovern (D-SD) has introduced a bill asking Congress to legislate constructively for the nation's 1964 wheat crop.

His plan is one of voluntary compliance, rewarding those producers choosing to limit their planting to their established allotted acres. The reward would be a 70 cent redeemable certificate over the minimum support price for every bushel produced. Non-compliant producers would have to be content with what the open market would pay, or the minimum support.

Sen. McGovern does not profess to believe his measure is a remedy. But he regards it as an insurance policy against that which may be a calamity in 1964 for the wheat growers. The senator's position as a representative of a wheat state is understandable. But he is attempting to minimize facts.

One of them is that the wheat growers by their own vote rejected high price supports for tight production controls. They acted in a sovereign manner and accepted a calculated risk. The senator is actually trying to get around their decision. He may believe it to be one leading to calamity, but that calamity hasn't been demonstrated. It may not occur. If it does, then events will prompt a remedy.

In either event the wheat growers have embarked on a test of method. Win or lose it should set definitive guidelines for the future.

Another fact is that legislation which brings about heavy public expenditures while adding to burdensome national surpluses is indefensible. It is only a costly way of perpetuating a problem and renders useless previous costly efforts to reduce surpluses.

Peace Has Defied Many First Steps

WASHINGTON — A lot of memories came crowding back as I listened to John F. Kennedy tell the nation that even if our goal of peace is a thousand miles away we have to take the first step.

I remembered many other first steps.

There was that of Frank B. Kellogg, secretary of state under Coolidge, fretting, preserving, indefatigably working to negotiate a pact to outlaw war. I went with him to Paris to sign that Kellogg-Briand pact. He hoped and the world hoped it would be a long step toward peace.

Perhaps it was too long. But, anyway, I remember another Republican secretary of state, Henry L. Stimson, when he tried to implement Kellogg's work. He went to London in 1930 to try to persuade the big powers to reduce their navies. I went with him, watched his patient, plodding, idealistic steps toward peace.

Later as the dictators of Italy and Germany worked against him, Stimson went to Geneva, even though the United States was not a member of the League of Nations. Republican isolationists didn't like it, but Stimson, a Republican, went anyway.

* * *

World War II broke after that — years of agony, years of suffering, years of death. John F. Kennedy, a young naval officer, knew something of that agony during a long tropic night in the South Seas. Nikita Khrushchev knew far more of that death and suffering during a freezing winter at Stalingrad when his country stood with its back to the wall.

Came the end of the war, and new steps in the thousand mile journey, back toward peace.

I remember Jimmy Byrnes as secretary of state at the Paris peace conference in 1946. He argued patiently with Molotov. Jimmy had a temper, but kept it under control—for the sake of that first step toward peace.

Came 1959 and the Camp David talks. Ike and Khrushchev seemed to like each other. Later Khrushchev told me he thought Ike was a man who sincerely wanted peace but couldn't control his own administration.

* * *

John F. Kennedy, who picked up the pieces after him, thinking diplomacy was easy, also failed at first. His meeting with Khrushchev in Vienna was a miserable failure. He came home a shaken, discouraged man.

But he had won one victory which he didn't realize — Khrushchev's respect. "President Kennedy is a man you can disagree with but still respect," Khrushchev told me at the Black Sea in the summer of 1961.

He also told me, as we parted after two days' conversation: "Please see President Kennedy when you return and tell him everything I've said. Also tell him that if the United States and Russia stand together, no country can ever start war."

What Happened To Chivalry? Rumor Is That It Went Broke

NEW YORK — If chivalry really is dead (and mind you, we don't accept it as fact except on rainy Fridays when men wrestle into all the cabs), there is a good reason for it. Life today has little relationship to when knighthood was in flower.

Take, for instance, the chivalrous custom of a man's standing aside to allow a lady to enter an elevator first. Why should he be required to do this when it is obvious that a woman, always in more of a hurry, is going to get in first whether he is standing aside or directly in the path of her headlong handbag?

Then there's the outdated etiquette which states a man must walk on the "outside" of the woman. Originally contrived to protect fair girlhood from the antics of runaway horses, the rule still holds good, say the arbiters of manners, on the theory that a car might splash mud over the curb and the man is thus protecting the maiden from soil. Is this valid today when most women are clothed from hat to hem in wash-and-wear and can be quickly drip-dried over cocktails—whereas men are generally dry-clean only?

But the greatest assassin of all, as related to the doomed or already deceased chivalry, is the totally outmoded, outlandish and outright unjust law of society which says a man must pay for everything while a lady isn't even required to offer a home-made hotdog in return.

* * *

These are days when most young women make as good salaries as most young men. Add to this the fact that the young career girl often lives at home, on the family cuff, while her young career boy friend has done the manly thing and moved into a flat of his own.

So here he is, the last remnant of chivalry, forced by society to "buy" his independently well-to-do lady's affections by treating her to the theatre, the movies, dinner, drinks, dancing, or whatever portion thereof he can find funds for.

Meantime, the career girl spends her money on clothes, cosmetics and other luxury lures to make certain that once his bank account has recovered from the last date, he will come back for more. Often, she has enough money left over to take a night course (as long as he buys her dinner on the way to classes) to improve herself, so that she can get an ever higher-paying position.

It is scarcely any wonder that more young men are shying away from marriage every year. By the time they've saved up enough money to really get to know the girl they might marry, she's run off with someone else.

Back in the days when I was dating, girls didn't make as much as boys did, and yet there was a system called "dutch treat" which was quite (all too, if you asked me then) popular. But the "dutch treat" technique, still practiced in some smaller communities, is considered outrageously unchivalrous in the urban areas where, ironically, the cost of dating is deadliest. And city girls, who make plenty of money, do not approve of it.

So the man continues to pay. And the ladies continue to splurge, smile and sock it away.

If chivalry is dead, it expired from economic starvation.

Senate Should Hear Kennan

WASHINGTON—As George F. Kennan retires as ambassador to Yugoslavia, Congress would do well to take a long, hard look at American policy toward the Soviet Union and the communist satellites.

Flexing anti-communist muscles by denouncing trade with Poland and Yugoslavia strongly appeals to certain voter groups back home. It is a form of calisthenics that, as practiced by right-wingers, makes for a high pitch of emotion. In demonstrations against most-favored-nation tariff treatment for these two members of the bloc, Yugoslav waste baskets are burned in the town square and John Birchers put cards in chain stores denouncing Polish hams.

But whether such strenuous exercises do in fact strengthen the anti-communist cause in the struggle with world communism is highly debatable. In the dispatches he has been sending to the State Department in the past year from Belgrade, Kennan has been arguing the case for more open relations with the Yugoslavs. By permitting them to trade with the United States on the same tariff basis as other countries—the real meaning of most-favored-nation treatment—the forces of freedom and diversity will be encouraged.

* * *

There is a special reason to heed Kennan's words at this time when the test ban treaty seems to open a new era in the relationship between east and west. His book "Russia And The West Under Lenin And Stalin" contains one bitter object lession after another on how not to deal with the Russians.

The zig and the zag of western policy has repeatedly followed the smiles and the frowns of Moscow. The result, he shows, has been a blow-hot and blow-cold alternation. It has meant no consistent, firm policy.

In a notable speech nearly four years ago, Kennan advocated some of the policies later adopted by the Kennedy administration. He criticized the almost complete reliance on the nuclear deterrent and urged the beefing-up of conventional forces to cope with brush fire wars. Praising President Eisenhower for his efforts to negotiate with Moscow, Kennan urged greater flexibility in the American approach in order to explore what concessions the Soviets were prepared to grant.

* * *

But it is a safe guess that if this scholar-diplomat were to be called on for his views today, he would warn against any rash conclusion that the cold war was ending. There is little doubt he would favor the test ban agreement. But it would be as a first step toward transferring the contest from the brinksmanship of threatened nuclear war to the ability of the two systems to attract uncommitted peoples.

For a committee of Congress to bring Kennan back at this time to hear his views in open session after 35 years in diplomatic posts would be a service to the country. Since he is retiring from diplomacy to go to the Institute of Advanced Studies at Princeton, he would be free to speak his mind. The immediacy of his report would have a special value at this moment.

The House Ways and Means Committee has jurisdiction over the amendment which would withdraw a congressional prohibition of last year and grant favored-nation status to Poland and Yugoslavia.

The chairman of that overburdened committee, Rep. Wilbur Mills, says that as of now he sees little chance the amendment will be acted on at all. Two and a half weeks of work remain on the tax bill, and after that Mills will take up the administration proposal to tax foreign investments.

But if ways and means cannot hear Kennan nor even consider the change that the retiring ambassador has been urging for the past year, there should be an opportunity for him to go before the Senate or House committees considering foreign relations.

* * *

The Senate committee has already approved the amendment, and the Senate will probably follow suit. In the end, however, it may be tacked onto the foreign aid bill when that controversial measure goes for a long-delayed conference with the house. That would step up the emotional static on both aid and the place of the communist satellites in the scheme of things.

" . . . I found the winds of freedom blowing stronger than anywhere else in the communist world," Robert Sherrod, roving editor of the Saturday Evening Post reported after a visit to Yugoslavia and a talk with Tito. "No gale, certainly, but a gentle breeze that proved refreshing in several unexpected ways."

American generosity has responded characteristically to news of the earthquake in Skopje, with the Air Force flying in supplies and a portable hospital. To use American power to help the Yugoslavs to independence through trade is a more difficult and demanding but nonetheless important task.

Fireman Issue

Lincoln, Neb.

There is editorializing on the same old baloney that "the fires have gone out in the diesels and therefore the firemen are no longer needed." If all a fireman ever had to do was shovel coal, if he never performed any of the technical duties of operating a train safely, then every reasonable person, including members of all the operating brotherhoods, would have to say he is no longer needed on diesel.

Anyone who knows anything about railroading knows this is not the case. It would be like saying, "Let's take all the sailors off the ships as there are no longer any sails to tend. The captain, first and second mates could take her in."

A fireman is needed for many purposes. He is an assistant or co-engineer for safety and for any emergency. He has to have the knowledge of all rules and requirements to operate motive power. If the carriers could put their preposterous work rules into effect and could get the employes to knuckle down to same, it would not be long before an aroused public would call for a change.

The brotherhood conceded some changes could be made by agreeing to study them but they did not agree to have their throats cut by tossing safety to the winds in cutting off 65,000 essential to safety. There has been practically no negotiating of these issues in four years.

Lincoln, Neb.

Uncle Agnes says he saw in the paper a while back that Butler Shaffer resigned from the Republican State Central Committee to take a job as a labor relations expert in the big city some place. Uncle Agnes figures he's read every bit of what young Butler's had to say in the letters column about freedom and how great it is to be out of a job so long as the state isn't monkeying around with you. He says a couple of times last winter, he got so hotted up by Butler's letters, he just ran outside and jumped in a snowdrift. Uncle Agnes likes it especially when Butler counsels patience to the colored people. It's true sure enough what Butler thinks about FDR. That man, Roosevelt helped ruin the country a long while ago by putting 10 million folks like Uncle Agnes back to work.

It figures, according to Uncle Agnes, that the fat cats and big mules can really spin an educated yarn for quite a bit. If that doesn't work, of course, there are other methods like police dogs and the hired help that gave Harry Bennett a hand back in the thirties. One question that troubles Uncle Agnes is this: when Butler sits himself down with the working classes, how does he figure on them wanting to get back to the good old 15-cent-an-hour pay envelope?

Now, Uncle Agnes knows Cal Coolidge's days was best, and he wishes Butler and Barry real good luck. If he had the money, he'd register for one of them courses at the freedom academy and subscribe to that there American Opinion magazine, just so he could show everybody what a real red-blooded, property-loving Americano he really is.

Religion In Schools

Lincoln, Neb.

I read Dorothy Randall's letter and I am disturbed about it. One thing puzzles me. She wants religion in the schools. I say: whose religion? The teacher's or hers or the students'?

If we set up an approved creed, we'd get pilloried by those who didn't agree with it and a compromise would satisfy nobody.

Religion is one of man's most personal affairs and to make it public would only create hate. Those who want their youngsters to have the strength that faith brings can get up on Sunday morning and take them to Sunday school. But if they depend on the teachers of this or any other state to raise their children, they will be tragically disappointed.

Congratulations to the Raymond Volunteer Fire Department for the fine job they did in sponsoring the carnival last week.

The main objective of this undertaking was to raise funds, but to me the most important outcome of the project was the tremendous display of cooperation shown by all.

It proved that a small town under able leadership can work together for the good of the community and it was indeed a thrill to see this right before our eyes.

Living Isn't Cheap

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It wouldn't be surprising if taxpayers went around this year with a gleam in their eye. If so, they would be looking for the culprit responsible for what shows promise of being a good boost in taxes for the 1963-64 fiscal year. But they really wouldn't find any culprit, or at least one easy to put a finger on. If there is a culprit, it is ideology and the people themselves are as much at fault here as anyone else.

It is an ideology of conservatism, of poverty, of retrenchment, of savings or perhaps any number of other things. When all units of government have finished their budget work for the new year, the total increase in taxes could be in the neighborhood of 5 mills. That would be $5 for every $1,000 of assessed valuation which would put the average increase somewhere around $18. This further breaks down to about $1.50 a month. This is not a lot of money but it is enough to cause some people to complain. And it is not the maximum, of course. For many, the increase will come out closer to $3 a month and for some even a little more than that.

The Probable Increase

So, where is the culprit? First of all, is a culprit demanded? Is the increase really so bad as to cause people to rise up in opposition? We make a great deal of any increase in taxes but $1.50 a month is not a staggering amount in this day and age. It is a great deal less than many people will spend in utter foolishness through the month.

•

But, you argue, it is different spending money for something you want, even if it is foolishness, than it is to spend it for taxes. We are entitled to spend our money foolishly if we want to and should not have to put everything beyond a subsistence allowance into the tax coffers, it could be argued.

No one argues that the government is entitled to all your earnings beyond an amount designated as essential for living from day to day. If you want to throw your money into the river or burn it up in the fireplace, you are perfectly free to do so and such action would not entitle the government to another cent from you. However, it is an error to assume that the money you spend for taxes is of no benefit to you. This is where we find one of the errors in any current search for a culprit. It gets back again to the essence of that which we are talking about. What we are talking about when we speak of the tax levy and budgets is the service that will be provided for people in the two years ahead. It is hoped that some of the people will consider this fact when they get the bad news of the tax increase.

If they would consider this, perhaps the news would not be so bad to them. It would be pretty disheartening to get a bill in the mail every month for something about which or for which you had no knowledge. It would be tough paying on an account when you had nothing to show for making such payments. Consequently, it is tough to pay taxes and to absorb an increase if you never give a moment's thought to what the money is for. And all too often in Nebraska we seem to fail to consider what the money is for. And all too often in Nebraska we seem to fail to consider what the tax levy is all about. We listen to some prejudiced or uninformed person decry taxation in general and we come to believe ourselves in the dream of government without taxes.

But this government without taxes would also be without a lot of other things. It would be without and so you would be without a system of schools for the education of your children. And think for just a moment of what this nation would be today if its people had not been willing to make a substantial investment in a good public school system.

This government without taxes would also be without a fire and police department, services to you that we doubt you would want to be without. Because of the taxes this government collects, you have efficient and dedicated public employes, you have a system of public libraries, you have a means of transportation by public highways from any place in the nation to any other place.

To Mention A Few

It is this government with its taxes that takes care of the mentally retarded children of your society, that tends to the mentally sick adults, that takes care of the criminal element, that guarantees you the fulfillment of the individual rights and freedom that belong to you. It is this same government that helps conserve your natural resources of timber, water, soil, oil, etc., that provides you parks and a variety of scenic wonders, that keeps your streets clean, that lights your neighborhood at night and that does a host of other things for you during every minute of every 24 hours.

It isn't government that has taken over your life but it is government that provides for you many services that you could afford in no other way and that you would never want to do without. When you look for culprit on whom to pin the tax increase, take a look in the mirror and see if you don't find the fellow you are looking for.

Trading With The Reds

A year ago the Congress erased Poland and Yugoslavial from the list of most favored nations in terms of trade and tariffs.

Now the Senate Foreign Relations committee has voted 9 to 5 to restore their privileges. It remains to be seen what the Congress will do. The administration has already strongly supported restoration.

Many Americans are opposed to anything which might aid or abet any nation flying the Red flag. But there are conditions in this present question which require study.

The most favored nation clause in the Reciprocal Trade Agreements act means that any tariff reduction extending to one nation on the list is automatically extended to all others on the list. A nation barred from this fellowship faces the stiff tariffs of the Smoot-Hawley act of 1930 and is, therefore, discouraged from trading with the U.S. That is the situation at present pertaining to Yugoslavia and Poland.

Poland is in the Red bloc because it has no other choice at this time. Yugoslavia is living independently though subscribing to communist principles. That can change. But there must be some association. If there is no trade there is no alternative for these nations but to seek such comfort as they can get from the Red bloc. But if there is trade with the West and some association they can breathe a little of the air of freedom and that is deadly to communist interests.

Trade is not aid. Rather it is a mutually beneficial exchange of goods. It is also a means of recruiting friends in a typically western manner. Friendship based on valued economic relations is not to be spurned.

Any Port In A Storm

It is a most ludicrous situation in which the United States finds itself on some aspects of the pending nuclear test ban treaty with England and the Soviet Union. If one looks at the Soviet presentation of the situation, we find the U.S. in an axis with Moscow and Red China and France aligned together against their respective former partners.

The reason the situation really is not funny is that it reflects the truth of things insofar as the Soviet Union is concerned. It demonstrates the deadly flexibility of which communism is capable when such is to its advantage. It demonstrates the fact that communism is a leech that will systematically and without the slightest feeling take the maximum it can get out of any situation. No price is too dear to pay if the product contributes to the ultimate objective of the Kremlin.

And a paradox to its flexibility is its demand for complete adherence to the formulated rules of its society. While it can bend as a whole, it can permit of no deviation from within its own membership. When such a deviation comes about, as it has done, we come up with the kind of split which we see today between Moscow and Red China.

But the Kremlin has made one mistake—the same kind of mistake it often makes. France, England and the U.S. may not be seeing eye to eye in all things at the moment but democratic nations such as these do not depend for their survival upon an ironclad bending of the will of all to the leaning of any single unit. The diversity that communism cannot permit is the very thing on which a democracy flourishes. The split between France and the United States is a long way from the same as the split between Russia and Red China.

New Wheat Growers Proposal

Sen. George S. McGovern (D-SD) has introduced a bill asking Congress to legislate constructively for the nation's 1964 wheat crop.

His plan is one of voluntary compliance, rewarding those producers choosing to limit their planting to their established allotted acres. The reward would be a 70 cent redeemable certificate over the minimum support price for every bushel produced. Non-compliant producers would have to be content with what the open market would pay, or the minimum support.

Sen. McGovern does not profess to believe his measure is a remedy. But he regards it as an insurance policy against that which may be a calamity in 1964 for the wheat growers. The senator's position as a representative of a wheat state is understandable. But he is attempting to minimize facts.

One of them is that the wheat growers by their own vote rejected high price supports for tight production controls. They acted in a sovereign manner and accepted a calculated risk. The senator is actually trying to get around their decision. He may believe it to be one leading to calamity, but that calamity hasn't been demonstrated. It may not occur. If it does, then events will prompt a remedy.

In either event the wheat growers have embarked on a test of method. Win or lose it should set definitive guidelines for the future.

Another fact is that legislation which brings about heavy public expenditures while adding to burdensome national surpluses is indefensible. It is only a costly way of perpetuating a problem and renders useless previous costly efforts to reduce surpluses.

Peace Has Defied Many First Steps

WASHINGTON — A lot of memories came crowding back as I listened to John F. Kennedy tell the nation that even if our goal of peace is a thousand miles away we have to take the first step.

I remembered many other first steps.

There was that of Frank B. Kellogg, secretary of state under Coolidge, fretting, preserving, indefatigably working to negotiate a pact to outlaw war. I went with him to Paris to sign that Kellogg-Briand pact. He hoped and the world hoped it would be a long step toward peace.

Perhaps it was too long. But, anyway, I remember another Republican secretary of state, Henry L. Stimson, when he tried to implement Kellogg's work. He went to London in 1930 to try to persuade the big powers to reduce their navies. I went with him, watched his patient, plodding, idealistic steps toward peace.

Later as the dictators of Italy and Germany worked against him, Stimson went to Geneva, even though the United States was not a member of the League of Nations. Republican isolationists didn't like it, but Stimson, a Republican, went anyway.

☆ ☆ ☆

World War II broke after that — years of agony, years of suffering, years of death. John F. Kennedy, a young naval officer, knew something of that agony during a long tropic night in the South Seas. Nikita Khrushchev knew far more of that death and suffering during a freezing winter at Stalingrad when his country stood with its back to the wall.

Came the end of the war, and new steps in the thousand mile journey, back toward peace.

I remember Jimmy Byrnes as secretary of state at the Paris peace conference in 1946. He argued patiently with Molotov. Jimmy had a temper, but kept it under control—for the sake of that first step toward peace.

Came 1959 and the Camp David talks. Ike and Khrushchev seemed to like each other. Later Khrushchev told me he thought Ike was a man who sincerely wanted peace but couldn't control his own administration.

☆ ☆ ☆

John F. Kennedy, who picked up the pieces after him, thinking diplomacy was easy, also failed at first. His meeting with Khrushchev in Vienna was a miserable failure. He came home a shaken, discouraged man.

But he had won one victory which he didn't realize — Khrushchev's respect. "President Kennedy is a man you can disagree with but still respect," Khrushchev told me at the Black Sea in the summer of 1961.

He also told me, as we parted after two days' conversation: "Please see President Kennedy when you return and tell him everything I've said. Also tell him that if the United States and Russia stand together, no country can ever start war."

What Happened To Chivalry? Rumor Is That It Went Broke

NEW YORK — If chivalry really is dead (and mind you, we don't accept it as fact except on rainy Fridays when men wrestle into all the cabs), there is a good reason for it. Life today has little relationship to when knighthood was in flower.

Take, for instance, the chivalrous custom of a man's standing aside to allow a lady to enter an elevator first. Why should he be required to do this when it is obvious that a woman, always in more of a hurry, is going to get in first whether he is standing aside or directly in the path of her headlong handbag?

Then there's the outdated etiquette which states a man must walk on the "outside" of the woman. Originally contrived to protect fair girlhood from the antics of runaway horses, the rule still holds good, say the arbiters of manners, on the theory that a car might splash mud over the curb and the man is thus protecting the maiden from soil. Is this valid today when most women are clothed from hat to hem in wash-and-wear and can be quickly drip-dried over cocktails—whereas men are generally dry-clean only?

But the greatest assassin of all, as related to the doomed or already deceased chivalry, is the totally outmoded, outlandish and outright unjust law of society which says a man must pay for everything while a lady isn't even required to offer a home-made hotdog in return.

These are days when most young women make as good salaries as most young men. Add to this the fact that the young career girl often lives at home, on the family cuff, while her young career boy friend has done the manly thing and moved into a flat of his own.

So here he is, the last remnant of chivalry, forced by society to "buy" his independently well-to-do lady's affections by treating her to the theatre, the movies, dinner, drinks, dancing, or whatever portion thereof he can find funds for.

Meantime, the career girl spends her money on clothes, cosmetics and other luxury lures to make certain that once his bank account has recovered from the last date, he will come back for more. Often, she has enough money left over to take a night course (as long as he buys her dinner on the way to classes) to improve herself, so that she can get an ever higher-paying position.

It is scarcely any wonder that more young men are shying away from marriage every year. By the time they've saved up enough money to really get to know the girl they might marry, she's run off with someone else.

Back in the days when I was dating, girls didn't make as much as boys did, and yet there was a system called "dutch treat" which was quite (all too, if you asked me then) popular. ### Butler And Barry

Lincoln, Neb.

Uncle Agnes says he saw in the paper a while back that Butler Shaffer resigned from the Republican State Central Committee to take a job as a labor relations expert in the big city some place. Uncle Agnes figures he's read every bit of what young Butler's had to say in the letters column about freedom and how great it is to be out of a job so long as the state isn't monkeying around with you. He says a couple of times last winter, he got so hotted up by Butler's letters, he just ran outside and jumped in a snowdrift. Uncle Agnes likes it especially when Butler counsels patience to the colored people. It's true sure enough what Butler thinks about FDR. That man, Roosevelt, helped ruin the country a long while ago by putting 10 million folks like Uncle Agnes back to work.

It figures, according to Uncle Agnes, that the fat cats and big mules can really spin an educated yarn for quite a bit. If that doesn't work, of course, there are other methods like police dogs and the hired help that gave Harry Bennett a hand back in the thirties. One question that troubles Uncle Agnes is this: when Butler sits himself down with the working classes, how does he figure on them wanting to get back to the good old 15-cent-an-hour pay envelope?

Now, Uncle Agnes knows Cal Coolidge's days was best, and he wishes Butler and Barry real good luck. If he had the money, he'd register for one of them courses at the freedom academy and subscribe to that there American Opinion magazine, just so he could show everybody what a real red-blooded, property-loving Americano he really is.

Religion In Schools

Lincoln, Neb.

I read Dorothy Randall's letter and I am disturbed about it. One thing puzzles me. She wants religion in the schools. I say: whose religion? The teacher's or hers or the students'?

If we set up an approved creed, we'd get pilloried by those who didn't agree with it and a compromise would satisfy nobody.

Religion is one of man's most personal affairs and to make it public would only create hate. Those who want their youngsters to have the strength that faith brings can get up on Sunday morning and take them to Sunday school. But if they depend on the teachers of this or any other state to raise their children, they will be tragically disappointed.

Thank You

Washington, D. C.

I wish to express our sincere gratitude for the fine Star editorial, "The Beleaguered City." It is indeed gratifying to know that there are those who share our view that the federal government should make a more equitable payment to the District of Columbia to compensate in part for the unique and costly problems of the nation's capital.

On behalf of all Washingtonians, I extend our warm thanks for the recognition of the serious fiscal problems confronting us.

Working Together

Raymond, Neb.

Congratulations to the Raymond Volunteer Fire Department for the fine job they did in sponsoring the carnival last week.

The main objective of this undertaking was to raise funds, but to me the most important outcome of the project was the tremendous display of cooperation shown by all.

It proved that a small town under able leadership can work together for the good of the community and it was indeed a thrill to see this right before our eyes.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

The evening paseo is an important part of the Spanish day. And about dusk, the majestic great square of Salamanca was filling with people and the day had cooled.

They sat around the edges, sipping light drinks at bright little tables.

Overhead in the blue evening sky a thousand swallows cried: "Scree! Scree!" Darting through the soft air with DC-3 wings and jet speed.

☆ ☆ ☆

I sat at a table and ordered Coca Cola (very fashionable here). And from one of the great arched gateways, there was a sound of singing. A slow procession of people entered as if from off-stage, each bearing a two-foot long, thick lighted candle.

They moved in two slow lines far apart—most of them were women and most wore black. All of them wore the black lace mantilla. Between them in small platoons walked little girls in white Communion dresses.

They were all dressed like little brides: The white lace dress and the white veil; the hand clasping the rosary and the white prayer book.

☆ ☆ ☆

The waiter said it was the festival of Carmen—Our Lady of Mount Carmel.

They were led by a policeman. Several priests kept the time with a slow swinging gait, bearing a cross and religious symbols.

In the middle of the parade was a loud speaker truck carrying the music. (It was a Land Rover, bless me! The kind I've been trying to get these last three months.)

☆ ☆ ☆

There were platoons of small boys, about 6 years old. They were combed to polished patent leather and they wore sailor suits.

(The Senora del Carmen is the patron saint of sailors.)

The procession marched in through the beige stone gates carved with royal arms until they completely surrounded the square.

It was a still night. Not a candle flickered. They sent tiny spears of light into the evening. And the great Plaza Mayor was a sea of candlelight.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Virgins of Spain—(the Spanish church seems more concerned with Mary than with Jesus)—have expensive and extensive wardrobes.

Their treasure chests are filled with jewels. And many of them carry decorations of foreign governments.

The Virgin of Mount Carmel has a flag. And in the procession it was carried by a young lady. She was dressed in black and had an honor guard of little 6-year-old girls in white Communion dresses.

Behind her came the Virgin herself in royal purple. She was seated on a throne and the carrying platform was borne by a number of men.

☆ ☆ ☆

They stood singing in the candle-lit square while the rockets burst like shrapnel bursts in the dimming sky above the fine stone buildings built in the 1700s.

Somewhere up front, a signal was given. The procession moved off through another great arched gate. The sea of candles moving and the high female voices singing a hymn of praise.

At the end of the procession was a military band. They walked in the same cadence—something like the British slow march. They played some song I knew but could not remember. A popular song of the 1930s in 4-4 time.

NU Slates Advanced Business Training

A graduate program in broad business managerial training will be inaugurated at the University of Nebraska in the fall of 1964.

It will be primarily aimed at students holding bachelor's degrees from engineering, arts and sciences and agricultural colleges.

Leading to a Master of Business Administration degree, the program will be offered under the supervision of the Department of Business Organization and Management in the Graduate College.

The program will enable students to understand all phases of a business organization and give them the opportunity to acquire the knowledge necessary to make intelligent business decisions, according to the graduate college.

The program is being announced at this time to give undergraduates an opportunity to take basic introductory courses during the next school year. These courses are in accounting, finance, marketing, economics, business law, statistics, personnel and industrial management and must be taken before entering the new graduate program.

Graduate work under the program will consist of 36 credit hours. Courses will include case studies, problem solving and management theory and practice. Because the program is not aimed at specialization, no thesis will be required but research and reporting will be part of each course.

The graduate program can be completed in two semesters and a summer session if all basic undergraduate work is completed before entering the program.

The program will not in any way duplicate the Master of Arts program, also offered in Graduate College.

The graduate school said there is a possibility that sufficient MBA graduate courses will be offered in the summer session of 1964 to begin the program on a limited basis.

Union Leader Says New Offer Made By Railroads

Washington (AP) — H. E. Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, said Tuesday the railroads have given his union a new offer to settle the work rules dispute.

A spokesman for the carriers said he did not know of any new management proposal.

Gilbert, testifying before the House Commerce Committee, said of the reported new plan:

"I don't know what's in it. I only know it arrived at our office. It's the first proposal to come from them (the railroads) in 4 years."

Nothing New

The management spokes man said that J. E. Holfe, chief negotiator for the carriers, had submitted a statement to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz on management's position on the issues in the 4-year-old dispute which threatens to bring on a nationwide strike. But he said there was nothing "substantially new" in it.

Gilbert called the management offer a counter-proposal. The unions had spoken earlier of making a new proposal to the railroads Saturday. Of that, Daniel P. Loomis, president of the Association of American Railroads had said: "I have heard of nothing new that amounts to anything."

Some light was shed on the conflicting statements after the committee's hearing was adjourned. A union spokesman said Gilbert and other union officials began a study of the carriers' statement which they said was transmitted to them by Wirtz. The spokesman said there would be no immediate comment from the union.

Re-Statement

He described the communication as a re-statement of position by the carriers—the first such in written form received from the carriers since 1959 when the work rules controversy began, he said.

The spokesman said the carriers' statement and similar statements from the unions were requested by Wirtz last Friday when mediating sessions with both sides were resumed at the labor department.

The group met through the weekend with no progress reported but the unions submitted two statements, the spokesman said.

One was from chiefs of the engine crew unions — engineers and firemen—and concerned the firemen's job issue. About 32,500 firemen would lose their jobs if the new work rules are imposed. The other, compiled by the 3 train service unions — trainmen, conductors and switchmen—was on the makeup of train crews.

2 Key Issues

It is these two issues that have bogged down negotiations in the dispute. Wirtz has said that other issues would fall in line if a settlement of the firemen and crew issues could be worked out.

The union spokesman said that what Wirtz had done was transmit the carriers' weekend statement to the unions and apparently had dispatched copies of the unions' position statement to management.

The union spokesman said that leaders would not disclose details of the carriers' statement now in their hands but he assumed that the details would be somewhat different from the railroads' position in 1955.

Congress has been pressuring both the carriers and the unions to settle at the negotiating table, rather than force congress to pass President Kennedy's plan authorizing the Interstate Commerce Commission to hand down rulings on the proposed job-reducing work rules during a two year period unless the issues were settled through bargaining.

Buddhists Stage 2 Big Demonstrations

Saigon (UPI)—Some 22,000 Buddhists Tuesday staged peaceful demonstrations in support of anti-government Buddhist leaders here and in the imperial capital of Hue.

About 7,000 Buddhists massed in the main Xa Loi pagoda in Saigon for a day of prayer. It was the largest gathering at the Pagoda since the South Viet Nam politico-religious dispute with Roman Catholic President Ngo Dinh Diem began in May.

In Hue, 15,000 Buddhists marched in a memorial service for the priest who burned himself to death last month to protest alleged government religious discrimination.

Shops were closed briefly in both cities for the beginning of the observances but many re-opened later. The government had threatened loss of licenses for refusal to remain open. Civil servants were warned they would be fired if they missed work for the procession.

General Strike

Buddhist leaders had called for a virtual general strike in urging participation in the national day of prayer for religious equality.

Troops and secret servicemen kept a close watch on both demonstrations, but there were no incidents.

The Hue marchers were led by yellow-robed priests and nuns to a memorial service at the Dieu De pagoda honoring priest Thich Quang Duc. The priest immolated himself with burning gasoline at a Saigon street intersection to dramatize the church-state conflict.

The Buddhist quarrel with Diem began in Hue on May 8 when government troops allegedly killed 9 demonstrators. The government claims they were killed by communist terrorists

Demands Told

Supreme Buddhist leader Khiet Tuesday released copies of a letter to vice president Nguyen Ngoc in which Khiet refused to meet with the government to negotiate differences until the government fulfills 4 pre-conditions.

They are: Release of all arrested Buddhists: an end to alleged government posts and slanders against Buddhist leaders; a government white paper telling "the whole truth" about the May 8 incident; government compensation to the families of the Hue victims.

Moroccan News Agency In Error On Spanish Enclave

Rabat, Morocco (UPI)—The semi-official Moroccan news agency Maghreb Arab Press (MAP) acknowledged Tuesday it was in error in reporting Monday that Morocco had annexed most of the Spanish Enclave of Ifni on the northwest African coast.

The agency said Monday that as a result of municipal and communal elections on Sunday Morocco had annexed most of the Ifni enclave, but Tuesday MAP said: "It does not seem as if the elections took place inside the perimeter of the territory under Spanish domination."

Both the Moroccan and Spanish governments Tuesday indicated the report was a complete misunderstanding.

In its statement Monday MAP reported:

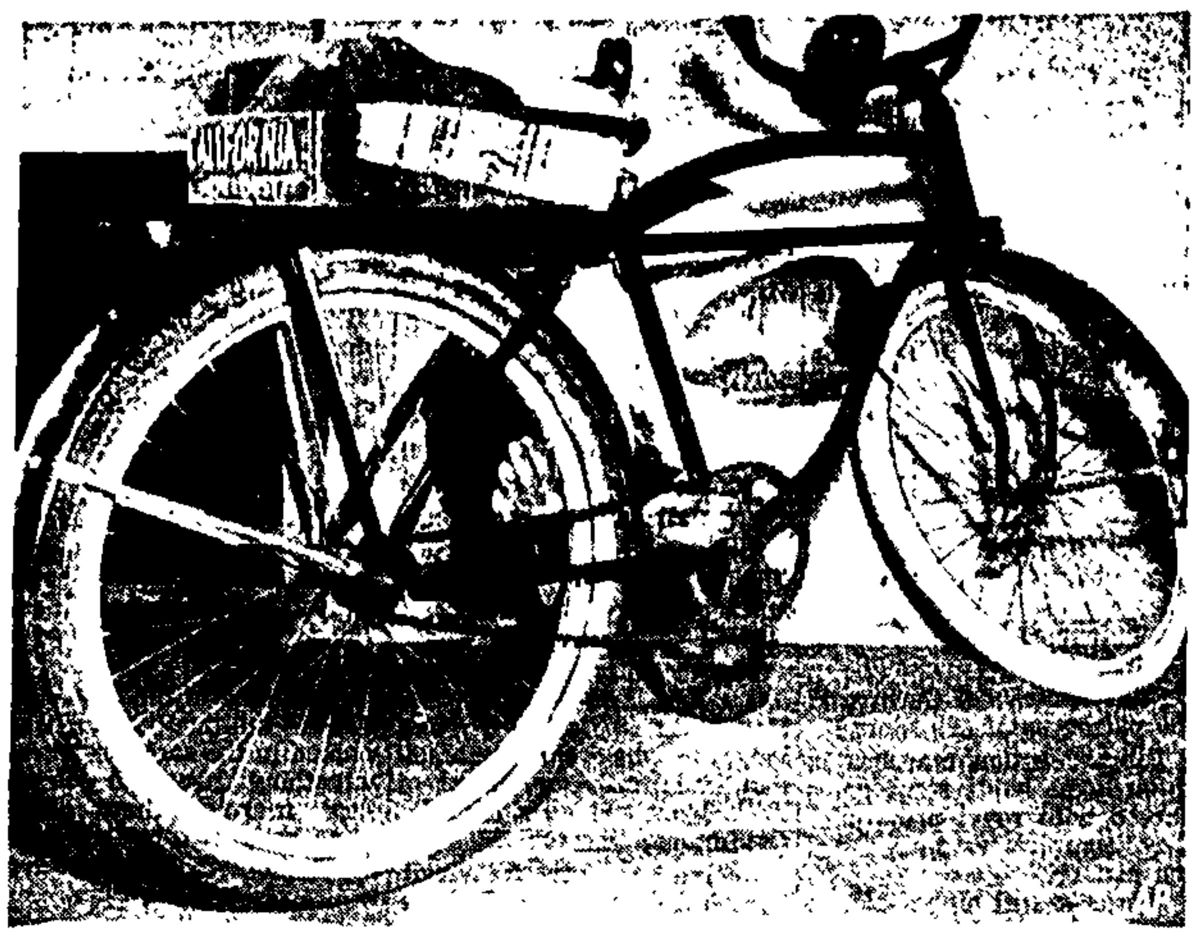
"A very important change has been shown in the administrative electoral map of the kingdom on the occasion of the municipal and communal elections which have just taken place. In effect the annexation to national Moroccan territory of a great part of the region of Ifni is acknowledged for the first time and is from now on attached to the province of Agadir."

The Ifni enclave stretches more than 50 miles along the northwest African coast and is backed up against the Sahara Desert. It was ceded to Spain by Morocco in 1860.

Accounting Contract To Receive Discussion

Members of the executive board of the Legislative Council and the Budget Committee are scheduled to meet at the State Capitol Wednesday at 9:30 a.m.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss the contract for the central accounting study for which the Legislature has appropriated $250,000 during the 1963-65 biennium.



ALMOST BUSTED . . . Jimmie Arrowood checks new wheel.

Unknown Benefactor Assists Cyclist

. . . ON 'CALIFORNIA OR BUST' TRIP

Birmingham, Ala. (AP)—For Jimmie Arrowood of Charlotte, N.C., it was "California or bust."

And his bicycle trip from Charlotte to Los Angeles almost busted in Birmingham.

The rear wheel of his bike fell apart.

But he's on his way again—thanks to an anonymous donor of a new rear wheel.

Arrowood, 30, planned to pedal from Charlotte to Los Angeles in 30 days. He left North Carolina last Tuesday. Disaster struck on the outskirts of Birmingham Saturday.

He spent the weekend in the Salvation Army men's lodge. His benefactor appeared Monday morning.

"I don't know who the wheel was from. Some man just called me out and gave it," he said.

When the $10 bike broke down, Arrowood went to the Birmingham News.

"I don't want any money," he said. "All I need is a 26-inch back wheel, if anybody's got one of those.

"I wouldn't turn back now. When I say I'm going to do something, well, that means I'm going to do it or bust."

Arrowood said he wants to set a record—he says he would be the first to hold such a mark for a bike trip from Charlotte to Los Angeles.

When he left home, Arrowood had $19 in his pocket, two pairs of pants, an extra shirt, a change of socks and a blanket.

"I lost the money somewhere," he said. "I don't know where. It must have bounced out."

He added, "all along the road I've been given just enough money to get by."

Arrowood plans to pedal through Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and on to the coast.

Once in Los Angeles, he hopes to appear on the Groucho Marx television program.

"I don't know I guess that's why I'm really going," he said.

U.S. STEEL GAINS BUT OUTLOOK DIM

New York (AP) — U.S. Steel Corp., industry giant, picked itself up from the profit floor in the April-June quarter to post the highest 3-month earnings since mid-1960.

However, with production slipping badly in recent weeks, the outlook for the rest of the year is glum, Roger M. Blough board chairman, told newsmen.

Blough credited April price increases on selected products with only a minor influence on second quarter earnings of $73.2 million, or $1.23 a share of common stock.

The figure was up sharply from the $29.9 million in the preceding 3 months, a 15-year low for first quarter earnings, and from the $40.2 million or 63 cents a share in the 1962 second quarter.

But it paled in comparison with "Big Steel's" record high quarterly yield of $148.4 million in April-June of 1959.

That was a period just before a long strike and big steel users were stockpiling heavily, the same as they were this spring out of fear of a strike that never came off.

The second quarter earnings upbeat was stronger for some other major steel producers. Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., National Steel Corp. and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. all more than tripled profits of the comparable 1962 period.

U.S. Steel said sales at $1,069,600,000 were up nearly 20% from the 1962 second quarter and the highest since the first 3 months of 1960.

Meradeth, Vskerna Top Tractor Drivers

Lincoln Star Special

Seward—Bob Meradeth of York and Don Vskerna of Ashland placed first and second respectively Tuesday in the District 2 Future Farmers of America tractor driving contest here.

Twenty towns were represented in the 36 entrants.

Others placing high were: Lester Raber, Ashland, 3rd; Ed Boltensperger, Nebraska City, 4th; and Clark Mundhenke, Milford, 5th.

Meradeth and Vskerna will represent District 2 in the state FFA tractor driving contest to be held during the Nebraska State Fair.

Final Destruction Begins In Skopje

Skopje, Yugoslavia (AP)—Battalions of fresh army engineers marched into Skopje Tuesday to put new muscle into the job of wiping the quake-killed city off the face of the earth.

They massed with picks and shovels to relieve workers exhausted after 5 steady days of gruelling labor.

Explosions echoed through the bleak ruins as dynamite teams and wrecking crews pushed the all-out drive to clean up the death and waste of Friday's earthquake.

No Signs Of Life

For the first time French disaster specialists reported no signs of life recorded on their rubble-probing sound recording machines.

Until Tuesday the sensitive phones had led rescuers to survivors still living under tons of rubble.

Driven on by the threat of a possible typhus epidemic, the government ordered men and machines into action to get the job done quickly.

Structure Falls

Fears of new earthquakes also spurred them. A new tremor during the night brought a half-demolished structure crashing to the ground A dozen other tremors followed.

Dynamite blasts jarred packed mountains of rubble, loosening them for the bulldozers and the clanging metal jaws of steam shovels.

Authorities said that 70 residents of the city were still reported missing 5 days after the quake. Nearly 1,000 bodies were recovered.

Less than 120,000 of the 270,000 residents of Skopje were left among the ruins. But evacuation was going slowly.

The smell of death rising from the ruins intensified as a searing summer heat wave held for the fifth straight day.

Buried Carcass Was A White-Tailed Deer

A buried carcass discovered north of Lincoln Monday was that of a white-tailed deer, County Atty. Paul Douglas reported Tuesday.

Douglas said Dr. B. C. Schultz and Robert Eisele of the University of Nebraska examined the carcass and made the determination.

The carcass was discovered by National Guardsmen test-driving machinery 6 miles north and two miles west of 14th and Cornhusker.

Union Leader Says New Offer Made By Railroads

Washington (AP) — H. E. Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, said Tuesday the railroads have given his union a new offer to settle the work rules dispute.

A spokesman for the carriers said he did not know of any new management proposal.

Gilbert, testifying before the House Commerce Committee, said of the reported new plan:

"I don't know what's in it. I only know it arrived at our office. It's the first proposal to come from them (the railroads) in 4 years."

Nothing New

The management spokesman said that J. E. Holfe, chief negotiator for the carriers, had submitted a statement to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz on management's position on the issues in the 4-year-old dispute which threatens to bring on a nationwide strike. But he said there was nothing "substantially new" in it.

Gilbert called the management offer a counter-proposal. The unions had spoken earlier of making a new proposal to the railroads Saturday. Of that, Daniel P. Loomis, president of the Association of American Railroads had said: "I have heard of nothing new that amounts to anything."

Some light was shed on the conflicting statements after the committee's hearing was adjourned. A union spokesman said Gilbert and other union officials began a study of the carriers' statement which they said was transmitted to them by Wirtz. The spokesman said there would be no immediate comment from the union.

Re-Statement

He described the communication as a re-statement of position by the carriers—the first such in written form received from the carriers since 1959 when the work rules controversy began, he said.

The spokesman said the carriers' statement and similar statements from the unions were requested by Wirtz last Friday when mediating sessions with both sides were resumed at the labor department.

The group met through the weekend with no progress reported but the unions submitted two statements, the spokesman said.

One was from chiefs of the engine crew unions — engineers and firemen—and concerned the firemen's job issue. About 32,500 firemen would lose their jobs if the new work rules are imposed. The other, compiled by the 3 train service unions — trainmen, conductors and switchmen—was on the makeup of train crews.

2 Key Issues

It is these two issues that have bogged down negotiations in the dispute. Wirtz has said that other issues would fall in line if a settlement of the firemen and crew issues could be worked out.

The union spokesman said that what Wirtz had done was transmit the carriers' weekend statement to the unions and apparently had dispatched copies of the unions' position statement to management.

The union spokesman said that leaders would not disclose details of the carriers' statement now in their hands but he assumed that the details would be somewhat different from the railroads' position in 1955.

Congress has been pressuring both the carriers and the unions to settle at the negotiating table, rather than force congress to pass President Kennedy's plan authorizing the Interstate Commerce Commission to hand down rulings on the proposed job-reducing work rules during a two year period unless the issues were settled through bargaining.

Buddhists Stage 2 Big Demonstrations

Saigon (UPI)—Some 22,000 Buddhists Tuesday staged peaceful demonstrations in support of anti-government Buddhist leaders here and in the imperial capital of Hue.

About 7,000 Buddhists massed in the main Xa Loi pagoda in Saigon for a day of prayer. It was the largest gathering at the Pagoda since the South Viet Nam politico-religious dispute with Roman Catholic President Ngo Dinh Diem began in May.

In Hue, 15,000 Buddhists marched in a memorial service for the priest who burned himself to death last month to protest alleged government religious discrimination.

Shops were closed briefly in both cities for the beginning of the observances but many re-opened later. The government had threatened loss of licenses for refusal to remain open. Civil servants were warned they would be fired if they missed work for the procession.

General Strike

Buddhist leaders had called for a virtual general strike in urging participation in the national day of prayer for religious equality.

Troops and secret servicemen kept a close watch on both demonstrations, but there were no incidents.

The Hue marchers were led by yellow-robed priests and nuns to a memorial service at the Dieu De pagoda honoring priest Thich Quang Duc. The priest immolated himself with burning gasoline at a Saigon street intersection to dramatize the church-state conflict.

The Buddhist quarrel with Diem began in Hue on May 8 when government troops allegedly killed 9 demonstrators. The government claims they were killed by communist terrorists.

Demands Told

Supreme Buddhist leader Khiet Tuesday released copies of a letter to vice president Nguyen Ngoc in which Khiet refused to meet with the government to negotiate differences until the government fulfills 4 pre-conditions.

They are: Release of all arrested Buddhists; an end to alleged government posts and slanders against Buddhist leaders; a government white paper telling "the whole truth" about the May 8 incident; government compensation to the families of the Hue victims.

Moroccan News Agency In Error On Spanish Enclave

Rabat, Morocco (UPI)—The semi-official Moroccan news agency Maghreb Arab Press (MAP) acknowledged Tuesday it was in error in reporting Monday that Morocco had annexed most of the Spanish Enclave of Ifni on the northwest African coast.

The agency said Monday that as a result of municipal and communal elections on Sunday Morocco had annexed most of the Ifni enclave, but Tuesday MAP said: "It does not seem as if the elections took place inside the perimeter of the territory under Spanish domination."

Both the Moroccan and Spanish governments Tuesday indicated the report was a complete misunderstanding.

In its statement Monday MAP reported:

"A very important change has been shown in the administrative electoral map of the kingdom on the occasion of the municipal and communal elections which have just taken place. In effect the annexation to national Moroccan territory of a great part of the region of Ifni is acknowledged for the first time and is from now on attached to the province of Agadir."

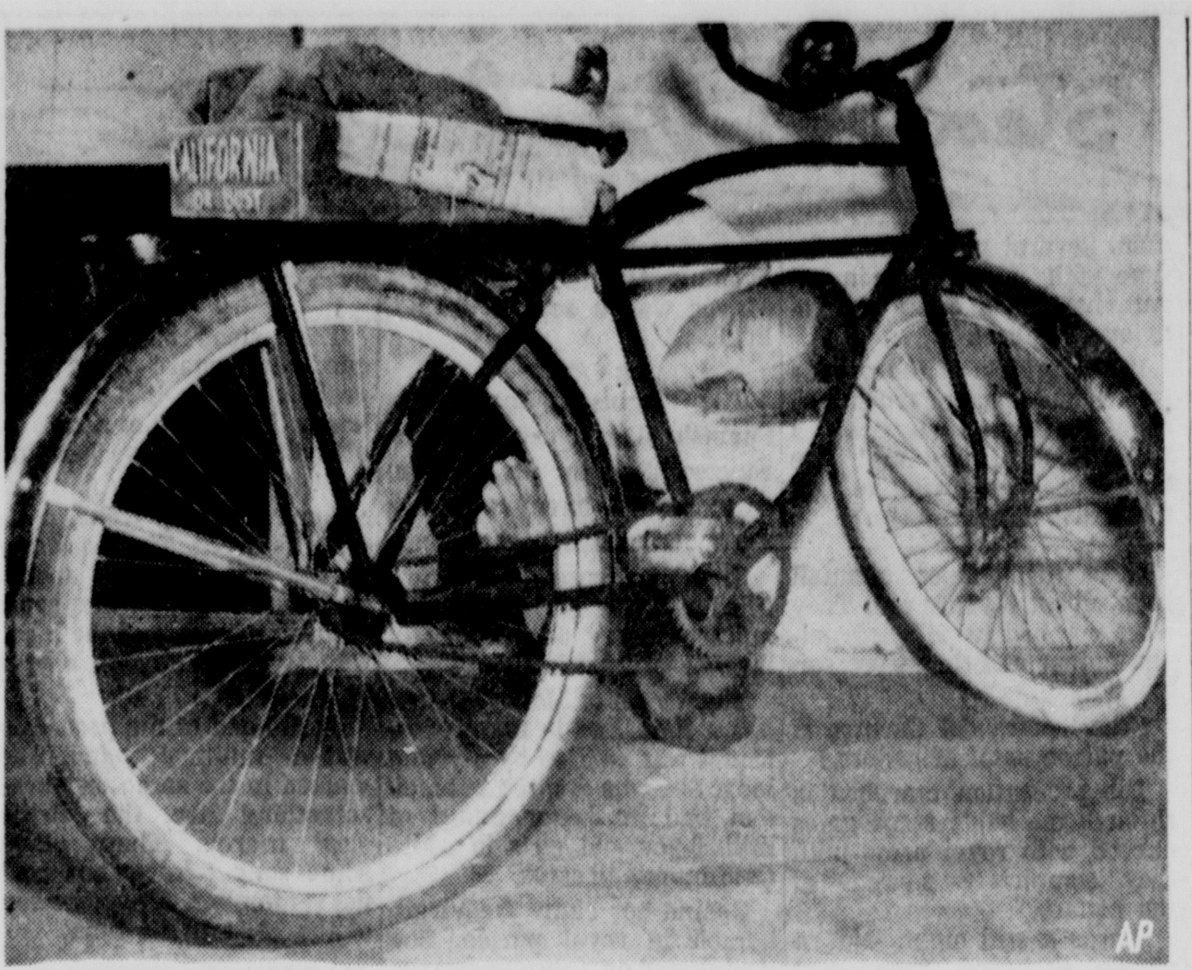
The Ifni enclave stretches more than 50 miles along the northwest African coast and is backed up against the Sahara Desert. It was ceded to Spain by Morocco in 1860.

Accounting Contract To Receive Discussion

Members of the executive board of the Legislative Council and the Budget Committee are scheduled to meet at the State Capitol Wednesday at 9:30 a.m.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss the contract for the central accounting study for which the Legislature has appropriated $250,000 during the 1963-65 biennium.



ALMOST BUSTED . . . Jimmie Arrowood checks new wheel.

Unknown Benefactor Assists Cyclist

. . . ON 'CALIFORNIA OR BUST' TRIP

Birmingham, Ala. (AP)—For Jimmie Arrowood of Charlotte, N.C., it was "California or bust."

And his bicycle trip from Charlotte to Los Angeles almost busted in Birmingham.

The rear wheel of his bike fell apart.

But he's on his way again—thanks to an anonymous donor of a new rear wheel.

Arrowood, 30, planned to pedal from Charlotte to Los Angeles in 30 days. He left North Carolina last Tuesday. Disaster struck on the outskirts of Birmingham Saturday.

He spent the weekend in the Salvation Army men's lodge. His benefactor appeared Monday morning.

"I don't know who the wheel was from. Some man just called me out and gave it," he said.

When the $10 bike broke down, Arrowood went to the Birmingham News.

"I don't want any money," he said. "All I need is a 26-inch back wheel, if anybody's got one of those.

"I wouldn't turn back now. When I say I'm going to do something, well, that means I'm going to do it or bust."

Arrowood said he wants to set a record—he says he would be the first to hold such a mark for a bike trip from Charlotte to Los Angeles.

When he left home, Arrowood had $19 in his pocket, two pairs of pants, an extra shirt, a change of socks and a blanket.

"I lost the money somewhere," he said. "I don't know where. It must have bounced out."

He added, "all along the road I've been given just enough money to get by."

Arrowood plans to pedal through Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and on to the coast.

Once in Los Angeles, he hopes to appear on the Groucho Marx television program.

"I don't know. I guess that's why I'm really going," he said.

U.S. STEEL GAINS BUT OUTLOOK DIM

New York (AP) — U.S. Steel Corp., industry giant, picked itself up from the profit floor in the April-June quarter to post the highest 3-month earnings since mid-1960.

However, with production slipping badly in recent weeks, the outlook for the rest of the year is glum, Roger M. Blough board chairman, told newsmen.

Blough credited April price increases on selected products with only a minor influence on second quarter earnings of $73.2 million, or $1.23 a share of common stock.

The figure was up sharply from the $29.9 million in the preceding 3 months, a 15-year low for first quarter earnings, and from the $40.2 million or 63 cents a share in the 1962 second quarter.

But it paled in comparison with "Big Steel's" record high quarterly yield of $148.4 million in April-June of 1959.

That was a period just before a long strike and big steel users were stockpiling heavily, the same as they were this spring out of fear of a strike that never came off.

The second quarter earnings upbeat was stronger for some other major steel producers. Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., National Steel Corp. and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. all more than tripled profits of the comparable 1962 period.

U.S. Steel said sales at $1,069,600,000 were up nearly 20% from the 1962 second quarter and the highest since the first 3 months of 1960.

Mansfield Sees Quick Ratification Of Treaty

Washington (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana predicted Tuesday an early ratification of the new nuclear test ban treaty and stated there are "no gimmicks, no side issues," linked with it.

He also told newsmen he still expects President Kennedy to name a bipartisan group of senators to attend the treaty signing in Moscow, despite indications from top Republicans they don't want to go.

Emerging from the weekly conference of Democratic congressional leaders with President Kennedy at the White House, Mansfield said:

"We informed the President that the chances for strong bipartisan ratification of the treaty by the Senate were excellent and that we expected the ratification would come as soon as possiblee."

Rails Come First

And Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., assistant Senate Democratic leader, told a news conference later in the day he is hopeful the treaty can be brought before the Senate late in August, although any legislation to avert a nationwide railroad strike would have to precede it.

Mansfield, answering questions after the White House conference, said the agreement, prohibiting nuclear tests in space, in the atmosphere and under the sae, has broad support in Congress.

Kennedy, he said, called it a treaty for all Americans—for this generation and the generations to follow — and expressed hope the Senate debate would be broad, penetrating ad fruitful.

Mansfield, in forecasting senators of both parties would attend the signing, said he didn't know which Republicans would be named. But when the name of Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., was mentioned, he said Aiken's selection would be a "10-strike"—a bowling term for knocking down all the pins with one ball.

Not Invited

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, said he had not been invited to go to Moscow, had not made up his mind about the treaty, and would not attend the signing unless he does.

He was the third top GOP leader to indicate he would not attend the signing. Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, said Monday they would not go even if invited.

Dirksen, in a statement Tuesday, said that under the treaty's provisions Communist East Germany could sign it and gain some recognition as a state. Neither the United States nor Britain recognizes it as such.

Cuba could also qualify this way, he said.

'Pure Nonsense'

Sen. Humphrey, hearing of this, said that in injecting Cuba into the treaty debate Dirksen was "spinning pure nonsense out of political fuzz."

Se.n Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, said in a Senate speech that the treaty would be ratified after long debate, although some senators are withholding the opinions until they hear testimony from military leaders.

The White House reported about 1,600 letters and telegrams have been received overwhelmingly favoring the President's speech last Friday supporting the treaty.

Storm Hits Korea

Big 3 Pledge Work Toward Arms Pact

Geneva (AP) — The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union pledged Tuesday to continue working toward a worldwide disarmament treaty. But there was no hint of agreement on the next step they should take following the Moscow accord on a partial nuclear test ban

The 3 nations reported to the 17-nation disarmament conference on their test ban agreement and the text was entered into the record as the conference resumed after a 6-week recess.

All delegates described the accord as a ray of hope for the future.

Happy

U.S delegate Charles C. Stelle and British Minister of State Peter Thomas said the Western powers are happy with the agreement to ban nuclear tests in space, in the atmosphere and under water, although they would have preferred a comprehensive treaty including a ban on undergrounds tests

Both Stelle and Thomas said their governments will continue to work for an underground test ban, despite the continuing Soviet objections to on-site inspection.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin said nothing about an underground test ban. He pressed instead for a nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic Alliance and the Warsaw Pact powers.

In discussing the future program of the conference, Tsarapkin and the Western delegates found common ground only on one point: Their determination to continue the long-stalled discussion of a general world disarmament treaty, with hope of progress in the spirit of the Moscow accord.

Two Big Absentees

The shadow of the two big absentees—France and Red China—lay over the conference table in the Palace of Nations Few diplomats believed the conference could hope for any concrete achievements in its present form.

President Charles de Gaulle told his news conference in Paris Monday that France will not abide by the Moscow accord and will continue its nuclear weapons development as long as there is no worldwide agreement to destroy nuclear stockpiles and delivery systems.

Red China similarly defied the Moscow accord and accused the Soviet Union of playing into the hands of "the Anglo-American imperialists." The Chinese communists also said they will continue their nuclear weapons program

There was no direct reference to the absence of France and China in the speeches here.

But Tsarapkin took an unmistabkeable swipe at Russia's Red Chinese critics

The Moscow agreement, he said, "shows the correctness and success of the policy of peaceful coexistence, whatever the social and political regimes involved."

The Soviet delegate demanded that the proposal for an East-West nonaggression pact "be placed in the forefront of our discussions."

The nonaggression pact proposal was extensively discussed at the Moscow talks, but was left in abeyance while the 3 powers consulted their allies.

De Gaulle made it clear that France wants no part of such a pact. And Steele did not even mention it in his speech to the conference.

Other Western speakers showed no enthusiasm, either. The West objects to the idea mainly because it could imply Western recognition of East Germany.

$2,500 SMILE

Singer Mary Ford smiles in Los Angeles Superior Court Tuesday after winning temporary alimony of $2,500 a month from Les Paul, her musical partner-husband with whom she used to harmonize.

Ruhnke—Illinois Ruling Sets Nebraska Stage

The chief sponsor of the legislative reapportionment bill pointed Tuesday to an Illinois ruling as setting the stage for a similar decision in Nebraska.

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth said he is confident the 3 federal judges assigned to decide Nebraska's case will follow closely the Illinois decision.

"I feel they cannot and will not rule any other way," Ruhnke said.

In the Illinois case, a 3-judge panel in a split decision upheld the constitutionality of a state amendment which gives downstate Illinoise permanent control of the state senate by a 34-24 margin despite its population now or in the future.

Rural Consideration

"I was pleased to note the court gave consideration to rural residents as well as the populous city of Chicago," Ruhnke said.

A 1960 census showed Cook County (Chicago) had more than half of the state's population.

By 1980, Ruhnke said, Lancaster and Douglas Counties will contain one-half of Nebraska's population if present trends continue.

"If our Legislature was apportioned strictly on a population basis, this would mean two counties would rule the whole state," he added. "This would not be good for the state."

Ruhnke also noted that an earlier Oklahoma apportionment case gave some indication that the use of factors other than population can be justified under the U.S. Constitution in redistricting State legislatures.

Nebraska's constitution, as amended by voters in 1962, authorized giving 20% to 30% emphasis to area in redistricting

20% to Area

The reapportionment bill passed by the 73rd Legislature gives 80% weight to population and 20% weight to area. This formula increased present membership in the Legislature from 43 to 49.

From first reports on the Oklahoma ruling, it appeared the federal court had said only population could be used in reapportionment of the Oklahoma legislature.

But a later clarification of the opinion indicated that factors other than population can be justified. It left the door open for the argument there may be variations in population of legislative districts if the various variations are determined on some "rational" basis.

Ruhnke said he feels Nebraska's unique one-house or Unicameral system plus the fact that the majority of the population is in the eastern part of the state are rational reasons for the area redistricting concept.

"As long as we have a one-house Legislature," he said, "I don't see how we can apportion our state any other way and have a fair form of government."

He also told newsmen he still expects President Kennedy to name a bipartisan group of senators to attend the treaty signing in Moscow, despite indications from top Republicans they don't want to go.

Emerging from the weekly conference of Democratic congressional leaders with President Kennedy at the White House, Mansfield said:

"We informed the President that the chances for strong bipartisan ratification of the treaty by the Senate were excellent and that we expected the ratification would come as soon as possiblee."

Rails Come First

And Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., assistant Senate Democratic leader, told a news conference later in the day he is hopeful the treaty can be brought before the Senate late in August, although any legislation to avert a nationwide railroad strike would have to precede it.

Mansfield, answering questions after the White House conference, said the agreement, prohibiting nuclear tests in space, in the atmosphere and under the sae, has broad support in Congress.

Kennedy, he said, called it a treaty for all Americans—for this generation and the generations to follow — and expressed hope the Senate debate would be broad, penetrating ad fruitful.

Mansfield, in forecasting senators of both parties would attend the signing, said he didn't know which Republicans would be named. But when the name of Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., was mentioned, he said Aiken's selection would be a "10-strike"—a bowling term for knocking down all the pins with one ball.

Not Invited

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, said he had not been invited to go to Moscow, had not made up his mind about the treaty, and would not attend the signing unless he does.

He was the third top GOP leader to indicate he would not attend the signing. Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, said Monday they would not go even if invited.

Dirksen, in a statement Tuesday, said that under the treaty's provisions Communist East Germany could sign it and gain some recognition as a state. Neither the United States nor Britain recognizes it as such.

Cuba could also qualify this way, he said.

'Pure Nonsense'

Sen. Humphrey, hearing of this, said that in injecting Cuba into the treaty debate Dirksen was "spinning pure nonsense out of political fuzz."

Se.n Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, said in a Senate speech that the treaty would be ratified after long debate, although some senators are withholding the opinions until they hear testimony from military leaders.

The White House reported about 1,600 letters and telegrams have been received overwhelmingly favoring the President's speech last Friday supporting the treaty.

Storm Hits Korea

Seoul, Korea (AP) — Sixteen persons were killed in landslides and other mishaps caused by heavy rainstorms which hit the Taegu area, 150 miles southeast of Seoul, National Police announced. Sixty houses were destroyed.

Big 3 Pledge Work Toward Arms Pact

Geneva (AP) — The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union pledged Tuesday to continue working toward a worldwide disarmament treaty. But there was no hint of agreement on the next step they should take following the Moscow accord on a partial nuclear test ban.

The 3 nations reported to the 17-nation disarmament conference on their test ban agreement and the text was entered into the record as the conference resumed after a 6-week recess.

All delegates described the accord as a ray of hope for the future.

Happy

U.S. delegate Charles C. Stelle and British Minister of State Peter Thomas said the Western powers are happy with the agreement to ban nuclear tests in space, in the atmosphere and under water, although they would have preferred a comprehensive treaty including a ban on undergrounds tests.

Both Stelle and Thomas said their governments will continue to work for an underground test ban, despite the continuing Soviet objections to on-site inspection.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin said nothing about an underground test ban. He pressed instead for a nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic Alliance and the Warsaw Pact powers.

In discussing the future program of the conference, Tsarapkin and the Western delegates found common ground only on one point: Their determination to continue the long-stalled discussion of a general world disarmament treaty, with hope of progress in the spirit of the Moscow accord.

Two Big Absentees

The shadow of the two big absentees—France and Red China—lay over the conference table in the Palace of Nations. Few diplomats believed the conference could hope for any concrete achievements in its present form.

President Charles de Gaulle told his news conference in Paris Monday that France will not abide by the Moscow accord and will continue its nuclear weapons development as long as there is no worldwide agreement to destroy nuclear stockpiles and delivery systems.

Red China similarly defied the Moscow accord and accused the Soviet Union of playing into the hands of "the Anglo-American imperialists." The Chinese communists also said they will continue their nuclear weapons program.

There was no direct reference to the absence of France and China in the speeches here.

But Tsarapkin took an unmistabkeable swipe at Russia's Red Chinese critics.

The Moscow agreement, he said, "shows the correctness and success of the policy of peaceful coexistence, whatever the social and political regimes involved."

The Soviet delegate demanded that the proposal for an East-West nonaggression pact "be placed in the forefront of our discussions."

The nonaggression pact proposal was extensively discussed at the Moscow talks, but was left in abeyance while the 3 powers consulted their allies.

De Gaulle made it clear that France wants no part of such a pact. And Steele did not even mention it in his speech to the conference.

Other Western speakers showed no enthusiasm, either. The West objects to the idea mainly because it could imply Western recognition of East Germany.

Ruhnke—Illinois Ruling Sets Nebraska Stage

The chief sponsor of the legislative reapportionment bill pointed Tuesday to an Illinois ruling as setting the stage for a similar decision in Nebraska.

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth said he is confident the 3 federal judges assigned to decide Nebraska's case will follow closely the Illinois decision.

"I feel they cannot and will not rule any other way," Ruhnke said.

In the Illinois case, a 3-judge panel in a split decision upheld the constitutionality of a state amendment which gives downstate Illinoise permanent control of the state senate by a 34-24 margin despite its population now or in the future.

Rural Consideration

"I was pleased to note the court gave consideration to rural residents as well as the populous city of Chicago," Ruhnke said.

A 1960 census showed Cook County (Chicago) had more than half of the state's population.

By 1980, Ruhnke said, Lancaster and Douglas Counties will contain one-half of Nebraska's population if present trends continue.

"If our Legislature was apportioned strictly on a population basis, this would mean two counties would rule the whole state," he added. "This would not be good for the state."

Ruhnke also noted that an earlier Oklahoma apportionment case gave some indication that the use of factors other than population can be justified under the U.S. Constitution in redistricting State legislatures.

Nebraska's constitution, as amended by voters in 1962, authorized giving 20% to 30% emphasis to area in redistricting

20% to Area

The reapportionment bill passed by the 73rd Legislature gives 80% weight to population and 20% weight to area. This formula increased present membership in the Legislature from 43 to 49.

From first reports on the Oklahoma ruling, it appeared the federal court had said only population could be used in reapportionment of the Oklahoma legislature.

But a later clarification of the opinion indicated that factors other than population can be justified. It left the door open for the argument there may be variations in population of legislative districts if the various variations are determined on some "rational" basis.

Ruhnke said he feels Nebraska's unique one-house or Unicameral system plus the fact that the majority of the population is in the eastern part of the state are rational reasons for the area redistricting concept.

"As long as we have a one-house Legislature," he said, "I don't see how we can apportion our state any other way and have a fair form of government."

Not Kindness—It's Cowardice

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I married on the rebound and it didn't work out. Now I find that I have fallen in love with another man, and I see no reason why I should spend the rest of my life trapped in a loveless marriage. We have no children. The other man has never been married. Should I just pack and leave? Or should I tell my husband what I have in mind? He suspects nothing. When he finds me gone I suppose it will hurt him, but I think, in the long run, it would be kinder. What do you think? Don't try to talk me into staying with my husband. My mind is made up.

Parties Honor Brides-Elect

Prenuptial courtesies honoring Miss Linda Kaye Wilson are continuing to fill the social calendar preceding the bride-elect's early autumn marriage to Barry Siedell.

On Tuesday evening, Miss Wilson was the guest of honor at an informal evening party for which Miss Barbara Bieger was hostess to a group of friends at her home. A miscellaneous shower was presented to Miss Wilson.

The bride-to-be, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman F. Wilson, was honored on Monday, July 22, when Mrs. William Folger and Mrs. L. V. Folger entertained at a dessert luncheon and shower. The guest list included feminine members of Miss Wilson's and Mr. Siedell's families.

A recent courtesy honoring the bride-elect was held in Omaha where Mrs. Jerry Dunn and her daughter, Mrs. Terry Caldwell, were hostesses to both Omaha and Lincoln friends of the honoree.

Mrs. Lloyd E. Smith was hostess recently at a luncheon in courtesy to Miss Wilson. Following the luncheon, a bridal shower was presented to the bride-elect by the guests, friends of Miss Wilson's mother.

Members of Mrs. Wilson's sewing club presented the soon-to-be bride with a bathroom accessory shower recently at a mother-daughter tea for which Mrs. Howard Mitchell was hostess at her home.

The wedding of Miss Wilson and Mr. Siedell, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Siedell, will be an event of Sept. 7.

A former coed at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, Miss Patricia Ann Dean has announced that her marriage to Lt. Eric C. Theiner, USAF, of Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, will be solemnized on Saturday, Aug. 17.

For the wedding, which will take place in the chapel at Lackland Base, the bride-elect has chosen Miss Donnajo Smith of Perry, Iowa, as her maid of honor and only attendant.

Albert Willert of Jackson Heights, N.Y., will serve Lt. Theiner as best man, and seating the guests will be Lt. George Blank of Ft. Belvoir, Va., and William Dean of Lincoln, brother of the bride-to-be.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dean, the bride-elect is employed in social work at San Antonio, Texas. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Theiner of New York City.

Honoring Miss Connie Hanneman recently were Mrs. Ken Hanneman, Mrs. Delmar Watermeier, Mrs. George Litsey and Mrs. Richard Wolfe who entertained at a miscellaneous shower held at the Havelock YWCA on Sunday. The 60 guests included members of the family of Miss Hanneman and her fiance, Larry Schafer.

The wedding of Miss Hanneman and Mr. Schafer will be an event of Saturday, Aug. 17.

Suburban Activity Is Varied

PARK MANOR

'Tis the last day of July and time for the littles ones to begin realizing that they have only a few more weeks of vacation; for mothers to begin relaxing due to realizing the little ones have only a few more weeks of vacation, and for fathers to begin realizing that they've already had their vacation!

And speaking of vacations, Park Manor residents who have just returned from theirs are Mr. and Mrs. John Binning and their children, Robin and Brad, who are back after spending a month away from Lincoln.

During their long and lovely holiday, they stayed in San Francisco, Calif.; Portland, Ore.; Seattle, Wash., and Reno, Nev. On the way west, they also stopped in Kimball to visit with Mr. Binning's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Binning.

A young hostess who entertained a group of feminine contemporaries on Friday evening was Miss Diane Falos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Falos, whose guests were invited to spend the night and to help Diane celebrate her 11th birthday.

Guests for the birthday celebration and slumber party were Jane Wright, Jean Hassing, Vicki Hoy, Debbie Stranathan, Julie Moreland, Wendy Voss, and Becky Nuzum.

Members of Park Manor's anniversary club who were honored recently were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glenn. Other club members helping them celebrate the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Emery Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marquardt, and Mr. and Mrs. John Binning.

The afternoon and evening celebration began at Mr. and Mrs. Marquardt's cabin at Lake Waconda, and then progressed to Plattsmouth where the couples had dinner.

The dinner, incidentally, included a cake in the exact shape of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn's swimming pool—complete with diving board, no less!

HOLLYWOOD HEIGHTS

Neighbors in Hollywood Heights are presently most occupied with coming FROM and going ON vacations, it seems. One family that has just left for Minnesota's vacationland are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph 'Swanson and their children, Linda, Kathy, Tom, and Sherry.

The family left Lincoln on Sunday, and are spending their days fishing, boating, swimming, and water skiing at Lake Koronis, Minn.

Driving to Shickley this past weekend were Mrs. George Stolzenberg, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Case, and her other two children, Allan and Carol.

The family made the trip to Shickley to visit Mr. Stolzenberg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stolzenberg, and also to take part in the community festivities celebrating the town's 75th anniversary.

Mrs. Stolzenberg and the family drove to Shickley on Friday, and returned to Lincoln Sunday morning.

And a neighborhood youngster who is to celebrate his birthday this afternoon is Master David Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Allen. David will celebrate anniversary number eight with a swimming party at the University Place Pool, and afterwards, he and his guests will return to the Allens' Hollywood Heights home for ice cream and cake.

Guests for this afternoon's festivities are to be Vicky Fink, Randy McGinnis, Steven Pierce, and David's sister, Leslie.

Due to be leaving the neighborhood soon for a much-anticipated vacation are Mr and Mrs Melvin Turner and their daughter, Karen.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner and Karen will be spending three weeks on the west coast visiting various interesting places, such as, Portland, Ore., Seattle, Wash., Los Angeles, Calif., and—Disneyland.

Hostess At Bridal Courtesy

An early-autumn bride-to-be was the guest of honor on Tuesday evening when Mrs. Bernard Belka was hostess at her home to 18 guests.

The honoree was Miss Mary Jean Prochaska, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Prochaska, who will become the bride of Bob Schwenke on Sept. 2.

During the informal evening, a miscellaneous shower was presented to the bride-elect.

More Diet Reports

Josephine Lowman

Here are a few more letters from women who joined my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan this past January.

Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I wish to thank you for sending me your eight-week plan. It has helped me lose almost 60 pounds, not in eight weeks, but it established habits or patterns in eating and exercising which have made this possible. I have tried to lose weight before but was always flabby afterwards. Your exercises have kept the muscles and flesh firm this time. I'm much more pleased with myself. I used to become discouraged."

There is no doubt that regular exercise should be a part of any reducing routine unless there is some medical reason for not indulging in special exercises. Exercise does help in avoiding flabbiness. It also burns up calories and thus is an aid in reducing. And, happy thought, it redistributes our weight more attractively.

Here is another letter to inspire those overweights who have been putting off losing their extra pounds.

Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I have a story too good to keep and I would like to share it with others. I am in my 50's and have been overweight for several years. I have not felt well for some years. The doctors could find nothing wrong with me but they all told me that they believed I would feel a lot better if I lost weight.

"So, I made a New Year's resolution to lose even if it took me a year. I had clipped some of your articles and fastened them onto the inside of the cabinet door by the kitchen stove. I stuck with it and have lost 40 pounds. I am going to lose 10 more and then I will weigh what I should. I can't wear any of my old clothes. I am three sizes smaller and feel one hundred per cent better. I am real proud of what I have done in six months."

This reader has a right to be proud doesn't she? Many physicians feel that overweight is one of the main reasons for chronic fatigue.

If you would like to get in shape for fall, perhaps you would like to have my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan booklet and weight chart. The booklet gives you detailed directions as to how to measure yourself and determine your correct weight. It has a comprehensive calorie chart and exercises for the most usual figure defects. You can plot your weight on the chart and watch your beauty line rise as your weight line drops. If you would like to have this booklet send 25 cents and your printed name and address with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of the Lincoln Star, Lincoln, Neb.

Opening lead—six of hearts.

Good defensive play is largely a matter of partnership cooperation. The defenders have to work together closely, giving each other the maximum amount of information about their respective hands, and in this way solve the mystery of declarer's hand.

The greatest boon to the defense is their proper use of defensive conventions. Many players do not realize how important it is to conform to the requirements of conventional play.

The custom of leading the fourth best card of a long suit, for example, is much more than just a habit—there are many hands where adherence to the custom permits partner to obtain information vital to a successful subsequent line of defense.

In the same way, there are other defensive conventions that enable the defenders to function flawlessly and play as though declarer's hand were exposed on the table.

Take this hand as an illustration. West leads his fourth best heart and the queen forces the ace. South plays the ten of spades and finesses, losing to the king. East returns the two of hearts.

It is this play of the deuce that makes it easy for West to win the nine with the ten and continue with the king to defeat the contract a trick. There is no doubt that many players holding East's cards would return the seven of hearts instead of the two, and thus present West with a defensive problem which he might not successfully solve.

It is all a matter of convention. Suppose East's original heart holding were the Q-7-2. Then, when he takes the king of spades, the proper return is his highest remaining heart, the seven. In such a case, West would not continue the suit because he would know that South started with the A-J-9-x of hearts.

But when East returns the two, showing he originally had four hearts (not three), it becomes easy for West to continue the suit, since he knows that South had only three hearts to start with.

We are as interested as your doctor is in keeping you in good health . . . so next time he prescribes, bring his order to us.

The bride-to-be, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman F. Wilson, was honored on Monday, July 22, when Mrs. William Folger and Mrs. L. V. Folger entertained at a dessert luncheon and shower. The guest list included feminine members of Miss Wilson's and Mr. Siedell's families.

A recent courtesy honoring the bride-elect was held in Omaha where Mrs. Jerry Dunn and her daughter, Mrs. Terry Caldwell, were hostesses to both Omaha and Lincoln friends of the honoree.

Mrs. Lloyd E. Smith was hostess recently at a luncheon in courtesy to Miss Wilson. Following the luncheon, a bridal shower was presented to the bride-elect by the guests, friends of Miss Wilson's mother.

Members of Mrs. Wilson's sewing club presented the soon-to-be bride with a bathroom accessory shower recently at a mother-daughter tea for which Mrs. Howard Mitchell was hostess at her home.

The wedding of Miss Wilson and Mr. Siedell, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Siedell, will be an event of Sept. 7.

A former coed at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, Miss Patricia Ann Dean has announced that her marriage to Lt. Eric C. Theiner, USAF, of Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, will be solemnized on Saturday, Aug. 17.

For the wedding, which will take place in the chapel at Lackland Base, the bride-elect has chosen Miss Donnajo Smith of Perry, Iowa, as her maid of honor and only attendant.

Albert Willert of Jackson Heights, N.Y., will serve Lt. Theiner as best man, and seating the guests will be Lt. George Blank of Ft. Belvoir, Va., and William Dean of Lincoln, brother of the bride-to-be.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dean, the bride-elect is employed in social work at San Antonio, Texas. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Theiner of New York City.

Honoring Miss Connie Hanneman recently were Mrs. Ken Hanneman, Mrs. Delmar Watermeier, Mrs. George Litsey and Mrs. Richard Wolfe who entertained at a miscellaneous shower held at the Havelock YWCA on Sunday. The 60 guests included members of the family of Miss Hanneman and her fiance, Larry Schafer.

The wedding of Miss Hanneman and Mr. Schafer will be an event of Saturday, Aug. 17.

Suburban Activity Is Varied

PARK MANOR

'Tis the last day of July and time for the littles ones to begin realizing that they have only a few more weeks of vacation; for mothers to begin relaxing due to realizing the little ones have only a few more weeks of vacation, and for fathers to begin realizing that they've already had their vacation!

And speaking of vacations, Park Manor residents who have just returned from theirs are Mr. and Mrs. John Binning and their children, Robin and Brad, who are back after spending a month away from Lincoln.

During their long and lovely holiday, they stayed in San Francisco, Calif.; Portland, Ore.; Seattle, Wash., and Reno, Nev. On the way west, they also stopped in Kimball to visit with Mr. Binning's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Binning.

A young hostess who entertained a group of feminine contemporaries on Friday evening was Miss Diane Falos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Falos, whose guests were invited to spend the night and to help Diane celebrate her 11th birthday.

Guests for the birthday celebration and slumber party were Jane Wright, Jean Hassing, Vicki Hoy, Debbie Stranathan, Julie Moreland, Wendy Voss, and Becky Nuzum.

Members of Park Manor's anniversary club who were honored recently were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glenn. Other club members helping them celebrate the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Emery Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marquardt, and Mr. and Mrs. John Binning.

The afternoon and evening celebration began at Mr. and Mrs. Marquardt's cabin at Lake Waconda, and then progressed to Plattsmouth where the couples had dinner.

The dinner, incidentally, included a cake in the exact shape of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn's swimming pool—complete with diving board, no less!

HOLLYWOOD HEIGHTS

Neighbors in Hollywood Heights are presently most occupied with coming FROM and going ON vacations, it seems. One family that has just left for Minnesota's vacationland are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Swanson and their children, Linda, Kathy, Tom, and Sherry.

The family left Lincoln on Sunday, and are spending their days fishing, boating, swimming, and water skiing at Lake Koronis, Minn.

Driving to Shickley this past weekend were Mrs. George Stolzenberg, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Case, and her other two children, Allan and Carol.

The family made the trip to Shickley to visit Mr. Stolzenberg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stolzenberg, and also to take part in the community festivities celebrating the town's 75th anniversary.

Mrs. Stolzenberg and the family drove to Shickley on Friday, and returned to Lincoln Sunday morning.

And a neighborhood youngster who is to celebrate his birthday this afternoon is Master David Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Allen. David will celebrate anniversary number eight with a swimming party at the University Place Pool, and afterwards, he and his guests will return to the Allens' Hollywood Heights home for ice cream and cake.

Guests for this afternoon's festivities are to be Vicky Fink, Randy McGinnis, Steven Pierce, and David's sister, Leslie.

Due to be leaving the neighborhood soon for a much-anticipated vacation are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Turner and their daughter, Karen.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner and Karen will be spending three weeks on the west coast visiting various interesting places, such as, Portland, Ore., Seattle, Wash., Los Angeles, Calif., and—Disneyland.

Hostess At Bridal Courtesy

An early-autumn bride-to-be was the guest of honor on Tuesday evening when Mrs. Bernard Belka was hostess at her home to 18 guests.

The honoree was Miss Mary Jean Prochaska, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Prochaska, who will become the bride of Bob Schwenke on Sept. 2.

During the informal evening, a miscellaneous shower was presented to the bride-elect.

More Diet Reports

Josephine Lowman

Here are a few more letters from women who joined my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan this past January.

Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I wish to thank you for sending me your eight-week plan. It has helped me lose almost 60 pounds, not in eight weeks, but it established habits or patterns in eating and exercising which have made this possible. I have tried to lose weight before but was always flabby afterwards. Your exercises have kept the muscles and flesh firm this time. I'm much more pleased with myself. I used to become discouraged."

There is no doubt that regular exercise should be a part of any reducing routine unless there is some medical reason for not indulging in special exercises. Exercise does help in avoiding flabbiness. It also burns up calories and thus is an aid in reducing. And, happy thought, it redistributes our weight more attractively.

Here is another letter to inspire those overweights who have been putting off losing their extra pounds.

Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I have a story too good to keep and I would like to share it with others. I am in my 50's and have been overweight for several years. I have not felt well for some years. The doctors could find nothing wrong with me but they all told me that they believed I would feel a lot better if I lost weight.

"So, I made a New Year's resolution to lose even if it took me a year. I had clipped some of your articles and fastened them onto the inside of the cabinet door by the kitchen stove. I stuck with it and have lost 40 pounds. I am going to lose 10 more and then I will weigh what I should. I can't wear any of my old clothes. I am three sizes smaller and feel one hundred per cent better. I am real proud of what I have done in six months."

This reader has a right to be proud doesn't she? Many physicians feel that overweight is one of the main reasons for chronic fatigue.

If you would like to get in shape for fall, perhaps you would like to have my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan booklet and weight chart. The booklet gives you detailed directions as to how to measure yourself and determine your correct weight. It has a comprehensive calorie chart and exercises for the most usual figure defects. You can plot your weight on the chart and watch your beauty line rise as your weight line drops. If you would like to have this booklet send 25 cents and your printed name and address with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of the Lincoln Star, Lincoln, Neb.

Opening lead—six of hearts.

Good defensive play is largely a matter of partnership cooperation. The defenders have to work together closely, giving each other the maximum amount of information about their respective hands, and in this way solve the mystery of declarer's hand.

The greatest boon to the defense is their proper use of defensive conventions. Many players do not realize how important it is to conform to the requirements of conventional play.

The custom of leading the fourth best card of a long suit, for example, is much more than just a habit—there are many hands where adherence to the custom permits partner to obtain information vital to a successful subsequent line of defense.

In the same way, there are other defensive conventions that enable the defenders to function flawlessly and play as though declarer's hand were exposed on the table.

Take this hand as an illustration. West leads his fourth best heart and the queen forces the ace. South plays the ten of spades and finesses, losing to the king. East returns the two of hearts.

It is this play of the deuce that makes it easy for West to win the nine with the ten and continue with the king to defeat the contract a trick. There is no doubt that many players holding East's cards would return the seven of hearts instead of the two, and thus present West with a defensive problem which he might not successfully solve.

It is all a matter of convention. Suppose East's original heart holding were the Q-7-2. Then, when he takes the king of spades, the proper return is his highest remaining heart, the seven. In such a case, West would not continue the suit because he would know that South started with the A-J-9-x of hearts.

But when East returns the two, showing he originally had four hearts (not three), it becomes easy for West to continue the suit, since he knows that South had only three hearts to start with.

We are as interested as your doctor is in keeping you in good health . . . so next time he prescribes, bring his order to us.

Fatal Dutch Elm Malady Discovered In Lincoln

The Dutch elm disease—fatal to elm trees—has been identified in Lincoln, Dr. Glenn W. Peterson of the U.S. Forest Service said Tuesday.

An elm tree northeast of Love Library on the University of Nebraska downtown campus was cut down Tuesday after Peterson made a test culture and discovered the tree afflicted with Dutch elm disease.

Petersen reported he is conducting additional tests on cultures from 5 trees in northeast Lincoln to find out if the disease has spread to other trees in the city.

Spread Possible

Peterson said the disease is now known to have stricken trees in 8 southeast Nebraska counties and may be found in several more before the end of the year.

He said the disease was found for the first time this year in Beatrice, Nemaha, Burchard and Dawson, but had been found before this year in Omaha, Falls City, Nebraska City and Hastings.

Richardson County is rampant with the Dutch elm disease, he said.

There is no cure for a tree once it is infected, he said. It must be cut down and burned, or it continues as a source of infection for other trees.

Dutch elm disease is caused by a fungus carried by the elm-bark beetle. It causes the leaves of a tree to dry, yellow, wilt and fall off. Infected trees can die within a few weeks or over a period of several years.

The disease, affecting only elm trees, is considered the most destructive shade tree disease in the United States.

Anyone having a tree with the disease's symptoms should contact City Forester Ken Thelen for positive identification through a culture test.

City officials have predicted that the Dutch elm disease would ultimately reach Lincoln and a tree-trimming program was begun some 6 years ago as an initial control measure.

Next possible control step is spraying for the elm-bark beetle that carries the disease from an infected tree to a healthy one.

Not Yet

However, Peterson said, spraying would have no merit at this time, but is useful for control of the disease during the dormant season—just before the tree leafs.

The elm-bark beetle has been present in Lincoln for several years. However, none have been identified previously as carriers.

Because there is no cure for the disease and only limited control measures, the city has been encouraging in recent years the planting of other tree species than elms.

The elm tree predominates in Lincoln and the disease—if it becomes widespread—could have serious consequences for the city's tree population.

$28.2 Million For Interstate Work Hoped

The State Highway Department hopes to place $28.2 million of work on the Interstate Highway under project agreement during July, August and September this year, State Engineer John Hossack said.

Hossack made the statement in a quarterly report to the Highway Advisory Commission.

In addition to Interstate work, the department will carry on with construction of the federal-aid primary and secondary systems.

He said the department is planning to let contracts on 110.9 miles of work on the primary system with funds totaling $10.1 million.

Secondary work will improve 61.5 miles of highway for $2.7 million, he said.

Interstate work, according to the report, will include parts of the highway in the Cozad, Gothenburg, Lincoln, Omaha, Alda, Gibbon, Seward, Kearney, Grand Island, Beaver Crossing, Lexington and Kearney areas.

Accident Brings Suit For $111,500

Carol Ann Janssen, administratrix of the estate of the late Raymond F. Deling, has filed a $111,500 damage suit in Lancaster District Court against Michael F. Powers in connection with the accident in which Mr. Deling was killed.

The plaintiff alleges negligence on the part of Powers when his car collided with one driven by Mrs. Deling in which Mr. Deling was a passenger last Aug. 30.

The accident occurred on U.S. 6-34 about two miles west of Atlanta.

Identical Leases Approved For Two Airport Operators

The Airport Authority Tuesday approved identical leases with two fixed base operators for the Lincoln Municipal Airport.

Memorandum agreements for the leases were executed with Duncan Aviation Inc. of Omaha and Lincoln Aviation Institute of Lincoln.

Formal 10-year leases will be signed about Jan. 1 when the new municipal runway and general aviation facilities adjoining Lincoln Air Force Base are expected to be completed and in operation.

Terms

Lease terms call for $20,000 annual rental on the large maintenance hangar, 4 cents per square foot ground rent (or approximately $2,664), and $11,700 annually for T-hangars as three 7-unit and two 9-unit structures.

Additionally, the operators will pay no percentage on the first $300,000 gross revenue, one per cent on the next $300,000; one and five-tenths per cent on the next $400,000, and two per cent over $1 million.

The lease terms were based on the high bid of Duncan. Lincoln Aviation, which made a lower proposal, was given the opportunity to sign at the same terms offered by Duncan. Lincoln Aviation is operated by Tom Umberger and Charles Haeseker.

Duncan Aviation is currently operating in Omaha and Cheyenne. Lincoln Aviation is now operating at Union Airport, which is being abandoned as a municipal field.

"First-Class'

Don Duncan said a "first-class operation is planned for Lincoln with approved maintenance and electronic shops."

"Lincoln should be able to draw the planes that are now going into Grand Island," he said.

One large maintenance hangar (leased to Duncan) is already under construction, but the authority approved construction of a second hangar by the Behlen Manufacturing Co. of Columbus at a firm option price of $226,431. The second maintenance hangar will be leased by Lincoln Aviation.

In other action, the board adopted a policy that no private hangars would be permitted on the Municipal Airport for a period of two years, at which time the policy will be reviewed again in light of operating experience.

Missing Briton In Soviet Union

Moscow (AP)—British mystery man Harold A. R. (Kim) Philby, missing since last January, has turned up in the Soviet Union and been given Soviet asylum and citizenship at his request, the Soviet government announced Tuesday.

A former British foreign office employe, the 51-year-old Philby disappeared last January from Beirut, Lebanon, where he was working as a reporter for the London Sunday Observer and The Weekly Economist.

To suggestions that he had skipped into the Soviet Union to join the defecting British diplomats Guy Burgess and Donald Maclean, who came to the Soviet Union in 1951, the official Soviet government newspaper Izvestia replied with ridicule earlier this year.

Inconspicuous

But Tuesday Izvestia carried on page 2 this inconspicuous announcement:

"British citizen H. A. R. Philby, who occupied a leading position in the British intelligence service, addressed the state authorities with a request for political asylum and the granting of Soviet citizenship

"It has been made known that the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) of the U.S.S.R. satisfied the request of H. A. R. Philby."

The announcement gave no details of when or how Philby applied for political refuge in Moscow.

In London a spokesman for the Foreign Office, where Philby worked until he was asked to resign in 1951, said it is unlikely the Foreign Office will have any comment.

Link Attempted

In Parliament, Laborites attempted to link Philby's disappearance with lapses in British security.

But the heat was suddenly taken off the case in mid-July by both Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Labor Party leader Harold Wilson, who agreed that it would not be in the national interest to air the case.

This led to published newspaper speculation that he was acting as a double agent, spying for both the East and West.

Philby was born in India, the son of the famed explorer of Araby—the late St. John Philby who became a Moslem, adopted the name Abdullah and visited Mecca in the 1930s. The son was regarded by British journalism as an expert on the Middle East.

Highly Regarded

Graying, handsome, quiet spoken—he talked with a pronounced stammer—he was highly regarded by the foreign news and diplomatic colony in Beirut. They nicknamed him Kim.

Arabs suspected he was a foreign agent, but they were sure he worked for the British, not the Russians.

His friends in Beirut treated his past as a closed book and rarely discussed his connection with the Burgess-Maclean case.

His first wife was believed to have been Hungarian. After their divorce he married Eleanor Brewer, a native of Seattle, Wash., and divorced wife of an American newsman.

Lived In Penthouse

The children of both marriages lived at Philby's penthouse apartment next to the Dutch and Indian embassies in Beirut.

Mrs. Philby returned to England after Philby's disappearance. Her whereabouts, supposedly in some secret hideaway, were never disclosed by the Foreign Office.

Philby was believed here to be staying at a Dacha, a summer home near Moscow, with his former foreign service associate, Burgess. Neither could be reached for comment.

Philby had been a close friend of both Burgess and Maclean.

Philby and Burgess worked in the same foreign service counterintelligence unit in World War II. They also had been friends at Cambridge University where Philby showed left-wing leanings, but gave no sign he was a communist.

Soon after Burgess and Maclean defected to Moscow on May 25, 1951, Philby was investigated on suspicion that he was the third man who tipped the two that they were in danger of arrest as Soviet spies.

He resigned by request his foreign service job in July 1951.

Philby then went to work for The Sunday Observer and The Economist of London in Beirut.

He vanished without a trace last January after phoning his wife to tell her to go along to a dinner party at the home of Hugh Balfour-Paul, first secretary of the British Embassy in Beirut.

SCHOOL WILL BE CLOSED— IT'S SINKING

Zeigler, Ill. (AP) — A high school building on top of an abandoned mine is still sinking too much to hold classes in it, school officials said Tuesday.

A slim hope that Zeigler-Royalton Consolidated High School would sit still long enough for student use has definitely faded away, officials decided.

Supt. William Ramsey said the school, which officials noticed Dec. 15 was sinking, has continued to settle this summer. Classes might have been held in the fall had the settling stopped for 30 days.

Ramsey said the building has settled 4 inches since Dec. 15

The building shows no sign of its distress. But officials said there is a danger to students from falling plaster.

White Protest Leader Loses Job, Offered Post On Negro Newspaper

Gary, Ind. (AP)—The president of a white protest group lost his job Tuesday because of segregationist activity, and immediately was offered employment by a Negro newspaper.

The job offer came as pickets from the recently formed National Association for the Advancement of White People started marching around a Catholic hospital which had agreed to a policy of non-discrimination.

George Staab, 29, president of the NAAWP's Gary branch, was fired when he reported to work as an advertising salesman for the suburban Herald newspapers. He said editor Leigh Plummer told him he was being discharged for NAAWP activities.

Father Of Two

Staab, father of two, did not indicate whether he would accept a job with Info, a new Negro weekly published in this northwestern Indiana steel center

Martha Williams, city editor of Info and one of 3 Negro reporters present while the whites picketed, offered Staab the job as he supervised the demonstrations.

About a dozen white men and women took turns carrying 4 placards with such slogans as:

"Equal rights for whites," and "65% of the people had no voice."

Agreement Protested

The NAAWP was protesting the agreement reached Monday between Mercy Hospital and several civil rights organizations. The agreement said the hospital would not practice discrimination in any form for reasons of race, creed, color or national origin.

Methodist Hospital agreed to similar terms Saturday after civil rights advocates protested Negro patients were separated from whites.

The NAAWP said demonstrations would continue from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. every day except Sunday until its representatives are allowed to sit in on discussions between the hospital and civil rights leaders.

However, the hospital and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People indicated talks were over.

NAAWP demonstrations brought out some onlookers but no flareups. One Negro reporter and a picket exchanged words. Gary is 39% Negro.

Venezuela Amendments Tone Down U.N. Resolution Aimed At Portugal

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—Venezuela submitted amendments Tuesday to water down an Asian-African resolution in the Security Council directing Portugal to set its African territories on the road to independence.

Diplomatic sources said the amendments were satisfactory to the sponsors and they predicted the resolution would win the necessary 7 votes when the 11-nation council meets Wednesday.

The amendments were worked out by Norway and the United States on one hand and the African nations on the other. A delay in arrival of instructions from Washington resulted in a last-minute decision to have Venezuela present them rather than Norway.

Impatience

The decision reflected an impatience among African delegates to dispose of the Portugal issue so that the council can turn its attention to the racial policies of South Africa. This may come Wednesday afternoon.

Sessions of the council on these two issues were requested by the 32 African members of the United Nations in the wake of the recent heads-of-state meeting of African nations in Addis Ababa.

The resolution on Portugal was not as harsh as the African states sought originally.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson took a leading role in getting agreement from the Africans to changes that would give the resolution a chance of approval.

Changes Listed

These were the important changes made in the resolution in the amendments submitted by Tulio Alvarado, the delegate from Venezuela:

1. Deletion of a paragraph which would have had the council declare the situation in the Portuguese territories is a threat to international peace and security; instead the resolution will say the situation is seriously "disturbing the peace and security in Africa."

2. The council would deprecate instead of condemn Portugal for refusal to abide by previous council and General Assembly resolutions dealing with the Portuguese territories.

3. All member nations would request rather than decide that a limited arms embargo be applied to Portugal so that it could not use arms against nationalists in its African territories of Angola, Portuguese Guinea, Mozambique and offshore African islands.

4. The council would direct Secretary-General U Thant to furnish assistance as he might deem necessary to gain implementation of the resolution, and to report back by next Oct. 31. The original resolution set Sept. 30 as a deadline.

Thone Cites Hruska To Biegert

Former State GOP Chairman Charles Thone of Lincoln Tuesday contended "Democratic National Committeewoman Maurine Biegert was simply not in accord with the record and the facts when she said, 'Sen. Roman Hruska is deliberately trying to escape the promise he made to Nebraska wheat growers to get a better wheat bill if they would vote no in the recent wheat referendum.' "

Hruska, a Republican whom Thone once served as administrative assistant, "Scrupulously avoided recommending either a 'no' or a 'yes' vote in the referendum,' Thone said.

Page 8357 of the Congressional Record shows Hruska making the following statement on the floor of the Senate on May 16:

"Mr. President, it is only a few days until the wheat farmers of this country ballot in a referendum to choose the kind of program they will have. Nobody knows at this time how that election will turn out. In any case, it is a decision for the wheat farmers themselves to make, not the big farm organizations, not the Department of Agriculture and not the Congress."

Earlier, on a radio broadcast in Nebraska, Thone quoted Hruska as saying:

"My purpose on this broadcast is not to tell the audience how to vote. On this score I agree with Secretary Orville Freeman's reprinted words, 'As secretary I would not presume to tell or even advise the farmer how to vote.'

"I approve those words. They make sense. I shall follow them."

Thone said Mrs. Biegert apparently misinterpreted Hruska's statement that "if the referendum failed, the overwhelming Democratic Congress should enact into law new legislation which was certain to be offered in both houses of Congress."

Democrats Did

Thone said several Democrats said they would offer such legislation and did so after the vote in which the farmers turned down the administration's program.

Noting that the Democrats have a large congressional majority—a 2 to 1 lead in the Senate and 3 to 2 in the House—Thone reiterated Hruska's recent observation that "it is time for the leaders of the Democratic Party to meet the farmer's problems with the same sense of urgency they have applied to the rail dispute and the civil rights issue."

LANCASTER DEMOS VIEW GOP AS ATTEMPTED BLACKMAILERS

The Lancaster County Democratic Central Committee has passed a resolution condemning "the announced witch-hunt at the University of Nebraska by the Young Republicans."

The statement released by County Chairman Donald Grant of Lincoln charged that "the Republican Party of Nebraska is attempting to blackmail the faculty of the university with threats of painting them pink if they don't join that political party."

It continued:

"First, State GOP Chairman Robert Denney announced that university professors would be asked to join the Republican Party. A week later the Young Republicans put 'Phase 2' of 'Operation Bad Guy' into effect by announcing that the so-called liberal professors would be investigated.

"This is a rather transparent threat. Either you conform totally to the preconceived ideology of the Republican Party or you become suspect and the target of investigation by the youth movement of the GOP."

The Lancaster County Democrats called for an immediate apology by both the state GOP and the Young Republicans to the faculty and administration of the university "for the smear," as they termed it.

GOP Teen-Age 'Camp' Plans Told

Dakota City (UPI)—The Nebraska Young Republican Federation Tuesday announced plans for a 4-day camp for teen-agers to provide backgrounding in current events, Republican philosophy and basic economics.

Jim Warner, Dakota City, chairman of the state Young GOP, said the camp would be held at Camp Kiwanis near Milford Aug. 26-29 under the direction of Mrs. Marilyn Hasselbalch of Lincoln.

Warner said the $15 registration fee would cover room and board. Speakers will include educators and businessmen from throughout Nebraska. The camp is open to young persons between the ages of 13 and 18

Warner said Mrs. Carol Walker of Lincoln would be in charge of the leadership school planned by the Young GOP for Sept. 7-8 at Grand Island. He said Dick Huber of Grand Island was in charge of local arrangements and Tom Dover of Norfolk was making program arrangements.

Thone Cites Hruska To Biegert

Former State GOP Chairman Charles Thone of Lincoln Tuesday contended "Democratic National Committeewoman Maurine Biegert was simply not in accord with the record and the facts when she said, 'Sen. Roman Hruska is deliberately trying to escape the promise he made to Nebraska wheat growers to get a better wheat bill if they would vote no in the recent wheat referendum.' "

Hruska, a Republican whom Thone once served as administrative assistant, "Scrupulously avoided recommending either a 'no' or a 'yes' vote in the referendum,' Thone said.

Page 8357 of the Congressional Record shows Hruska making the following statement on the floor of the Senate on May 16:

"Mr. President, it is only a few days until the wheat farmers of this country ballot in a referendum to choose the kind of program they will have. Nobody knows at this time how that election will turn out. In any case, it is a decision for the wheat farmers themselves to make, not the big farm organizations, not the Department of Agriculture and not the Congress."

Earlier, on a radio broadcast in Nebraska, Thone quoted Hruska as saying:

"My purpose on this broadcast is not to tell the audience how to vote. On this score I agree with Secretary Orville Freeman's reprinted words, 'As secretary I would not presume to tell or even advise the farmer how to vote.'

"I approve those words. They make sense. I shall follow them."

Thone said Mrs. Biegert apparently misinterpreted Hruska's statement that "if the referendum failed, the overwhelming Democratic Congress should enact into law new legislation which was certain to be offered in both houses of Congress."

Democrats Did

Thone said several Democrats said they would offer such legislation and did so after the vote in which the farmers turned down the administration's program.

Noting that the Democrats have a large congressional majority—a 2 to 1 lead in the Senate and 3 to 2 in the House—Thone reiterated Hruska's recent observation that "it is time for the leaders of the Democratic Party to meet the farmer's problems with the same sense of urgency they have applied to the rail dispute and the civil rights issue."

LANCASTER DEMOS VIEW GOP AS ATTEMPTED BLACKMAILERS

The Lancaster County Democratic Central Committee has passed a resolution condemning "the announced witch-hunt at the University of Nebraska by the Young Republicans."

The statement released by County Chairman Donald Grant of Lincoln charged that "the Republican Party of Nebraska is attempting to blackmail the faculty of the university with threats of painting them pink if they don't join that political party."

It continued:

"First, State GOP Chairman Robert Denney announced that university professors would be asked to join the Republican Party. A week later the Young Republicans put 'Phase 2' of 'Operation Bad Guy' into effect by announcing that the so-called liberal professors would be investigated.

"This is a rather transparent threat. Either you conform totally to the preconceived ideology of the Republican Party or you become suspect and the target of investigation by the youth movement of the GOP."

The Lancaster County Democrats called for an immediate apology by both the state GOP and the Young Republicans to the faculty and administration of the university "for the smear," as they termed it.

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

The American Santa, rotund and ruddy aboard his reindeer sleigh, evolved from the St. Nicholas of Dutch colonists in New York.

All mollusks bear a remarkable organ called a mantle, a kind of living skin or pad that secretes a limestone substance for the shell.

Tradition says the original Santa Claus was St Nicholas, a 4th Century bishop in Asia Minor who gave gifts to the young and poor.

About 665 informers helped the Internal Revenue Service collect $13,500,000 in taxes, penalties, and interest in fiscal 1962. Their average reward was $483.

Bumper to bumper, all the motor vehicles in the United States would stretch to the moon.

Arnold Shows No Pressure

. . . WON'T SLOW PACE

Displaying little of the pressure associated with the professional golf tour, Arnold Palmer Tuesday joked with newsmen—calling Jack Nicklaus an apprentice, admitting that he is considering organizing Arnie's Army, and laughing about reports that he is involved with too many activities

Palmer, in Lincoln for a golf exhibition with Gary Player at Hillcrest Country Club, also gave every indication that he thoroughly enjoys golf.

Palmer squelched any ideas that he may lessen his golf playing for other activities in Hollywood and to promote his personal line of golf equipment which will go on the market Nov. 1.

"Anything I do in Hollywood will be golf," he said. "I have no interests in Hollywood other than my television golf show."

Palmer's reference to Nicklaus as an apprentice concerned the fact that before a golfer is a full-fledged member of the Professional Golfers Association (PGA), he must play in 25 PGA tournaments—a goal that Nicklaus has not reached.

Lincoln can now consider itself as a battalion in Arnie's Army after the huge throng that charged around the Hillcrest course after the popular professional Tuesday.

But as yet, Arnie's Army is merely a number of unorganized battalions.

"They just seem to be wherever I go," Palmer explained, "I haven't got them organized, although I am considering it," he joked.

When asked if his performance recently in winning 3 of 5 tournaments hadn't silenced his critics who contended that his many activities were affecting his golf, Palmer replied:

"I really don't think about the criticisms. You fellas have to write about something and I'm quite happy that you have picked on me."

Palmer, who needs only to win the PGA tourney to score a grand slam in golf—the British Open, U.S. Open, Masters and PGA—indicated he may skip the British Open next year to concentrate on the PGA.

The PGA tourney normally follows right on the heals of the British Open.

Player then chimed in with the prediction that Palmer could win the PGA by skipping the British tourney.

"It would definitely help him (Palmer) to bypass the British Open," Player contended. "Just take this year. If the PGA had been one week later, Arnie would have won," Player pointed out, referring to the Western Open which Palmer won in a playoff Monday from Julius Boros and Jack Nicklaus.

Palmer said he has no new goals in mind for the future. "I still haven't accomplished all my original goals, so I can't be setting new ones," he explained.

Willies Pace SF To No. 9

San Francisco (AP) — Willie Mays slammed two doubles and a single and Willie McCovey blasted a 3-run homer Tuesday night in leading the San Francisco Giants to their 9th straight victory, 5-0 over Philadelphia.

Mays scored in the second and again in the 4th after doubling to open each inning. McCovey regained the NL lead in homers at 31.

A Golfer, Not A Mathemetician

Dick Safraneck may not win any mathematics scholarships at the present time but the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Safraneck of 3215 C Street certainly knows his golf capabilities.

The youngster, who isn't much bigger than his putter, finished the back 9 in the Lincoln City Junior Boys Golf Tournament Monday and after tallying his score, he approached Pioneers pro John Peterson with a perplexed look.

"I've figured it up and it comes to 55," Dick explained to the patient club pro who has been helping Lincoln's young golfers for many years. "But that can't be right because I can't play that well," he continued.

So Peterson, who had been rechecking scorecards for more than two hours but was still a picture of patience and understanding, added the youth's figures.

And the youngster was right. His card tallied 61 for the 9 holes.

A Pleasant Job

It is incidents such as this that makes the staffing of an event such as this just as pleasing as covering something involving the older folks.

It's a wonderful sight to see youngsters hardly big enough to pick up a golf bag come dragging in after 9 holes with clubs waving under their arms. And when they are told there is another 9 holes to play, there is a moan. But immediately the youthful exuberance takes over and they charge toward the tee with vigor.

Anyone who has doubts about the character of today's youth need only spend a day at the site of the junior jolf tournament to have all doubts removed.

Who Cares About Addition?

One of the bigger problems facing officials at a tournament such as this is the checking of addition on scorecards. Dick Safraneck's adding error was only one of a multitude made by the young golfers who are more interested in sinking a putt than in worrying about adding up the score.

Who cares about the addition. That will come later. Besides Arnold Palmer makes more money than most mathemeticians.

Just Like The National Open

As John Peterson points out, the youngsters involved in the junior tournament take it just as seriously as if it were the National Open.

These youngsters want to play the best possible golf they can and they are willing to listen to advice from a pro. In fact, many of them seek advice.

Take the case of Mike Manning, a 14-year-old who was disappointed with his 106 total for the opening round, and wasted little time in seeking some free advice from the veteran Pioneers pro.

Mike has a slice and, faced with the task of playing the Lincoln Country Club's narrow fairways the next day, he wanted a quick cure.

John listened attentively and gave the youth a few pointers from an "old pro" which seemed to relieve Mike's mind considerably.

Lincoln's golf course pros and operators are doing a great deal to boost the young golfers. And who knows, there may be an Arnold Palmer in the group.

Yanks Rally Topples A's

New York (AP)—John Blanchard returned to action after a 5-day bout with bronchitis and hit the first pitch for a tie-breaking single as the New York Yankees rallied for 4 runs in the 8th inning and beat the Kansas City Athletics, 6-2, Tuesday night.

Blanchard got his key hit against Moe Drabowsky after a single by Tom Tresh, a wild pitch and a walk to Elston Howard. His liner to right broke a 2-2 tie, and the Yanks poured in 3 more runs as the Kansas City defense collapsed. Clete Boyer bounced a bases-loaded single through a drawn-in infield for two more runs and the 6th scored on a wild pitch by reliever John Wyatt.

Knight Widens Gap In Junior Tourney

Dean Knight moved into a 5-stroke lead in the Lincoln City Junior Boys Golf Tournament Tuesday at the Lincoln Country Club as the second round of action was completed

Knight shot an 82 over the par 72 layout to go with his first-round leading 78 for the second day lead. His 160 total is 5 strokes ahead of Bart Dennis, who carded an 85 Tuesday after an opening round 80 at Pioneers.

The golfers will move over to Hillcrest Country Club today for the 3rd round of action. Today's 18 holes will wind up play for all flights below the championship class.

The 18 golfers in the championship flight will play another 18 holes at Pioneers Thursday to determine the winner.

Knight, Dennis and Dave Pardee were bunched within a stroke of each other after Monday's round, but after Tuesday's play at the Lincoln Country Club, Knight and Dennis appear to be the sole contenders.

Pardee blew to a 95 Tuesday after shooting a 79 in the first round. This 173 total for 36 holes put him in a 5th place tie with Scott Brunzell going into today's 3rd round.

Ed Roebuck Raps Alston

Los Angeles (AP)—A bitter Ed Roebuck flung a parting blast at Dodger Manager Walter Alston Tuesday as the veteran relief pitcher prepared to move to the Washington Senators.

Ball players usually wait a while before popping off when they're swapped to another club. But not Roebuck. He zeroed on Alston as soon as the Dodgers announced that he was going to Washington in exchange for infielder Marv Breeding.

"I'm sort of sad to leave," he began. "But in another way it's like getting out of prison—getting away from Alston."

The 32-year-old right-hander, known as a quiet type, sounded more hurt than angry as he said. "I think the Dodgers will win the pennant in spite of Alston."

Asked to explain his beef with the longtime Dodger pilot, Roebuck said it was just a case of poor treatment, adding:

"The first part of the year it was Roebuck every day. Then they didn't use me for two or three weeks—sort of sluffed me aside. And nobody said a word."

Roebuck suggested that either Alston or pitching coach Joe Becker might have said something to this effect: "Look, you did a job for us last year so just don't worry about it."

Mets Snap Road Losses At L.A. 5-1

Los Angeles (AP) — The New York Mets, on the threshold of breaking the all-time major league record for consecutive road losses, finally escaped the clutches of calamity Tuesday night by defeating the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers 5-1.

Right-hander Tracy Stallard, the winning pitcher when the Mets scored their last victory on the road June 15, stopped the Dodgers on 4 hits and let them get only two runners past first base.

The Mets had lost 22 in a row on the road, tying a record established by Pittsburgh in 1890. That record, coincidentally, had been around the same number of years as New York Manager Casey Stengel, who observed his 73rd birthday Tuesday.

The Mets had lost 10 straight on this trip and had an 11-game losing streak going back to their last appearance at home.

The Dodgers suffered their 7th loss in their last 10 games.

New York collected 14 hits off 4 Los Angeles pitchers. Jesse Gonder, Joe Hicks, Duke Carmel and Al Moran each singled in a run for the Mets and Frank Thomas hit a bases-empty homer.

The defeat trimmed the Dodgers' league lead to 3½ games over second-place San Francisco, 5-0 winner against Philadelphia.

The sand traps, rough and other golf course hazards had little activity at Hillcrest Country Club Tuesday as Arnold Palmer bested Gary Player by a two-stroke margin with a 4-under-par 68

The two top professionals avoided every sand trap on the 6,778-yard course and only on a couple of occasions did either have to play from the rough.

Palmer displayed none of the pressure which has been blamed for his slump of a few weeks ago. The leading money winner on the pro circuit this year appeared completely relaxed as he joked with the crowd, estimated at slightly more than 3,000.

Crowd Stays

The two golfers reached nearly every green with two shots and it was simply a matter of putting most of the way as the huge throng stayed with the golfers throughout the 18-hole match despite the hot, humid weather.

Palmer's 68 was accomplished via the help of 6 birdies that more than made up for the two bogeys. Player, the black-clad South African, also took two bogeys but could only collect 4 birdies.

One of the turning points in the match came on the 9th hole where Palmer carded a birdie 3 while Player took a bogey 5. This gave Palmer a 3-under-par 33 for the front 9 and a one-stroke lead.

Open With Birdies

The two players had started the match with birdies on the first two holes, then each parred the next 3 before Player took a one-stroke margin with a birdie on the 378-yard, par 4 No. 6.

Player maintained his one-stroke advantage until the 9th hole where he ran into trouble with his drive which landed among trees to the right of the fairway. His second shot was to the right of the green and it took him another shot to get on the green where he then two-putted from 9 feet.

Meanwhile Palmer had placed his second shot within 6 feet of the pin and he dropped the putt for the birdie 3 and the lead, which he never relinquished.

2-Stroke Lead

Palmer stretched the margin to two strokes with another birdie on No. 10, a 544-yard, par 5 hole. But he then took a bogey 4 on the next hole, a par 3, 157-yarder, to cut the margin to one stroke again.

The Latrobe, Pa., pro moved out to a 3-stroke margin by winning both the 14th and 15th holes. He parred No. 14 while Player took a bogey on the par 4, 334-yard hole.

An 18-foot putt on No. 15 gave Palmer a birdie 3 and a 3-stroke margin which was cut to the final two strokes when he took his second bogey of the match as he hit his second shot over the green and into the crowd on the 407-yard, par 4 No. 17.

Palmer's chip shot to the green barely reached the edge and he needed two putts to take a bogey 5.

Birdies At End

Both players finished the match just as they had started — with birdies. Each reached the 472-yard 18th green with two shots. Player then barely missed a 35-foot putt that would have given him an eagle. He then tapped in a one-footer for the birdie.

After Player sank his putt, Palmer thanked the crowd for their attendance and courtesy, then missed a 7-foot putt for an eagle as he pushed the ball 4 feet past the cup. He canned his second putt for a birdie also.

Area Tourney Games Delayed

Action in the Area 4 American Legion junior and midget baseball tourneys was postponed Tuesday night because of wet grounds

Beatrice had been scheduled to meet Lincoln Judd Bros. at 6 p.m. in the midget championship contest and Roberts and Optimists were to meet in a junior semifinal contest.

Tourney director Bob White reports that the games have been set back to tonight.

Arnold Shows No Pressure

. . . WON'T SLOW PACE

Displaying little of the pressure associated with the professional golf tour, Arnold Palmer Tuesday joked with newsmen—calling Jack Nicklaus an apprentice, admitting that he is considering organizing Arnie's Army, and laughing about reports that he is involved with too many activities.

Palmer, in Lincoln for a golf exhibition with Gary Player at Hillcrest Country Club, also gave every indication that he thoroughly enjoys golf.

Palmer squelched any ideas that he may lessen his golf playing for other activities in Hollywood and to promote his personal line of golf equipment which will go on the market Nov. 1.

"Anything I do in Hollywood will be golf," he said. "I have no interests in Hollywood other than my television golf show."

Palmer's reference to Nicklaus as an apprentice concerned the fact that before a golfer is a full-fledged member of the Professional Golfers Association (PGA), he must play in 25 PGA tournaments—a goal that Nicklaus has not reached.

Lincoln can now consider itself as a battalion in Arnie's Army after the huge throng that charged around the Hillcrest course after the popular professional Tuesday.

But as yet, Arnie's Army is merely a number of unorganized battalions.

"They just seem to be wherever I go," Palmer explained, "I haven't got them organized, although I am considering it," he joked.

When asked if his performance recently in winning 3 of 5 tournaments hadn't silenced his critics who contended that his many activities were affecting his golf, Palmer replied:

"I really don't think about the criticisms. You fellas have to write about something and I'm quite happy that you have picked on me."

Palmer, who needs only to win the PGA tourney to score a grand slam in golf—the British Open, U.S. Open, Masters and PGA—indicated he may skip the British Open next year to concentrate on the PGA.

The PGA tourney normally follows right on the heals of the British Open.

Player then chimed in with the prediction that Palmer could win the PGA by skipping the British tourney.

"It would definitely help him (Palmer) to bypass the British Open," Player contended. "Just take this year. If the PGA had been one week later, Arnie would have won," Player pointed out, referring to the Western Open which Palmer won in a playoff Monday from Julius Boros and Jack Nicklaus.

Palmer said he has no new goals in mind for the future. "I still haven't accomplished all my original goals, so I can't be setting new ones," he explained.

Yanks Rally Topples A's

New York (AP)—John Blanchard returned to action after a 5-day bout with bronchitis and hit the first pitch for a tie-breaking single as the New York Yankees rallied for 4 runs in the 8th inning and beat the Kansas City Athletics, 6-2, Tuesday night.

Blanchard got his key hit against Moe Drabowsky after a single by Tom Tresh, a wild pitch and a walk to Elston Howard. His liner to right broke a 2-2 tie, and the Yanks poured in 3 more runs as the Kansas City defense collapsed. Clete Boyer bounced a bases-loaded single through a drawn-in infield for two more runs and the 6th scored on a wild pitch by reliever John Wyatt.

Willies Pace SF To No. 9

San Francisco (AP) — Willie Mays slammed two doubles and a single and Willie McCovey blasted a 3-run homer Tuesday night in leading the San Francisco Giants to their 9th straight victory, 5-0 over Philadelphia.

Mays scored in the second and again in the 4th after doubling to open each inning. McCovey regained the NL lead in homers at 31.

A Golfer, Not A Mathemetician

Dick Safranek may not win any mathematics scholarships at the present time but the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Safranek of 3215 C Street certainly knows his golf capabilities.

The youngster, who isn't much bigger than his putter, finished the back 9 in the Lincoln City Junior Boys Golf Tournament Monday and after tallying his score, he approached Pioneers pro John Peterson with a perplexed look.

"I've figured it up and it comes to 55," Dick explained to the patient club pro who has been helping Lincoln's young golfers for many years. "But that can't be right because I can't play that well," he continued.

So Peterson, who had been rechecking scorecards for more than two hours but was still a picture of patience and understanding, added the youth's figures.

And the youngster was right. His card tallied 61 for the 9 holes.

A Pleasant Job

It is incidents such as this that makes the staffing of an event such as this just as pleasing as covering something involving the older folks.

It's a wonderful sight to see youngsters hardly big enough to pick up a golf bag come dragging in after 9 holes with clubs waving under their arms. And when they are told there is another 9 holes to play, there is a moan. But immediately the youthful exuberance takes over and they charge toward the tee with vigor.

Anyone who has doubts about the character of today's youth need only spend a day at the site of the junior jolf tournament to have all doubts removed.

Who Cares About Addition?

One of the bigger problems facing officials at a tournament such as this is the checking of addition on scorecards. Dick Safranek's adding error was only one of a multitude made by the young golfers who are more interested in sinking a putt than in worrying about adding up the score.

Who cares about the addition. That will come later. Besides Arnold Palmer makes more money than most mathemeticians.

Just Like The National Open

As John Peterson points out, the youngsters involved in the junior tournament take it just as seriously as if it were the National Open.

These youngsters want to play the best possible golf they can and they are willing to listen to advice from a pro. In fact, many of them seek advice.

Take the case of Mike Manning, a 14-year-old who was disappointed with his 106 total for the opening round, and wasted little time in seeking some free advice from the veteran Pioneers pro.

Mike has a slice and, faced with the task of playing the Lincoln Country Club's narrow fairways the next day, he wanted a quick cure.

John listened attentively and gave the youth a few pointers from an "old pro" which seemed to relieve Mike's mind considerably.

Lincoln's golf course pros and operators are doing a great deal to boost the young golfers. And who knows, there may be an Arnold Palmer in the group.

Knight Widens Gap In Junior Tourney

Dean Knight moved into a 5-stroke lead in the Lincoln City Junior Boys Golf Tournament Tuesday at the Lincoln Country Club as the second round of action was completed.

Knight shot an 82 over the par 72 layout to go with his first-round leading 78 for the second day lead. His 160 total is 5 strokes ahead of Bart Dennis, who carded an 85 Tuesday after an opening round 80 at Pioneers.

The golfers will move over to Hillcrest Country Club today for the 3rd round of action. Today's 18 holes will wind up play for all flights below the championship class.

The 18 golfers in the championship flight will play another 18 holes at Pioneers Thursday to determine the winner.

Knight, Dennis and Dave Pardee were bunched within a stroke of each other after Monday's round, but after Tuesday's play at the Lincoln Country Club, Knight and Dennis appear to be the sole contenders.

Pardee blew to a 95 Tuesday after shooting a 79 in the first round. This 173 total for 36 holes put him in a 5th place tie with Scott Brunzell going into today's 3rd round.

Ed Roebuck Raps Alston

Los Angeles (AP)—A bitter Ed Roebuck flung a parting blast at Dodger Manager Walter Alston Tuesday as the veteran relief pitcher prepared to move to the Washington Senators.

Ball players usually wait a while before popping off when they're swapped to another club. But not Roebuck. He zeroed on Alston as soon as the Dodgers announced that he was going to Washington in exchange for infielder Marv Breeding.

"I'm sort of sad to leave," he began. "But in another way it's like getting out of prison—getting away from Alston."

The 32-year-old right-hander, known as a quiet type, sounded more hurt than angry as he said, "I think the Dodgers will win the pennant in spite of Alston."

Asked to explain his beef with the longtime Dodger pilot, Roebuck said it was just a case of poor treatment, adding:

"The first part of the year it was Roebuck every day. Then they didn't use me for two or three weeks—sort of sluffed me aside. And nobody said a word."

Roebuck suggested that either Alston or pitching coach Joe Becker might have said something to this effect: "Look, you did a job for us last year so just don't worry about it."

Mets Snap Road Losses At L.A. 5-1

Los Angeles (AP) — The New York Mets, on the threshold of breaking the all-time major league record for consecutive road losses, finally escaped the clutches of calamity Tuesday night by defeating the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers 5-1.

Right-hander Tracy Stallard, the winning pitcher when the Mets scored their last victory on the road June 15, stopped the Dodgers on 4 hits and let them get only two runners past first base.

The Mets had lost 22 in a row on the road, tying a record established by Pittsburgh in 1890. That record, coincidentally, had been around the same number of years as New York Manager Casey Stengel, who observed his 73rd birthday Tuesday.

The Mets had lost 10 straight on this trip and had an 11-game losing streak going back to their last appearance at home.

The Dodgers suffered their 7th loss in their last 10 games.

New York collected 14 hits off 4 Los Angeles pitchers. Jesse Gonder, Joe Hicks, Duke Carmel and Al Moran each singled in a run for the Mets and Frank Thomas hit a bases-empty homer.

The defeat trimmed the Dodgers' league lead to 3½ games over second-place San Francisco, 5-0 winner against Philadelphia.

Arnie Relaxes In Capital City

. . . FIRES 68 AT HCC

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

The sand traps, rough and other golf course hazards had little activity at Hillcrest Country Club Tuesday as Arnold Palmer bested Gary Player by a two-stroke margin with a 4-under-par 68.

The two top professionals avoided every sand trap on the 6,778-yard course and only on a couple of occasions did either have to play from the rough.

Palmer displayed none of the pressure which has been blamed for his slump of a few weeks ago. The leading money winner on the pro circuit this year appeared completely relaxed as he joked with the crowd, estimated at slightly more than 3,000.

Crowd Stays

The two golfers reached nearly every green with two shots and it was simply a matter of putting most of the way as the huge throng stayed with the golfers throughout the 18-hole match despite the hot, humid weather.

Palmer's 68 was accomplished via the help of 6 birdies that more than made up for the two bogeys. Player, the black-clad South African, also took two bogeys but could only collect 4 birdies.

One of the turning points in the match came on the 9th hole where Palmer carded a birdie 3 while Player took a bogey 5. This gave Palmer a 3-under-par 33 for the front 9 and a one-stroke lead.

Open With Birdies

The two players had started the match with birdies on the first two holes, then each parred the next 3 before Player took a one-stroke margin with a birdie on the 378-yard, par 4 No. 6.

Player maintained his one-stroke advantage until the 9th hole where he ran into trouble with his drive which landed among trees to the right of the fairway. His second shot was to the right of the green and it took him another shot to get on the green where he then two-putted from 9 feet.

Meanwhile Palmer had placed his second shot within 6 feet of the pin and he dropped the putt for the birdie 3 and the lead, which he never relinquished.

2-Stroke Lead

Palmer stretched the margin to two strokes with another birdie on No. 10, a 544-yard, par 5 hole. But he then took a bogey 4 on the next hole, a par 3, 157-yarder, to cut the margin to one stroke again.

The Latrobe, Pa., pro moved out to a 3-stroke margin by winning both the 14th and 15th holes. He parred No. 14 while Player took a bogey on the par 4, 334-yard hole.

An 18-foot putt on No. 15 gave Palmer a birdie 3 and a 3-stroke margin which was cut to the final two strokes when he took his second bogey of the match as he hit his second shot over the green and into the crowd on the 407-yard, par 4 No. 17.

Palmer's chip shot to the green barely reached the edge and he needed two putts to take a bogey 5.

Birdies At End

Both players finished the match just as they had started — with birdies. Each reached the 472-yard 18th green with two shots. Player then barely missed a 35-foot putt that would have given him an eagle. He then tapped in a one-footer for the birdie.

After Player sank his putt, Palmer thanked the crowd for their attendance and courtesy, then missed a 7-foot putt for an eagle as he pushed the ball 4 feet past the cup. He canned his second putt for a birdie also.

Area Tourney Games Delayed

Action in the Area 4 American Legion junior and midget baseball tourneys was postponed Tuesday night because of wet grounds.

Beatrice had been scheduled to meet Lincoln Judd Bros. at 6 p.m. in the midget championship contest and Roberts and Optimists were to meet in a junior semifinal contest.

Tourney director Bob White reports that the games have been set back to tonight.

U.S. Women Fail Again

Brunswick, Germany (AP)— West Germany's women swept eight of 11 events Tuesday and trounced the touring American team, 71-45, in an international track and field meet.

It was the 3rd straight rout for the American girls who were beaten by the Russians and Poles at Moscow and Warsaw.

The only American victories were scored by Edith McGuire of Tennessee State in the 100 meter dash in 11.6 seconds; Willye White of Chicago in the broad jump, 20 feet, 9½ inches, and Elizaabeth Montgomery of Cleveland in the high jump, 5-7¼.

Although the visitors set American citizens' records in the 80-meter hurdles and 400 and 800 meter runs, the Germans won those races, finishing 1-2 in the hurdles. The Germans also swept the first two places in the discus, shot put and javelin.

The Germans were led by Olympian Jutta Heine, who finished second in the 100, won the 200, and anchored the winning 400 meter relay team which nipped the Americans in an almost dead heat. Each team was clocked in 45.595. The long-legged Germany beauty was timed in 11.7 in the 100 and 24.1 in the 200. Vivian Brown of Cleveland was second in the in 24.6.

Tamara Davis of Frederick, Md. set the American record of 11 seconds flat in the 80-meter hurdles in finishing 3rd behind Germany's Erika Fisch and Inge Schell, each timed in 10.8.

Suzanne Knott of Columbus, Ohio, was clocked in 56.3 in capturing second in the 400 behind Germany's Helga Henning, 54.6.

In the 800, Sandra Knott of Cleveland lowered the American citizens' standard to 2:09.7 in losing a close race to Germany's Anita Woerner, who was timed in 2:09.2.

Germany's Marlene Klein won two medals by winning the shot put with a throw of 51 feet, 5 inches and taking second in the discus behind her winning teammate Kriemhild Hausman. Miss Hausman tossed the plate 167 feet, ¾ inch.

Anneliese Gerhard of Germany won the javelin throw with 174-3.

2 World Records In Danger

Hannover, Germany (AP) — The United States track team, in high gear after a smashing victory over Poland last week, meets a well-balanced German squad Wednesday and Thursday with at least two world records in danger.

On form, the Americans may take 16 or 17 of the 21 events in this northern German industrial city of 600,000. Crowds of 30,000 are expected each day.

The program will be at the same as at Warsaw, with a 10,000-meter walk added.

Each country has two athletes in each event, with points scored on a 5-3-2-1 basis. Relays will be scored 5-2.

The American team is aiming to top the 130 point level. They beat Poland 125-83 in 20 events. There will be no women's event. The girls ran in Brunswick Tuesday night.

A world record is possible in the 400 meters where Arizona State's Henry Carr, winner at 200 meters in Moscow and Warsaw, will run.

Carr did the distance in the relay in Moscow in 44.8 seconds, one-tenth of a second below the world mark.

DeBUSSCHERE DUMPS NATS

Washington (AP) — Mike Hershberger's two-run single and 3-run homer by Jim Lemon powered the Chicago White Sox to a 5-1 victory over the Washington Senators Tuesday night.

The Senators threatened only in the 9th inning after young Dave DeBusschere was one out away from pitching his first shutout and first complete game in the majors. Singles by Chuch Cottier and Jim King plus an error by Nellie Fox on Chuck Hinton's grounder chased DeBusschere.

Jim Brosnan came on and struck out Larry Osborne to preserve DeBusschere's second victory against 4 defeats. He beat the Senators two weeks ago for his first big league victory.

Hunt's 10th-Inning Blow Boosts Angels

Cleveland (AP) — Ken Hunt singled across the clinching run in the 10th inning Tuesday night, giving the Los Angeles Angels their 5th straight victory, a 6-4 triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

Hunt stroked his tie-breaking hit off Ted Abernathy with two out in the top of the 10th after a double by Felix Torres and an intentional walk to Leon Wagner.

Wagner came in with an insurance run on a bad throw by Max Alvis, who tried to get Hunt at second base after the relay in from the outfield.

Jack Spring, the 4th Angel pitcher, was the winner.

Woodie Held's bases-loaded single off Dan Osinski, scored two runs in the 8th inning to knot the score 4-4 after the first run in that inning was knocked in by Joe Adcock with a single.

Kemling-Rees Combo Clicks

The P. M. Kemling and D. W. Rees entry reaped most of the rewards in the feature 7th race at the Fairgrounds Tuesday.

The winning half of the entry was Kem Gem, which fought off Red Eff in the stretch to win by a length in the $1,500 allowance race over the Lincoln Course. Busy Beam, the other half of the entry picked up show money.

The Kemling and Rees entry went off at 3-2 and returned $5, $2.80 and $3.60. Red Eff was a slight favorite at 7-5.

There were few surprises in Tuesday's 8-race program. Benson Road scored the lone long-shot triumph in the 4th race. Lewis Germany brought the 5-year-old home in front by a length and a half for a victory worth $35 on a win ticket.

Plenty Rough was the easiest winner of the afternoon, cruising to a 6-length triumph in the last race, a one mile run.

The daily double — Lancelaine and Miss Helen Ann— paid a slim $44.60.

No. 6 was a worthwhile bet in the opening races, winning 4 of the first 5 dashes over a track made heavy by Monday night's long-awaited rain.

Shrine Profiles

BOB GRANT

Bob Grant is one of a pair of Omaha Westside graduates on the South Shrine Bowl roster.

Grant

The 5-10½, 192-pound speedster will be bidding for a spot in the backfield.

He was a track and football letterman at Westside. He specialized in the dashes in track, ranking as one of the state's better sprinters.

His sports idol is Florida A&M sprint star Bob Hayes.

Captain of the Westside grid squad, he was born in Portland, Ore.

He'll be wearing No. 58 for the South team.

DICK PRESTON

Small-school product Dick Preston hopes to make it big with the North Shrine Bowl squad.

Preston

The Lyons center is his school's first Shrine Bowl representative.

The strapping farm boy is 5-10 and 195. He was a two-time all-Cornhusker Conference selection.

President of the student council and the FFA, he ranked 4th in his graduating class of 25. He was also editor of the school paper.

Former Nebraska gridder Dwain Carlson is his sports idol.

The Omaha-born lineman will be wearing No. 89 for the North team.

TOURNAMENT PAIRINGS SET

Ogallala (AP) — Eight teams will participate in the Nebraska Semi-pro Baseball Tournament opening Thursday at Wahoo, state baseball commissioner Walt Williams of Ogallala said Monday.

The teams entered are Wahoo, North Platee, Lincoln Moose, Lincoln Chiefs, Omaha Outlaws, Omaha Rubies, Offutt Air Force Base and Gretna Collegiates.

First round pairings include:

Thursday 8 p.m., Wahoo v. Lincoln Moose; Friday 8 p.m., Lincoln Chiefs v. Omaha Rubies; Saturday 5 p.m., Gretna v. Omaha Outlaws and Saturday 8 p.m., North Platte v. Offutt.

Kuhlman Joins Missouri Staff

Columbia, Mo. (AP) — Hank Kuhlman, former Missouri halfback, has been appointed as assistant football coach at the university.

He will work with freshman backs and assist with the varsity. Last year, as a graduate assistant, Kuhlman helped the freshman coach Harry Smith.

Luncheon Scheduled

Players and coaches of all past Shrine Bowl football games will be guests at a get-together luncheon in the Memorial Stadium indoor track arena during the noon hour of the Aug. 17 game.

Bob Reynolds and Bus Whitehead, Shrine Bowl athletic directors, are in charge of the event.

Bullpen Arouses Broglio

St. Louis (AP)—Ernie Broglio, demoted to the bullpen, held Cincinnati to one run in 6 1-3 innings of relief work Tuesday night and the St. Louis Cardinals fought back for a 7-5 victory over the Reds.

Broglio, 11-7 for the season, took over after Lew Burdette was bombed for 4 runs in the first inning. Broglio struck out 7.

Bobby Shantz rescued Broglio with two on and one out in the 8th.

Errors by Cincinnati shortstop Leo Cardenas resulted in two unearned runs.

Billy White hit a two-run homer, his 19th, and Charley James hit a solo homer for the Cardinals.

PITTSBURGH ENDS SLUMP

Houston (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates tagged Houston pitchers for 14 hits Tuesday night and breezed to an 8-1 romp over the Colts behind the steady pitching of left-hander Joe Gibbon.

Jim Pagliaroni triggered the scoring with his 8th homer of the season in the second inning off loser Hal Brown and banged a two-run single in the 5th against rookie Jim Dickson, making it 6-1.

Veteran Vic Wertz Leads Twins' Win

. . . RAPS KEY SINGLE

Boston (AP) — Veteran Vic Wertz delivered a bases loaded pinch single that ignited a 5-run 6th inning rally and gave Minnesota a 6-3 victory over Boston Tuesday night.

Wertz hit, a line drive barely fair down the 3rd baseline, came off reliever Jack Lamabe and tied the score, 3-3. Another run came in on a wild pitch and Don Mincher later singled for two more off Wilbur Wood.

The Red Sox, getting to Twins starter Jim Kaat early, had a 3-0 lead after 3 innings, but lost the sting in their bats afterward. Boston managed to hit only two balls out of the infield after the 3rd as Billy Dalley pitched the last 4 innings for Minnesota and picked up his 3rd victory against two losses.

Dalley gave up only a pair of singles and struck out 5.

The Twins collected 12 hits but had only one for extra bases. That was Johnny Goryl's double off Bob Turley in the 4th, scoring Earl Battey with Minnesota's first run of the game.

Orioles Rip Tigers, 9-0

Baltimore (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles buried the Detroit Tigers 9-0 under an avalanche of 18 hits Tuesday night, and pitcher Milt Pappas added insult to injury by stopping Detroit on 4 hits.

Brooks Robinson hit a two-run homer in the second inning off Tiger starter Hank Aguirre to start the rout. The Orioles 3rd baseman also collected two singles off reliever Bob Anderson and wound up with 4 runs batted in.

Al Smith, who had been out with a muscle pull in his back, banged out 4 hits in his return to the line-up. Joe Gaines had 3 hits and 3 other Orioles had two apiece.

Pappas struck out 5 and didn't allow a runner past second base as he hurled his second straight shutout and 4th of the season. It was the 9th complete game for Pappas, who upped his record to 10-5.

U.S. Women Fail Again

Brunswick, Germany (AP)—West Germany's women swept eight of 11 events Tuesday and trounced the touring American team, 71-45, in an international track and field meet.

It was the 3rd straight rout for the American girls who were beaten by the Russians and Poles at Moscow and Warsaw.

The only American victories were scored by Edith McGuire of Tennessee State in the 100 meter dash in 11.6 seconds; Willye White of Chicago in the broad jump, 20 feet, 9½ inches, and Elizaabeth Montgomery of Cleveland in the high jump, 5-7¼.

Although the visitors set American citizens' records in the 80-meter hurdles and 400 and 800 meter runs, the Germans won those races, finishing 1-2 in the hurdles. The Germans also swept the first two places in the discus, shot put and javelin.

The Germans were led by Olympian Jutta Heine, who finished second in the 100, won the 200, and anchored the winning 400 meter relay team which nipped the Americans in an almost dead heat. Each team was clocked in 45.595. The long-legged Germany beauty was timed in 11.7 in the 100 and 24.1 in the 200. Vivian Brown of Cleveland was second in the in 24.6.

Tamara Davis of Frederick, Md. set the American record of 11 seconds flat in the 80-meter hurdles in finishing 3rd behind Germany's Erika Fisch and Inge Schell, each timed in 10.8.

Suzanne Knott of Columbus, Ohio, was clocked in 56.3 in capturing second in the 400 behind Germany's Helga Henning, 54.6.

In the 800, Sandra Knott of Cleveland lowered the American citizens' standard to 2:09.7 in losing a close race to Germany's Anita Woerner, who was timed in 2:09.2.

Germany's Marlene Klein won two medals by winning the shot put with a throw of 51 feet, 5 inches and taking second in the discus behind her winning teammate Kriemhild Hausman. Miss Hausman tossed the plate 167 feet, ¾ inch.

Anneliese Gerhard of Germany won the javelin throw with 174-3.

2 World Records In Danger

Hannover, Germany (AP) — The United States track team, in high gear after a smashing victory over Poland last week, meets a well-balanced German squad Wednesday and Thursday with at least two world records in danger.

On form, the Americans may take 16 or 17 of the 21 events in this northern German industrial city of 600,000. Crowds of 30,000 are expected each day.

The program will be at the same as at Warsaw, with a 10,000-meter walk added.

Each country has two athletes in each event, with points scored on a 5-3-2-1 basis. Relays will be scored 5-2.

The American team is aiming to top the 130 point level. They beat Poland 125-83 in 20 events. There will be no women's event. The girls ran in Brunswick Tuesday night.

A world record is possible in the 400 meters where Arizona State's Henry Carr, winner at 200 meters in Moscow and Warsaw, will run.

DeBUSSCHERE DUMPS NATS

Washington (AP) — Mike Hershberger's two-run single and 3-run homer by Jim Lemon powered the Chicago White Sox to a 5-1 victory over the Washington Senators Tuesday night.

The Senators threatened only in the 9th inning after young Dave DeBusschere was one out away from pitching his first shutout and first complete game in the majors. Singles by Chuch Cottier and Jim King plus an error by Nellie Fox on Chuck Hinton's grounder chased DeBusschere.

Jim Brosnan came on and struck out Larry Osborne to preserve DeBusschere's second victory against 4 defeats. He beat the Senators two weeks ago for his first big league victory.

—5TH STRAIGHT WIN—

Hunt's 10th-Inning Blow Boosts Angels

Cleveland (AP) — Ken Hunt singled across the clinching run in the 10th inning Tuesday night, giving the Los Angeles Angels their 5th straight victory, a 6-4 triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

Hunt stroked his tie-breaking hit off Ted Abernathy with two out in the top of the 10th after a double by Felix Torres and an intentional walk to Leon Wagner.

Wagner came in with an insurance run on a bad throw by Max Alvis, who tried to get Hunt at second base after the relay in from the outfield.

Jack Spring, the 4th Angel pitcher, was the winner.

Woodie Held's bases-loaded single off Dan Osinski, scored two runs in the 8th inning to knot the score 4-4 after the first run in that inning was knocked in by Joe Adcock with a single.

Kemling-Rees Combo Clicks

The P. M. Kemling and D. W. Rees entry reaped most of the rewards in the feature 7th race at the Fairgrounds Tuesday.

The winning half of the entry was Kem Gem, which fought off Red Eff in the stretch to win by a length in the $1,500 allowance race over the Lincoln Course. Busy Beam, the other half of the entry picked up show money.

The Kemling and Rees entry went off at 3-2 and returned $5, $2.80 and $3.60. Red Eff was a slight favorite at 7-5.

There were few surprises in Tuesday's 8-race program. Benson Road scored the lone long-shot triumph in the 4th race. Lewis Germany brought the 5-year-old home in front by a length and a half for a victory worth $35 on a win ticket.

Plenty Rough was the easiest winner of the afternoon, cruising to a 6-length triumph in the last race, a one mile run.

The daily double — Lancelaine and Miss Helen Ann—paid a slim $44.60.

No. 6 was a worthwhile bet in the opening races, winning 4 of the first 5 dashes over a track made heavy by Monday night's long-awaited rain.

BOB GRANT

Bob Grant is one of a pair of Omaha Westside graduates on the South Shrine Bowl roster.

Grant

The 5-10½, 192-pound speedster will be bidding for a spot in the backfield.

He was a track and football letterman at Westside. He specialized in the dashes in track, ranking as one of the state's better sprinters.

His sports idol is Florida A&M sprint star Bob Hayes.

Captain of the Westside grid squad, he was born in Portland, Ore.

He'll be wearing No. 58 for the South team.

DICK PRESTON

Small-school product Dick Preston hopes to make it big with the North Shrine Bowl squad.

The Lyons center is his school's first Shrine Bowl representative.

Preston

The strapping farm boy is 5-10 and 195. He was a two-time all-Cornhusker Conference selection.

President of the student council and the FFA, he ranked 4th in his graduating class of 25. He was also editor of the school paper.

Former Nebraska gridder Dwain Carlson is his sports idol.

The Omaha-born lineman will be wearing No. 89 for the North team.

Kuhlman Joins Missouri Staff

Columbia, Mo. (AP) — Hank Kuhlman, former Missouri halfback, has been appointed as assistant football coach at the university.

He will work with freshman backs and assist with the varsity. Last year, as a graduate assistant, Kuhlman helped the freshman coach Harry Smith.

Luncheon Scheduled

Players and coaches of all past Shrine Bowl football games will be guests at a get-together luncheon in the Memorial Stadium indoor track arena during the noon hour of the Aug. 17 game.

Bob Reynolds and Bus Whitehead, Shrine Bowl athletic directors, are in charge of the event.

TOURNAMENT PAIRINGS SET

Ogallala (AP) — Eight teams will participate in the Nebraska Semi-pro Baseball Tournament opening Thursday at Wahoo, state baseball commissioner Walt Williams of Ogallala said Monday.

The teams entered are Wahoo, North Platee, Lincoln Moose, Lincoln Chiefs, Omaha Outlaws, Omaha Rubies, Offutt Air Force Base and Gretna Collegiates.

First round pairings include:

Thursday 8 p.m., Wahoo v. Lincoln Moose; Friday 8 p.m., Lincoln Chiefs v. Omaha Rubies; Saturday 5 p.m., Gretna v. Omaha Outlaws and Saturday 8 p.m., North Platte v. Offutt.

Phils' Mahaffey Injures Ankle

San Francisco (AP)—Philadelphia pitcher Art Mahaffew suffered a freak injury when he caught his foot on the pitching rubber and apparently severely injured his ankle.

Bullpen Arouses Broglio

St. Louis (AP)—Ernie Broglio, demoted to the bullpen, held Cincinnati to one run in 6 1-3 innings of relief work Tuesday night and the St. Louis Cardinals fought back for a 7-5 victory over the Reds.

Broglio, 11-7 for the season, took over after Lew Burdette was bombed for 4 runs in the first inning. Broglio struck out 7.

Bobby Shantz rescued Broglio with two on and one out in the 8th.

Errors by Cincinnati shortstop Leo Cardenas resulted in two unearned runs.

Billy White hit a two-run homer, his 19th, and Charley James hit a solo homer for the Cardinals.

PITTSBURGH ENDS SLUMP

Houston (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates tagged Houston pitchers for 14 hits Tuesday night and breezed to an 8-1 romp over the Colts behind the steady pitching of left-hander Joe Gibbon.

Jim Pagliaroni triggered the scoring with his 8th homer of the season in the second inning off loser Hal Brown and banged a two-run single in the 5th against rookie Jim Dickson, making it 6-1.

Veteran Vic Wertz Leads Twins' Win

. . . RAPS KEY SINGLE

Boston (AP) — Veteran Vic Wertz delivered a bases-loaded pinch single that ignited a 5-run 6th inning rally and gave Minnesota a 6-3 victory over Boston Tuesday night.

Wertz hit, a line drive barely fair down the 3rd baseline, came off reliever Jack Lamabe and tied the score, 3-3. Another run came in on a wild pitch and Don Mincher later singled for two more off Wilbur Wood.

The Red Sox, getting to Twins starter Jim Kaat early, had a 3-0 lead after 3 innings, but lost the sting in their bats afterward. Boston managed to hit only two balls out of the infield after the 3rd as Billy Dailey pitched the last 4 innings for Minnesota and picked up his 3rd victory against two losses.

Dailey gave up only a pair of singles and struck out 5.

The Twins collected 12 hits but had only one for extra bases. That was Johnny Goryl's double off Bob Turley in the 4th, scoring Earl Battey with Minnesota's first run of the game.

Orioles Rip Tigers, 9-0

Baltimore (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles buried the Detroit Tigers 9-0 under an avalanche of 18 hits Tuesday night, and pitcher Milt Pappas added insult to injury by stopping Detroit on 4 hits.

Brooks Robinson hit a two-run homer in the second inning off Tiger starter Hank Aguirre to start the rout. The Orioles 3rd baseman also collected two singles off reliever Bob Anderson and wound up with 4 runs batted in.

Al Smith, who had been out with a muscle pull in his back, banged out 4 hits in his return to the line-up. Joe Gaines had 3 hits and 3 other Orioles had two apiece.

Pappas struck out 5 and didn't allow a runner past second base as he hurled his second straight shutout and 4th of the season. It was the 9th complete game for Pappas, who upped his record to 10-5.

The Annual Elks-City Recreation Summer Tennis Tournament being held now at the Lincoln Tennis Club and Southeast High School tennis courts, marks the end of an 8-week period of instruction for the participants

The tourney is limited to players who have been participating in the Elks-Summer Tennis Instructional Program this summer for boys and girls 10-17 years of age.

Stressed in the program, according to instructor Jerry Trimble, are the fundamentals of tennis and the stroke.

Trimble, who began working in 1957 when he was the athletic supervisor at the Southwest Community Center, feels that tennis is important for everyone to learn because it is a "carry-over activity".

He explains "Tennis is a game that, unlike other sports such as football, can be played as long as a player has the strength to get to the courts".

"In other athletics, the player's participation ends upon high school graduation, with the exception of those few participants who go on to college or professional athletics."

Trimble has good credentials as a coach in the world of sports. After his stint at the Southwest Community Center, he came to Southeast High School where he now serves as a biology teacher and head net coach.

Upon his arrival at Southeast in 1959, he became mentor of the freshman football squad. Later he served as assistant gymnastics coach under Art Hillman and now devotes most of his coaching ingenuity to his tennis chores.

Due to yesterday's rainy weather, the mixed doubles competition scheduled for today will be held tomorrow at Southeast. Some matches will be played at the Lincoln Tennis Club if the weather permits.

The doubles matches originally slated for Tuesday will be played today. All matches will be played at Southeast.

Times for the mixed doubles competition will be assigned by Trimble or the tournament director at LTC.

Hastings Pulls Even

Grand Island (UPI)—Hastings went 10 innings to defeat Grand Island 9-4 in Area 5 American Legion Junior baseball Tuesday night.

Hastings will play Grand Island again tonight to decide the championship.

Each team now has one loss on its record.

Tourney Delayed

Columbus (UPI)—The area Midget and Junior Legion baseball games were rained out here Tuesday night.

The Blair Midgets will play Bellevue tonight at 5:30 p m. in Junior Legion play, Norfolk will meet Columbus at 8 p m.

Cipriano Adds Pair Of Cagers

Nebraska Basketball coach Jie Cipriano reported Tuesday the signing of two more outstanding cagers to University of Nebraska letters of intent.

Harold Cebrun, a 6-foot guard from Houston, Tex., is a graduate of Moberly, Mo., Junior College and will be eligible for the 1963-64 season, Cipriano said.

Cebrun was named all conference in 1962 and 1963 as the Moberly team placed 3rd and second in the National Junior College Tournament.

Cipriano also said Charlie Stone, 6-9 prep star from Oakland, Calif., has signed a Husker letter of intent.

Stone will join the Husker freshman team this fall.

Women's Golf Begins Today

The women's 3-day stroke-play golf tournament at the Lincoln Country Club will start today, professional Bud Williamson has announced.

Players in both the 9-hole and 18-hole divisions will make up their own groups for today's play, Williamson said. The 9-hole entrants will play the second nine, the 18-hole contestants starting on the first tee.

On Thursday and Friday, the tournament leaders will be paired according to score and times will be assigned to them.

Milwaukee Routs Cubs

Milwaukee (AP)—Home runs by Lee Maye, Eddie Mathews and Denis Menke sparked an early assault which gave the Milwaukee Braves a 9-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs Tuesday night.

Hank Fisher held the Cubs to 6 hits, including Steve Boros' first National League homer.

The Braves drove former teammate Bob Buhl out of the box before a man was retired in the 3rd inning and continued their attack against Glen Hobbie, who went the rest of the way.

Buhl gave up two runs in the second, with the first of two doubles by Gene Oliver the key blow, and served successive home runs to Maye and Mathews in the 3rd.

Then Hobbie took over and gave up a 3-run homer to Menke, plus single runs in the 4th and 7th.

Sukarno, Rahman Join Unity Pledge

Manila, Philippines (AP) — President Sukarno of Indonesia and Malaya's Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman joined Tuesday night in pledges to work for Malayan unity.

They revived hope the 3-nation summit meeting with the Philippines may lesson tension in Southeast Asia.

The pledges were made at a state dinner in honor of the visitors at Malacanang Palace.

Conciliatory Attitude

Sukarno, who vowed to wreck formation of the Federation of Malaysia before he came here, adopted a conciliatory attitude on the eve of the first working session of the summit conference Wednesday.

Rahman, who had ruled out any postponement of federating Malaysia, also seemed more cooperative toward achieving Malayan unity.

Malaysia, a federation comprising Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak and North Borneo, is to be launched Aug. 31.

Sukarno wants a referendum for the people in the Borneo territories to decide whether they want to join Malaysia.

Sukarno earlier had threatened to unleash his Soviet-equipped armed forces to thwart Malaysia if the people in the Borneo territories adjoining Indonesian Borneo are not given a choice to self-determination.

Contradicted Threat

The seemingly conciliatory tone of both contradicted a war-like threat in Jakarta.

The Indonesia government-controlled Antara News Agency reported that Indonesia's defense minister General Abdul Haris Nasution has called on the people of Borneo to be prepared for general mobilization in efforts to frustrate Malaysia.

Coupled with Nasution's threat, the Indonesian navy announced that its maneuvers in the Malacca Strait and the South China Sea are continuing under "combat alarm conditions."

A warning came from Singapore that Britain would help defend Malaya if the need arises.

The statement was made by the British High Commissioner to Malaya, Sir Geofrey Tory.

Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal, in his remarks at the opening session of the summit, appealed to Sukarno and Rahman to work out their differences for the sake of unity, stability and peace in Southeast Asia.

Canadian Family Selected State's Honor Tourists

A Canadian family this week was selected Nebraska's honor tourists and presented a certificate in the Nebraskaland Cowpunchers' Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Zeigler and their 4 children Tuesday were en route from Montreal, Quebec, to Colorado Springs, stopping in Lincoln to visit an old friend, Bill Splichal.

They were honored as overnight guests of the city in a random selection of a typical tourist.

Zeigler writes, coproduces and acts on the "Johnny Jellybean" children's television show shown over a Canadian network.

Gen. Hurley, Former U.S. Envoy, Dies

Santa Fe, N.M. (AP) — Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, former ambassador to China, died here Tuesday night. He was 80.

Hurley was Secretary of War from 1929-1933 under President Hoover and was ambassador to China under President Franklin D. Roosevelt from 1944-1945.

Hurley became a major general in 1943 after 41 years of military service which began with the Indian territory volunteer cavalry in 1902.

After his resignation as ambassador to China, Hurley returned to his Santa Fe home in 1946 and made the first of his 3 vain attempts to win a seat in the U.S. Senate.

A self-made rich man, Hurley lived rather quietly here after his 3 crushing defeats to win the thing he wanted most.

He popped back into prominence in 1962 when the government released his controversial China papers of 1943. Following the release, Hurley repeated his charges of the past that the Yalta agreement served as the blueprint for the Communist conquest of China.

U.S. Tax Take From Nebraska Climbs To High

Omaha (AP) — Federal tax collections in Nebraska for the year ended June 30 reached an all-time high of $644,500,547, District Director Richard P. Vinal of the Internal Revenue Service reported Tuesday.

This is an increase of $31,167,909 over the 1962 total of $613,322,000.

Of this amount individual income taxes amounted to $439,885,467, an increase of $16,512,176 over the 1962 total.

Corporation income tax totaled $104,107,314, or $6,247,804 over last year. Excise tax collections were up $1,985,379 to $55,868,619. Estate and gift tax collections were up $2,577,766 to $15,104,547.

COUNTY BUDGET PUBLIC HEARING IS WEDNESDAY

Lancaster County commissioners will hold a public hearing at 10 a m. Wednesday on the proposed 1963-64 county budget.

County officials have submitted their requests to the commissioners, who must set the mill levy and adopt the budget before next Tuesday.

Although there are no unusual requests except the recent flood damage repair work, increased office costs and salaries may force a rise from the present 4.5 mill levy.

Laymen's League Names St. Louis, Pittsburgh Men

Chicago (AP) — William Driemeier of Pittsburgh was elected secretary and Norman Heitner of St. Louis was chosen treasurer of the Lutheran Laymen's League Tuesday.

Delegates to the league's 46th annual convention also named members of the Board of Governors from 8 regions, including Wendell Grauer of Marcus, Iowa.

The delegates selected Boston for the 1963 convention. Next year the convention will be in Lincoln, Neb.

-CHICK WAR-

Europe Will Not Cut Duty

Brussels (AP)—Western Europe's common market Tuesday turned down American pleas to lower the customs duty on poultry. This turn in "the chicken war" is widely regarded in the United States as a tip-off to the European attitude toward vital American farm exports, and U.S. reprisals are predicted.

The refusal came after hours of debate among foreign ministers and their representatives from the 6 Common Market countries—France, West Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg.

They have had the issue before them for 4 months, and American officials were saying that this is long enough.

Italian Bored

One Italian delegate, bored because his country neither imports nor exports much chicken, told newsmen in the corridor of the Palais des Congres:

"It's like a football game in there — a football game without a ball."

It was expected that within a week the United States would counter by raising its own tariff against some Common Market product. The problem is to find a product of comparable importance—about $50 million worth of trade a year.

Spectacular

American officials would also like to make the reprisal spectacular, to bring home the importance of the issue to Europeans. European trade experts tend to treat the "chicken war" as something of a joke.

American experts fear that what has happened to chicken exports over the past year may happen next year to $1.2 billion worth of American farm exports to Europe.

Bowen Slaps At Governor's 'Late' Interest

Sen. Kenneth L. Bowen of Red Cloud Tuesday rapped Gov. Frank Morrison for taking a "too-little-too-late" interest in state spending.

Bowen, sponsor of the ill-fated state income tax bill of the 73rd Legislature, made the statement while commenting on the increase in the state's property tax levy as set by the Board of Equalization Monday.

The board boosted the levy 1.365 mills from its previous 8.43 mills.

"The state mill levy is about what many of us thought—up about 30% in over-all state spending," Bowen said.

"We collected $10.5 million in cigaret, liquor, insurance taxes and pari-mutuel betting, $2 million in head tax and $900,000 on driver licenses, which is equal to better than a two mill increase even though it is a tax on special commodities and services. An increase of 1.36 mills adds up to better than 3.5 mills, had we placed it all on property."

The Red Cloud lawmaker declared, "It can now be said that the functional budget was fiction, since no one knew what was going on."

He added: "I feel the governor's interest is too little and too late, something like closing the barn door after the horse is stolen. As the executive head of our state, he should have spent considerable time reviewing the budget and assisting the Legislature in knowing how much of an increase the taxpayers' burden would be."

Morrison opposed Bowen's state income tax proposal.

Democrat Elected To House

Bethlehem, Pa. (AP) — Democrat Fred B. Rooney, 37-year-old state senator and protege of the late U.S. Rep. Francis Walter, was chosen Tuesday to fill Walter's unexpired term in a special election which saw a surprisingly heavy voter turnout in Pennsylvania's 15th Congressional District.

Rooney defeated Republican Robert G. Bartlett, a 31-year-old personnel executive with Bethlehem Steel Co.

With all of the district's 240 precincts reported, Rooney's unofficial total was 48,687 to Bartlett's 42,174.

More than 60% of the registered voters went to the polls, surprising most political observers who looked for little interest because of the midsummer scheduling of the election.

It was the first time in 3 special elections this year that a Democrat won. The Democratic National Committee, which sent representatives to help Rooney, was especially anxious to win because of the losses in the two other elections and because of Walter's long tenure.

Sukarno, Rahman Join Unity Pledge

Manila, Philippines (AP) — President Sukarno of Indonesia and Malaya's Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman joined Tuesday night in pledges to work for Malayan unity.

They revived hope the 3-nation summit meeting with the Philippines may lesson tension in Southeast Asia.

The pledges were made at a state dinner in honor of the visitors at Malacanang Palace.

Conciliatory Attitude

Sukarno, who vowed to wreck formation of the Federation of Malaysia before he came here, adopted a conciliatory attitude on the eve of the first working session of the summit conference Wednesday.

Rahman, who had ruled out any postponement of federating Malaysia, also seemed more cooperative toward achieving Malayan unity.

Malaysia, a federation comprising Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak and North Borneo, is to be launched Aug. 31.

Sukarno wants a referendum for the people in the Borneo territories to decide whether they want to join Malaysia.

Sukarno earlier had threatened to unleash his Soviet-equipped armed forces to thwart Malaysia if the people in the Borneo territories adjoining Indonesian Borneo are not given a choice to self-determination.

Contradicted Threat

The seemingly conciliatory tone of both contradicted a war-like threat in Jakarta.

The Indonesia government-controlled Antara News Agency reported that Indonesia's defense minister General Abdul Haris Nasution has called on the people of Borneo to be prepared for general mobilization in efforts to frustrate Malaysia.

Coupled with Nasution's threat, the Indonesian navy announced that its maneuvers in the Malacca Strait and the South China Sea are continuing under "combat alarm conditions."

A warning came from Singapore that Britain would help defend Malaya if the need arises.

The statement was made by the British High Commissioner to Malaya, Sir Geofrey Tory.

Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal, in his remarks at the opening session of the summit, appealed to Sukarno and Rahman to work out their differences for the sake of unity, stability and peace in Southeast Asia.

Canadian Family Selected State's Honor Tourists

A Canadian family this week was selected Nebraska's honor tourists and presented a certificate in the Nebraskaland Cowpunchers' Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Zeigler and their 4 children Tuesday were en route from Montreal, Quebec, to Colorado Springs, stopping in Lincoln to visit an old friend, Bill Splichal.

They were honored as overnight guests of the city in a random selection of a typical tourist.

Zeigler writes, coproduces and acts on the "Johnny Jellybean" children's television show shown over a Canadian network.

CRANE FALLS, CRUSHES AUTO

When this 20-ton crane rig lost its balance while lifting a two-ton load of plate glass, it crashed onto this auto in Miami, Fla. Luckily no one was in the way and the operator of the crane was not seriously hurt.

Gen. Hurley, Former U.S. Envoy, Dies

Santa Fe, N.M. (AP) — Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, former ambassador to China, died here Tuesday night. He was 80.

Hurley was Secretary of War from 1929-1933 under President Hoover and was ambassador to China under President Franklin D. Roosevelt from 1944-1945.

Hurley became a major general in 1943 after 41 years of military service which began with the Indian territory volunteer cavalry in 1902.

After his resignation as ambassador to China, Hurley returned to his Santa Fe home in 1946 and made the first of his 3 vain attempts to win a seat in the U.S. Senate.

A self-made rich man, Hurley lived rather quietly here after his 3 crushing defeats to win the thing he wanted most.

He popped back into prominence in 1962 when the government released his controversial China papers of 1943. Following the release, Hurley repeated his charges of the past that the Yalta agreement served as the blueprint for the Communist conquest of China.

U.S. Tax Take From Nebraska Climbs To High

Omaha (AP) — Federal tax collections in Nebraska for the year ended June 30 reached an all-time high of $644,500,547, District Director Richard P. Vinal of the Internal Revenue Service reported Tuesday.

This is an increase of $31,167,909 over the 1962 total of $613,322,000.

Of this amount individual income taxes amounted to $439,885,467, an increase of $16,512,176 over the 1962 total.

Corporation income tax totaled $104,107,314, or $6,247,804 over last year. Excise tax collections were up $1,985,379 to $55,868,619. Estate and gift tax collections were up $2,577,766 to $15,104,547.

COUNTY BUDGET PUBLIC HEARING IS WEDNESDAY

Lancaster County commissioners will hold a public hearing at 10 a.m. Wednesday on the proposed 1963-64 county budget.

County officials have submitted their requests to the commissioners, who must set the mill levy and adopt the budget before next Tuesday.

Although there are no unusual requests except the recent flood damage repair work, increased office costs and salaries may force a rise from the present 4.5 mill levy.

Laymen's League Names St. Louis, Pittsburgh Men

Chicago (AP) — William Driemeier of Pittsburgh was elected secretary and Norman Heitner of St. Louis was chosen treasurer of the Lutheran Laymen's League Tuesday.

Delegates to the league's 46th annual convention also named members of the Board of Governors from 8 regions, including Wendell Grauer of Marcus, Iowa.

The delegates selected Boston for the 1963 convention. Next year the convention will be in Lincoln, Neb.

Stock Market Posts Gains

New York (AP) — Encouraged by strong corporate earnings reports, the stock market rang up a sharp advance Tuesday.

It was the third consecutive gaining session.

Brokers said the market also got a psychological lift when the Dow Jones industrial average broke a string of 14 Monday declines.

Prices were higher at the opening and continued to rise in moderate trading throughout the session. A flurry of heavy trading near the close pushed prices to their best levels.

Motors, rubbers, aircrafts, non-ferrous metals, chemicals, rails and oils advanced. Steels, utilities and airlines were mixed.

General Motors, basking under a report of its highest earnings in the second quarter and the first half, gained 2 at 71⅛.

American Viscose reached a new 1963 high as the U.S. Court of Appeals in San Francisco ruled in effect that its proposed merger with FM Corp. could proceed. A short time later the court granted the Justice Department a stay of the order until Monday.

The Dow Jones averages of 30 industrials climbed 5.71 to 696.42.

The Associated Press 60-stock average advanced 1.8 to 267.5 with industrials up 2.7, rails up 1.3 and utilities up .5. Based on the action of this average, an estimated $2.5 billion was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Of 1,268 issues traded, 690 rose and 310 fell. There were 37 new 1963 highs and 29 new lows.

Volume expanded to 3.53 million shares from 2.81 million Monday.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange. Volume rose to 1.14 million shares from 1.07 million Monday.

Corporate and government bonds were mixed.

Wheat Futures Continue Gains At Slower Pace

Chicago (AP)—Wheat futures extended their gains but at a slower pace while other commodities on the Board of Trade sold mostly lower Tuesday on rather persistent liquidation.

Wheat turned toward firmness after a little early weakness and shifted generally within a narrow range thereafter on alternate mild flurries of buying and selling. Brokers said the support on small setbacks appeared to include some establishment of long positions but that offerings on bulges probably reflected some liquidation. There appeared to be little pressure from short selling at any time.

Wheat finished unchanged to ⅝ cent a bushel higher, September $1.78⅜-¾; corn ¾-1⅛ lower, September $1.21⅞-22; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, September 64 cents; rye unchanged to ⅜ higher, September $1.25⅜; soybeans 1½-2⅝ lower, August $2.63⅜-½.

Asst. Prosecutor OKs Police Act In Releasing Youths

Asst. City Prosecutor Jerry L. Snyder Tuesday confirmed and approved Lincoln Police Department action in the release of 27 youths involved in a loud party Friday.

Snyder said that he did not find sufficient facts to support the filing of a complaint against anyone involved in the incident.

"I feel that the Police Department investigation, action and release of all youths was proper," he said.

The youths, 16 of whom were minors, were released after investigation because of a lack of evidence.

Detective Capt. Robert Sawdon said no officer saw any minor drinking or in possession of the small quantity of beer found at the party.

Snyder said the information gained by the police properly called for the release of the youths.

Socrates 'Nothing Too Much' Is Still Valid Advice Today

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

A financial inquiry from a professional man—a reader in Indianapolis—is a reminder that the Greeks had a word for it. Socrates advised as a guiding yardstick a sense of proportion. He counselled "nothing too much."

Rukeyser

The reader, who recognizes the merit of life insurance, feels that he is being smothered by being pressured to take too much. The question raises the issue of the investment status of life insurance and the correspondent asks whether retirement income should come primarily from other means.

The case is that of an affluent man with an income after taxes in excess of $40,000. He carries $190,000 of whole life insurance, including $10,000 of government insurance.

Here is the problem in his own words:

"The insurance man who I am dealing with is in the process of writing another $60,000 of whole life. I find that the payments on this one are exceedingly high and I am building a new home which requires a good deal of capital. I am not sure that I am not greatly overinsured at this time. I was wondering whether or not it would be wise to reduce the whole life insurance to perhaps $100,000 and add term insurance to carry it to the $250,000 level. This might perhaps reduce my payments to the point where I could have money available for investment purposes.

"The insurance people I am now dealing with have suggested that I borrow on my policies to pay my premium so as to reduce the amount necessary yearly and thus have what is tantamount to a type of term insurance.

"I certainly would like your ideas about this and perhaps some guide line as to how one should approach this type of program."

Open To Criticism

If your insurance adviser is taking all of your current savings and leaving nothing for balancing your investment portfolio with equities, he is open to criticism.

In my 8 books on investments, including one dealing solely with life insurance, I have recommended life insurance as a keystone in the arch of planned financial security. But a sense of proportion and of balance is recommended.

You are lopsided in your financial program if paying premiums leaves you strapped.

Before an audit can be made of your personal and family situation, however, it is necessary for you to reveal your age, the number and age of your dependents, and your life financial goals.

As you build up other assets, through acquisition of mutual funds and ordinary common stocks and perhaps real estate, you can deduct the liquidating value of such resources from the total capital which you estimate to be needed for old age and other contingencies.

No Substitute

There is no substitute for life insurance as protection against the risk of premature death. This hazard can be met by various types of life insurance. You can meet temporary peak requirements by buying diminishing term which automatically declines in later years as your dependents become self supporting. If you are considering term, select contracts which are renewable and convertible.

Permanent life insurance, including ordinary, limited payment, and endowment policies, serves in addition as a reliable means of saving in fixed dollar obligations and in getting automatic compounding of interest earnings.

If you lived in a static world, in which there would be no risks pertaining to a possible rise in the cost of living, inflation, or long term economic growth, you would be justified in buying exclusively fixed dollar commitments, such as high grade bonds and life insurance and annuity contracts. But in the real world, a balanced investment diet is recommended, with at least half of your assets in equities or funds primarily reliant on equity holdings.

Since you are a professional man dependent on personal services, you should also carry adequate major medical, hospitalization, and perhaps income protection coverage. Likewise, you should be certain that your life policies include clauses for waiver of premium in the event of total and permanent disability, and your policies should embrace automatic loan provisions, whereby in the event you slip up on a premium payment the policy is kept current by a policy loan.

Existing Policies

As for changes in your insurance setup, don't throw over existing policies. It is always best to try to rearrange current policies, in which you have vested interests and on which the high acquisition costs have already been met. One possibility — and results depend on your age and also on the length of time each policy has been in effect — is to take fully paid life insurance policies with no further premium payments for lesser face amount. I would not advise such shrinkage until you have consulted a competent life underwriter and tested your current insurability by applying for supplementary new term insurance.

Your guideline should not be any agent's cliche, but your own intelligent estimate of what you and your family want and need. You can stretch insurance by providing that on death the beneficiary get larger periodic payments through exhausting principal over a stipulated term of years.

Your problem is to express your own desires for personal and family wellbeing — and not to fit in any one's arbitrary formula. Since you have no crystal ball, you should hedge against future uncertainties in the national economy and in your own life span by combining fixed dollar assets with equities.

My book, "Life Insurance Property: the Hallmark of Personal Progress" is out of print, but can be seen in libraries of the Home Life. My current book "The Kennedy Recession" (Monarch) is still available.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Stock Market Posts Gains

New York (AP) — Encouraged by strong corporate earnings reports, the stock market rang up a sharp advance Tuesday.

It was the third consecutive gaining session.

Brokers said the market also got a psychological lift when the Dow Jones industrial average broke a string of 14 Monday declines.

Prices were higher at the opening and continued to rise in moderate trading throughout the session. A flurry of heavy trading near the close pushed prices to their best levels.

Motors, rubbers, aircrafts, non-ferrous metals, chemicals, rails and oils advanced. Steels, utilities and airlines were mixed.

General Motors, basking under a report of its highest earnings in the second quarter and the first half, gained 2 at 71½.

American Viscose reached a new 1963 high as the U.S. Court of Appeals in San Francisco ruled in effect that its proposed merger with FM Corp. could proceed. A short time later the court granted the Justice Department a stay of the order until Monday.

The Dow Jones averages of 30 industrials climbed 5.71 to 696.42.

The Associated Press 60-stock average advanced 1.8 to 267.5 with industrials up 2.7, rails up 1.3 and utilities up .5. Based on the action of this average, an estimated $2.5 billion was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Of 1,268 issues traded, 690 rose and 310 fell. There were 37 new 1963 highs and 29 new lows.

Volume expanded to 3.53 million shares from 2.84 million Monday.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange. Volume rose to 1.14 million shares from 1.07 million Monday.

Corporate and government bonds were mixed.

Wheat Futures Continue Gains At Slower Pace

Chicago (AP)—Wheat futures extended their gains but at a slower pace while other commodities on the Board of Trade sold mostly lower Tuesday on rather persistent liquidation.

Wheat turned toward firmness after a little early weakness and shifted generally within a narrow range thereafter on alternate mild flurries of buying and selling. Brokers said the support on small setbacks appeared to include some establishment of long positions but that offerings on bulges probably reflected some liquidation. There appeared to be little pressure from short selling at any time.

Wheat finished unchanged to ⅝ cent a bushel higher, September $1.78⅝-¾; corn ¾-1⅛ lower, September $1.21⅞-22; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, September 64 cents; rye unchanged to ⅜ higher, September $1.25⅝; soybeans ½-2⅝ lower, August $2.63⅜-¼.

Asst. Prosecutor OKs Police Act In Releasing Youths

Asst. City Prosecutor Jerry L. Snyder Tuesday confirmed and approved Lincoln Police Department action in the release of 27 youths involved in a loud party Friday.

Snyder said that he did not find sufficient facts to support the filing of a complaint against anyone involved in the incident.

"I feel that the Police Department investigation, action and release of all youths was proper," he said.

The youths, 16 of whom were minors, were released after investigation because of a lack of evidence.

Detective Capt. Robert Sawdon said no officer saw any minor drinking or in possession of the small quantity of beer found at the party.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Socrates 'Nothing Too Much' Is Still Valid Advice Today

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

A financial inquiry from a professional man—a reader in Indianapolis—is a reminder that the Greeks had a word for it. Socrates advised as a guiding yardstick a sense of proportion. He counselled "nothing too much."

Rukeyser

The reader, who recognizes the merit of life insurance, feels that he is being smothered by being pressured to take too much. The question raises the issue of the investment status of life insurance and the correspondent asks whether retirement income should come primarily from other means.

The case is that of an affluent man with an income after taxes in excess of $40,000. He carries $190,000 of whole life insurance, including $10,000 of government insurance.

Here is the problem in his own words:

"The insurance man who I am dealing with is in the process of writing another $60,000 of whole life. I find that the payments on this one are exceedingly high and I am building a new home which requires a good deal of capital. I am not sure that I am not greatly overinsured at this time. I was wondering whether or not it would be wise to reduce the whole life insurance to perhaps $100,000 and add term insurance to carry it to the $250,000 level. This might perhaps reduce my payments to the point where I could have money available for investment purposes.

"The insurance people I am now dealing with have suggested that I borrow on my policies to pay my premium so as to reduce the amount necessary yearly and thus have what is tantamount to a type of term insurance.

"I certainly would like your ideas about this and perhaps some guide line as to how one should approach this type of program."

Open To Criticism

If your insurance adviser is taking all of your current savings and leaving nothing for balancing your investment portfolio with equities, he is open to criticism.

In my 8 books on investments, including one dealing dolely with life inurance, I have recommended life insurance as a keystone in the arch of planned financial security. But a sense of proportion and of balance is recommended.

You are lopsided in your financial program if paying premiums leaves you strapped.

Before an audit can be made of your personal and family situation, however, it is necessary for you to reveal your age, the number and age of your dependents, and your life financial goals.

As you build up other assets, through acquisition of mutual funds and ordinary common stocks and perhaps real estate, you can deduct the liquidating value of such resources from the total capital which you estimate to be needed for old age and other contingencies.

No Substitute

There is no substitute for life insurance as protection against the risk of premature death. This hazard can be met by various types of life insurance. You can meet temporary peak requirements by buying diminishing term which automatically declines in later years as your dependents become self supporting. If you are considering term, select contracts which are renewable and convertible.

Permanent life insurance, including ordinary, limited payment, and endowment policies, serves in addition as a reliable means of saving in fixed dollar obligations and in getting automatic compounding of interest earnings.

If you lived in a static world, in which there would be no risks pertaining to a possible rise in the cost of living, inflation, or long term economic growth, you would be justified in buying exclusively fixed dollar commitments, such as high grade bonds and life insurance and annuity contracts. But in the real world, a balanced investment diet is recommended, with at least half of your assets in equities or funds primarily reliant on equity holdings.

Since you are a professional man dependent on personal services, you should also carry adequate major medical, hospitalization, and perhaps income protection coverage. Likewise, you should be certain that your life policies include clauses for waiver of premium in the event of total and permanent disability, and your policies should embrace automatic loan provisions, whereby in the event you slip up on a premium payment the policy is kept current by a policy loan.

Existing Policies

As for changes in your insurance setup, don't throw over existing policies. It is always best to try to rearrange current policies, in which you have vested interests and on which the high acquisition costs have already been met. One possibility — and results depend on your age and also on the length of time each policy has been in effect — is to take fully paid life insurance policies with no further premium payments for lesser face amount. I would not advise such shrinkage until you have consulted a competent life underwriter and tested your current insurability by applying for supplementary new term insurance.

Your guideline should not be any agent's cliche, but your own intelligent estimate of what you and your family want and need. You can stretch insurance by providing that on death the beneficiary get larger periodic payments through exhausting principal over a stipulated term of years.

Your problem is to express your own desires for personal and family wellbeing — and not to fit in any one's arbitrary formula. Since you have no crystal ball, you should hedge against future uncertainties in the national economy and in your own life span by combining fixed dollar assets with equities.

My book, "Life Insurance Property: the Hallmark of Personal Progress" is out of print, but can be seen in libraries of the Home Life. My current book "The Kennedy Recession" (Monarch) is still available.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

HERE'S A HOME THAT RATES

Among the very best in town because it was planned to eliminate objections after careful study of some of the finer homes. Here you have 1887 sq. ft. of main floor elegance, three nice bedrooms, three bathrooms, separate dining room, living room with fireplace, all electric kitchen with utility adjoining, having terrazzo floors. The entire home has built-in-quietness that only solid masonry construction can give. The ballroom walkout basement has back to back fireplaces, a fourth bedroom and bath, central air-conditioned. The white Texas stone exterior will add eye appeal to this palace for time on end.

Year's State Revenue Underestimated

A check of the actual cash receipts which went into the general fund this past fiscal year from excise taxes, license fees and various other sources shows the State Board of Equalization underestimated the revenue by $1.1 million last year.

According to figures certified to the board by State Auditor Ray C. Johnson, the actual cash receipts accruing to the general fund from July 1, 1962, to June 30 this year totaled $19,175,288.

In addition to this figure the state also collected an estimated $275,000 from the grain tax, and $150,000 from public power districts for in-lieu of tax payments to bring the total to $19,600,288.

The board last year estimated it would receive $18,491,089 from the various cash receipts which go into the general fund and reduce the amount on which taxes must be levied against tangible property.

In setting the 1963 state levy Monday, the board estimated cash receipts for the fiscal year ending next June 30 at $25,364,155—the hike due principally to the increases in several excise taxes authorized by the 1963 Legislature.

State Tax Commissioner Forrest Johnson said Tuesday the board does not want to be "very far off" in its estimates, but stated he firmly believes that getting more money than anticipated "is to be preferred way above being short."

The only place in which board was "more conservative" this year than last in making its estimates, Johnson said, was in the matter of the excise taxes (beer, liquor, cigarettes and parimutuel betting) and these were made on the basis of estimates made by departments administering the taxes.

"In my own opinion we don't dare use credits any greater than what the administrative departments guess they are going to get," he continued.

"If we underestimate now, we can overestimate the next time," Johnson said.

Following are the actual receipts in each category with estimates shown in parentheses:

Intangible and head taxes, $1,472,499 ($1,460,082).
Highway supervision, $304,781 ($305,000).
Drivers' License fees, $183,729 ($200,000).
Supreme Court, $5,994 ($5,500).
Secretary of State, $652,594 ($310,000).
Liquor Commission, $3,560,564 ($3,300,000).
Cigarette tax, $6,925,820 ($6,536,000)
Car Line, Bus, Truck and Airline taxes, $273,959 ($240,000).
Interstate on U.S. Treasury notes, $783,006 ($800,000).
Board of Educational Lands and Funds, $4,431, ($6,000).
Small loan and discount paper tax, $256,202 (250,000).
State Library, $20,238 ($18,000).
Department of Education, $17,479 ($17,500).
Labor Department, $1,592 ($2,000)
Department of Motor Vehicles, Misc., $100,816 ($105,000)
Motor Vehicle Titles, $367,322 ($290,000).
Compensation Court, $20,050 ($19,000)
Railway Commission, $290,009 ($302,000).
Fire Marshal premium tax, $80,124 ($76,000)
Parimutuel tax, $735,844 ($675,000)
Bingo, $82,857 ($80,500)
Insurance Tax, $2,171,215 ($2,175,000).
Tax Commissioner and estate tax, $800,084 ($660,100).
15% rental fees, $52,545 ($50,000)
Miscellaneous, $11,391 ($7,189).
Grain tax, estimated $275,000 in both instances, as well as estimated $150,000 in both categories for public power district in lieu of tax payments.

Regents To View University Budget

The 1963-64 budget is expected to be considered by the University of Nebraska Board of Regents here Friday at 10:30 a.m. at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education.

The board will also consider new appointments, retirements, resignations and leaves of absence.

Decision Due On 2 Omaha Railroad Terminal Values

The State Board of Equalization is expected to announce Wednesday its decision on whether it believes the valuations set by Douglas County on the Omaha terminal properties of two railroads are too high.

Burlington Railroad and the South Omaha Terminal Railway Co. appeared before the board Tuesday to protest the valuations. Revenue from the assessments does not go to the state, but the board is charged with determining the fairness of the valuations.

Douglas County Assessor Joseph Stolinski told the board he believes the valuations he has set on the properties are fair, but railroad representatives contended the figures are out of line and do not represent the true values.

In the case of the Burlington, Stolinsky set the assessed value at $3,150,805. The railroad believes the assessed value should be placed at $2,889,215.

Stolinski placed the actual value of the South Omaha Terminal properties under question at $1,317,770. That company insists the figure should be $328,909.
